WILLKIE BLASTS ROOSEVELT FOR RECKLESSNESS

Warns Against His War Actions.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Boston, Mass., Oct. 11—The New Deal administration is a reckless and irresponsible government, Wendell Willkie charged tonight, giving a new bill of particulars to a cheering crowd of 40,000 at the National League baseball park in Boston.

Willkie criticized the President for bringing European issues into his campaign and for weakening democracy from within. He renewed his pledge not to undertake to fight anybody else's war, while still helping England, and said "our boys shall stay out of Europe."

Speaks at Cambridge.

Earlier in the day at Cambridge, where Harvard boys gave him a riotous welcome, the Republican nominee lit into the President on another issue, that of truth-telling, and said that the so called military inspection trip which the President is now making was a sham and a pretense and in reality a campaign trip, a political trip, paid for by the taxpayers.

"The candidate for a third term left, I believe, last night on an ostensible military inspection trip," Willkie said. "I notice by the newspapers that his train, paid for at public expense, is to stop at Johnstown, Pa., to take on board the Democratic candidate for United States senator for Pennsylvania, the state Democratic chairman of Pennsylvania, and other important Democratic leaders.

"It Is Political."

"Now let me give it to you direct: That is no military inspection trip. It is a political trip, paid for by the taxpayers of the United States.

"With the utmost deference to the candidate for a third term, the pretense that he can accomplish anything for American defense by inspecting a steel mill, concerning which he knows nothing, is not the principle upon which this great university was founded and survives.

"In these sacred precincts, dedicated to the truth, I say that campaign tour under the guise of a military inspection trip is playing politics with the defense of the United States, and with your safety and mine.

"Shams and Pretenses."

"I call upon the American people to repudiate an administration that goes thru these shams, these poses, these pretenses, in this critical hour."

Willkie campaigned all day in Massachusetts, a state which he thinks he can carry, and which gave him a big welcome. Accompanied by Gov. Leverett Saltonstall, Chairman Joseph W. Martin Jr., and state leaders, he rode by motor for 125 miles, speaking at New Bedford, Fall River, Taunton, Brockton, Quincy, and Cambridge, and twice in Boston.

There were big turnouts in most towns, but Willkie's reception in industrial districts was cool. A few minor incidents marred the trip. A soft potato or a banana was thrown at him in Mattapan square in Boston. This spattered his vest. At another point a lemon was thrown, and at Brockton a rock was tossed at his car. It missed the vehicle and struck a small boy in the leg.

His Boston Speech.

Willkie preceded his prepared address in Boston tonight with the following:

"I do not live in the land of make-believe. I came here on a campaign trip, not on a military inspection trip. I recently made a campaign trip to Ohio and Pennsylvania, where there is now in process a military inspection, so-called by the third term candidate."

The audience responded with long booing of the third term candidate, and presently Willkie began his address proper, saying:

"I have been traveling thru your New England countryside, talking to the people of this older part of America. I have just come from a trip thru the west. No one can travel thru our western land without being moved by the great future of this country. No American can come into New England without being as deeply moved by the ideas and values that made this country great.

"It was here in Boston that the idea of the American republic was born. Here in New England men forged the first strong links in the Draft Questionnaire!

Tribune enterprise enables this newspaper to give its readers this morning the complete questionnaire that must be answered by registrants in the draft after their numbers are drawn. The searching and exhaustive questionnaire will be found printed in full on page 6 of this edition and may be saved in this form for ready reference. This achievement is made possible by modern means of communication. The questionnaire, made public in Washington yesterday afternoon, was transmitted page by page to Chicago by Associated Press Wirephoto in a total of 64 minutes and was then put into type in the composing room of The Tribune. The facsimile form of its transmission saved several hours in preparing it for publication.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—The civilian committee on selective service today made public the questionnaires which must be answered by those of the 16,400,000 registrants for the draft on Oct. 16 whose numbers are near the top of those drawn in the conscription lottery.

The questionnaires are not to be filled out on registration day, next Wednesday, but will be mailed to some of the registrants within 15 days after that. Those who are first chosen in the lottery will receive the lengthy documents before Nov. 1. Their number will not exceed 100,000, it was estimated.

Questions for 2,000,000.

Chairman Frederick Osborn of the committee estimated that not more than 2,000,000 of the registrants would be required to answer the questionnaires in the next 12 months. This will be joyous news for the remaining 14,400,000 men between the ages of 21 and 35 who register. Because an inspection of the questionnaires revealed that filling out an income tax form becomes a simple task by comparison with answering the hundreds of questions which the draft board has devised.

Eight pages of fine type were required to list the queries to which the government deems answers essential in order to classify the male population available for military and naval defense.

Chairman Praises Document.

Chairman Osborn praised the questionnaires as being more skilfully phrased than the same documents in the world war. They give the local draft board more room for the wise selection of draftees, he said, and at the same time place more responsibility upon the boards for selecting the men to go to camp.

"Each local board will probably not have to handle more than 250 cases before next March," he remarked. "They will have plenty of time to examine the answers to the questionnaires and interview the prospects. At most, a million questionnaires will be sent out in the next few months to raise the first 400,000 men and not more than 2,000,000 will be mailed in the next 12 months to raise the second 400,000.

"In the world war, the question-

VETERANS' HOSPITALS CAN AID IN DEFENSE, SAYS BRIG. GEN. HINES

Cleveland, O., Oct. 11 (AP).—Some ninety war veterans' hospitals scattered thruout the country are equipped or can be expanded quickly to meet emergency needs in national defense, Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, national administrator of veterans' affairs, asserted today.

In a speech before the Association of United States Military Surgeons, Hines described these facilities as a valuable asset in the defense program.

Hines said most veterans' hospitals have been established on the outskirts of cities and are located geographically to bear a relation to population density. All were designed and constructed to permit rapid expansion in bed capacity if necessary, he said.

SHOWGIRL FRIEND OF RICH SULTAN KILLED BY BOMB

LONDON, Oct. 11 (AP).—Shapely Lydia Cecily Hill, 27 year old show girl upon whom the fabulously wealthy sultan of Johore showered expensive jewels inscribed "with all my love," was killed today in the German air raid on Canterbury. Miss Hill was in a Canterbury shop trying on a fur coat when a bomb demolished the establishment.

She long had been a stage favorite, but gave up her career after she met the sultan and moved into a palatial home at Mayfair court, Herne Bay. The 67 year old potentate, who rules a principality on the Malay peninsula, broke down when informed of her death.

Miss Hill, a west end glamor girl, made a world tour as his guest. The sultan, a free spender who shuns the spotlight, contributed $2,500,000 toward construction of Britain's great naval base at Singapore.

He and his Scottish sultana, the former Mrs. Helen Wilson, visited the United States in 1934. They were divorced four years later, when, acting under Mohammedan law, he repeated the word "talak"—meaning "get out"—four times to make the decree effective. Miss Hill then blossomed out with a big diamond ring. Only a fortnight ago thieves made off with £5,000 [$20,000] worth of jewelry from her home.

AWARD TO HERO BARES STORY OF 'LAST MAN' FIGHT

LONDON, Oct. 11 (AP).—Britain's highest award for valor in combat, the Victoria Cross, was awarded posthumously today to Lieut. E. C. T. Wilson, who held out for four days after he had been wounded by Italian forces attacking his lonely machine gun outpost in British Somaliland.

The citation said:

"The enemy brought up a pack battery to within 700 yards and scored two direct hits thru loopholes in his defenses, which, bursting within the post, wounded acting Capt. Wilson in the shoulder and in the left eye.

"His guns were blown off their stands, but he repaired and replaced them and carried on whilst his Somali sergeant was killed.

"On Aug. 15, two of his machine gun posts were blown to pieces.

"The enemy finally overran the post at 2 p. m., Aug. 15, when Capt. Wilson fighting to the last was killed."

THE MACHINE! HOW IT WORKS

William F. Gailing has been a war horse of the Chicago Republican organization for more than a quarter century.

In the last two and a half years Gailing's activities have been centered in the robust 1st ward, bailiwick of Ald. Mike [Hinky Dink] Kenna. Gailing's home has been the Hamilton hotel, 18 South Dearborn street, once the Hamilton club, stronghold of Chicago Republicanism.

Yesterday morning Gailing observed two official canvassers from the board of election commissioners at the clerk's desk. They were starting their two day task of verifying the registration lists of the ward.

Mr. Gailing Adds a Word.

Gailing listened as the canvassers called off names of voters registered from the Hamilton. John Schadeck, the clerk, was repeating monotonously: "Yes, he lives here. . . . yes, he lives here." The canvasser called the name of Frank Stone. Schadeck said yes.

"Hey, wait a minute, Johnny," said Gailing to Clerk Schadeck. "Stoney doesn't live here. You know that."

Johnny reddened. He said that Stone pays rent on a room there. An assistant manager who was standing nearby made the same assertion.

"Yes," said Gailing, "but that's a whisky storeroom he pays rent on. It wouldn't be possible for him to sleep there. You know that Johnny."

"Does Mr. Frank Stone live here?" asked the canvasser, looking at Schadeck. Johnny shrugged. The assistant manager shrugged. The canvasser marked "Not here," on Mr. Stone's record.

Mr. Singer Loses Out.

The next name was that of Rudy Singer. Johnny vouched for Mr. Singer, also. But when Gailing had his say, Mr. Singer's name was crossed off by the canvasser. After the third name had been lopped off, the canvasser decided to start his job over again. He turned back to the A's and began again. At the end of the session, Johnny was very red indeed and 25 names had been knocked off the voting lists.

Grinning broadly Gailing went to breakfast. When he returned he found his secretary, Miss Marjorie Chappell, seated ruefully in the lobby. The hotel, she said, had ousted her from a 7th floor room Gailing had been using as an office and had locked the door. Gailing soon found that his own room, No. 1515, had also been made inaccessible.

And at the desk was a message that Sam Leeds, owner of the Hamilton was waiting to see him. Leeds also owns the Weston hotel in the 1st ward.

"What do you mean by doing this to me?" bellowed Mr. Leeds. He leaped to his feet and waved his arms. "Me, who sheltered you when they told me to throw you out when you ran against Danny Serritella for ward committeeman.

"And now you make them knock off names of honest voters living under my roof. You have ruined me. You know what the machine will do to me for this.

"They'll find my elevators ain't right. My plumbing will be wrong. You know I've got gambling here.

"You've ruined me. Now get out. Not another night will you sleep under my roof."

The hotel refunded the advance rent Gailing had paid and repeated that he never was to darken its doors again.

Nash-Kelly Censorship

Police Lieutenant Harry M. Costello, chief censor of Chicago movies, has decided that a permit shall not be issued for the exhibition of a film if it shows disrespect for the city administration.

On this principle Costello rejected yesterday an application for a short film entitled "Wendell L. Willkie Meets Dwight H. Green," submitted by the Illinois Republican state central committee.

A film company messenger who called for the permit was handed a paper on which were written two sentences which, he was told, must be stricken from the talkie dialog.

In the first sentence Dwight H. Green, nominee for governor of Illinois, said:

"In Illinois we've got the job of defeating the Kelly-Nash machine."

The second sentence, spoken by Willkie, was:

"Dwight, I want you to know that after we are elected we're going to smash the Kelly-Nash machine."

Lieut. Costello was asked why the cuts had been ordered.

"Because those sentences show disrespect for the city administration," Costello replied.

An appeal will be made to Police Commissioner Allman this morning.

Jury Is Out 12 Hours; Acquit 3 Defendants

William R. Johnson, long time gambling boss of Chicago, was found guilty early today by a jury in the federal District court of violating the income tax laws. Five of his henchmen were found guilty with him. Three others were acquitted.

The jury's verdict was delivered before Federal Judge John P. Barnes shortly before 4 a. m., slightly more than 12 hours after deliberations began. The four women and eight men jurors were obviously tired from their long deliberations. From the moment that Foreman Martin Pereira handed the verdict to Clerk Roy Johnson, it was obvious that Big Bill Johnson was doomed.

Guilty on All Counts.

Johnson was found guilty on all five counts charged in the indictment, making a possible maximum sentence of 22 years in prison and $50,000 in fines. Four other defendants were also convicted on all five counts. They were James A. Hartigan, John M. Flanagan, William P. Kelly, and Jack Sommers.

The sixth man convicted shared a better lot. He was Stuart S. Brown. He was found guilty in only three counts, making him liable to a maximum sentence of 12 years and $30,000 fine.

Those acquitted were Ed Wait, Andrew J. Creighton, and Reginald E. Mackay.

Johnson, long a legendary figure in the gambling world, went on trial on Aug. 27. Then for the first time the public really saw him—a tall man with a florid face, whose prematurely white hair belied his 45 years.

The prosecution built its entire case on, around and against Bill Johnson. He, it was charged, was the creator and overlord of a vast gambling empire so efficiently organized that his employés could not cheat him even out of a dime. Johnson, the government charged, owned 23 gambling houses in and near Chicago. From these places, it was declared, he derived an income of $3,490,000 in four years, but reported only $700,000.

Denies Owning Joints.

Johnson's defense was that he had no proprietary interest in 22 of the gaming joints, and only a partial interest in the 23d—the ritzy Bon Air Country club, near Wheeling.

Against that defense the government called more than 150 witnesses, and produced enough books, records and other documents to fill a small truck.

Everywhere, in the picture drawn by the 150 witnesses appeared the mysterious figure of Johnson. He owned buildings where gambling houses operated. He issued orders, he fired employés, he settled disputes, he raised game stakes, he took money out of cash drawers, he muscled into a run down roadhouse, he fought with the now disbanded Nationwide News service for lower rates for its racing information service, he canceled the rent arrearage of one gambling house tenant—and then spent $15,000 to air condition his place.

Story of Tax Returns.

There was still more—income tax returns. One man, Joseph Radomski, prepared the income tax returns of Johnson and his eight co-defendants, the government showed. That began in 1937, and the purpose, the government contended, was to cover up Johnson's actual ownership of the gambling houses.

To prove Johnson's income, the government relied largely on expenditures he made during the last four years and on canceled checks, or records of such checks as obtained from banks. Between 1937 and 1938, the government contended, Johnson spent more than $1,200,000 alone on the Bon Air club and his Sunny Acres farm, near Lombard.

The defense fought the government's showing in each detail. Five of the defendants—Sommers, Creighton, Kelly, Flanagan, and Johnson—testified in their own behalf. The first four asserted they owned their places, and owed no allegiance to Johnson.

Drag Skidmore Into Case.

To cripple the government's showing of Johnson's alleged expenditures, the defense dragged William R. Skidmore into the case. Skidmore, long regarded as the political fixer for the gambling ring, was indicted with Johnson, but was dismissed.

The prosecution was handled by Earle C. Hurley, Paul M. Plunkett, Lawrence J. Miller, and E. Riley Campbell, assistant United States attorneys, and Walter A. Sommers, Frank J. Clifford, Tracy Stains, and James Oliver, internal revenue agents, and others.

Floyd E. Thompson, former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court, headed the defense, assisted by Attorneys Edward J. Hess and George F. Callaghan.

LONDON ORDERS ALL BRITONS TO QUIT RUMANIA

Axis Warplanes Fly Over Bucharest.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 11 (AP).—The British government tonight ordered all its nationals—the army of British business men and experts who have kept alive British interests in Rumania—to abandon this country. The order came a few hours after packed formations of German, Italian, and Rumanian planes had roared over Bucharest to symbolize the extension of axis influence to the Black sea.

Marked plainly with German, Italian, and Rumanian insignia, at least 150 planes roared low over the British legation where Sir Reginald Hoare, the British minister, and his staff were packing up in apparent readiness to leave. The planes then flew in warning over the Rumanian oil centers of Ploesti and Giurgiu, where British and French interests once were dominant.

"Intimidation Raid."

The British called it an "intimidation" raid.

Many of the British colony, which a week ago numbered 400, will leave for Sofia and Athens tomorrow and over the week-end. The remainder will go by a special steamer from the Black sea port of Constanta to Istanbul on Monday.

It seemed likely severance of diplomatic relations between Britain and Rumania was a matter of hours.

Some members of the legation staff will leave tomorrow, but it was indicated that no final announcement of rupture in British-Rumanian relations would be made until the last Briton had left.

Admits Arrival of Troops.

The Rumanian government, meanwhile, was drawing up a special communique, announcing for the first time—officially—that the German military had arrived "to act only as instructors to the Rumanian army."

Truckloads of baggage of German aviators arrived at one hotel opposite the royal palace where two floors had been reserved for 45 German officers. An entire floor and other quarters were arranged for other high ranking German officers, indicating German military plans in Rumania are extensive.

The flights over the oil centers underscored a charge published in the German mouthpiece here, the Tageblatt, that Britain had assigned to Turkey the task of destroying Rumania's oil wells by aerial attack, and that Hoare, the British minister, was implicated in the plot.

Turkey Sounds Warning.

The Turkish radio said if Germany's moves in Rumania are intended as the initial stages of an advance across Turkey and Syria to Egypt "this road is guarded by 2,000,000 bayonets."

The Turks hoped lack of coöperation from soviet Russia would stay the German hand.

[In Berlin, the authoritative commentary, Dienst aus Deutschland, said there is no conflict between soviet interests and the new Rome-Berlin-Tokio axis.]

Uneasiness Extends.

Elsewhere, uneasiness was extending thru southeastern Europe. There were reports of increasing pressure against Jugo-Slavia and of stepped up axis shipments of munitions to Bulgaria.

From Budapest the Greek army was reported to be making steady preparations for any development.

Hungarian students, shouting "Down with Bucharest," staged demonstrations in Budapest which coincided with appeals by both Rumania and Hungary to the axis to settle disputes over details growing out of Hungary's occupation of northern Transylvania. Both sides claimed their minorities were being mistreated.

Blocks Rumanian Credit.

LONDON, Oct. 11 (AP).—Britain has blocked all Rumanian credits in the United Kingdom because of the entrance of German troops into Rumania in an action similar to that already taken by the United States.

The order freezing Rumanian assets means in effect that no Rumanian bank account, no Rumanian owned gold or other liquid assets may be used to buy anything or be exchanged for British money.

KENNEDY'S HOME SHAKEN BY NEW BOMB ASSAULTS

Third Close Call for U. S. Envoy to London.

LONDON, Oct. 12, Saturday (AP).—Nazi airmen, cutting their motors off for long stealthy glides, dumped bombs on 36 areas of London last night and early today and demolished several cottages on an estate near the country home of American Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy.

Ambassador Kennedy was in bed at the time and was uninjured. The walls of his house trembled and lampshades fell across the bed. This was the third close call for the ambassador. Late in August a bomb fell 300 yards from the house and recently a Nazi airplane shot down by the British narrowly missed his home in falling.

Kennedy lives near Windsor castle.

In London early this morning, one high explosive bomb wrecked a church and damaged Y. M. C. A. property.

Eight German aircraft were downed up to midnight, the air ministry reported. Nine British planes were lost but six pilots were safe.

German raiders were active from the Scottish highlands in the north to the Welsh mountains in the west and the much bombed southeastern coastal area.

Three Heavy Bombs Fall.

Three heavy bombs fell in one London area just after midnight, leaving clouds of debris. A gas main burst and one man was killed when caught in the street. Firemen fought flames started by incendiaries. In one district a number of persons in a bus were killed or injured.

The London raids ended at 2:30 a. m., much earlier than usual, and only a few of the bombers were said to have penetrated deeply into the city.

Several German Dorniers attempted to attack Liverpool, but were intercepted by British fighter planes, which shot down three of them over Wales, the air ministry announced.

Four bombs fell in northeast Scotland in open country. Fires started by incendiary bombs in a southeast town quickly were controled by firemen.

Canterbury Windows Broken.

Concussion from nearby explosions ripped out the wartime windows of ancient Canterbury cathedral yesterday as Nazi planes made six assaults on London and the southeastern area between dawn and dinnertime.

In the cathedral at Canterbury—seat of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the primate of all England—the only destruction wrought was to the relatively valueless windows which soon after the war's outbreak replaced the priceless vistas of stained glass which for seven centuries had let in the mellow light to the most historic of all the churches of England.

As for their own offensive against the Germans, British heavy artillery at Dover fought a mighty engagement with German guns on the French coast last night and early today, and British planes leaped the starlit channel to bomb the Nazi gun emplacements. The duel lasted more than three hours.

Attack Nazi Destroyers.

As it raged big British bombers attacked for the second consecutive night German destroyers in Brest on the Brittany peninsula below Cherbourg. The flyers reported they had scored several hits.

The admiralty had announced last night that the British home fleet had turned its guns on the Nazi invasion ships massed at Cherbourg and left pillars of flame seen 40 miles away.

Light and heavy men o' war alike slipped thru the thick mist off Cape Contentin Thursday night and pounded the ships in roadstead and port. The Germans have light naval forces at Cherbourg, the British said, but they made no reply to the bombardment and Cherbourg's shore guns were silent until the attacking craft had come hard about and headed for home.

"Some military objectives in Germany" were bombed last night in addition to "heavy" R. A. F. attacks on Nazi held coastal bases, the air ministry announced. The raids were said to have been undertaken despite fog which made flying conditions unfavorable.

SAY FACTORY WRECKED

BERLIN, Oct. 11 (AP).—The German air force dealt out hard punishment today in a wide foray over southeast England, DNB, the official news agency, reported tonight. Canterbury took the worst drubbing, according to the agency's accounts.

Returning pilots reported their bombs hit "objectives" and lifted great columns of smoke above the town.

A factory in another southeast town was declared demolished, and bomb hits on rail facilities along the coast were reported so effective that traffic will be impossible for a long time.

The raiders shot down 13 defense planes, it was said, losing but one of their own.

British raids in half a dozen western German cities were acknowledged, with nonmilitary objects such as houses and hospitals declared hit.

Attack on Cherbourg.

Tonight authorized sources announced that British light naval forces had bombarded Cherbourg on the night of Oct. 10-11, adding: "As accurate night shooting without searchlights is impossible, British shells hit only a few houses in Cherbourg."

Earlier, this had been characterized here as only an attempted attack by one British cruiser. The German coastal artillery, these sources said, fired a few shots in the direction of the British ships, whose position was revealed by their muzzle blasts. Then, it was added, the Britishers withdrew.

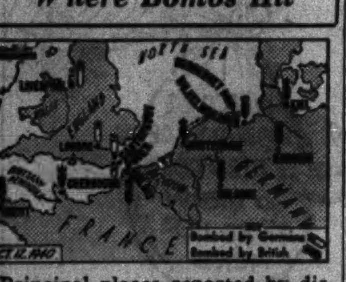
Where Bombs Hit



Principal places reported by dispatches from England and Germany to have been bombed yesterday are shown.

BRITISH BOMBERS CLAIM HITS ON 3 ITALIAN VESSELS

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 11 (AP).—British bombers hit three ships in the harbor at Bengasi, Italian Libya, and set fire to docks and warehouses in raids last night, the Royal Air force announced tonight. The fire was declared visible for 30 miles. A bomb attack also was carried out on Tobruk harbor, the British said.

Claim British Attacks Repulsed.

ROME, Oct. 11 (AP).—Two British land attacks on Italian positions in Eritrea and Kenya colony today were reported thrown back. The attack on the Eritrean frontier, the Italian high command said, was launched from the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan at a point between the border towns of Abu Gamel and Tessenei. Two British columns were said to have participated in the other attack, directed at Italian advance positions near Buna, inside the border of Kenya colony.

WARNS GERMANY 2,000,000 RIFLES GUARD TURKEY

Ready to Resist March to Near East: Ankara.

ANKARA, Turkey, Oct. 11 (AP).—Turkey, nonbelligerent ally of Britain and stalwart guardian of the Dardanelles, served emphatic notice on Germany tonight that 2,000,000 Turkish bayonets stand athwart any axis move in this direction against the near east.

The Turks, anxiously watching the entry of German troops into nearby Rumania, specifically warned Germany any thrust across Turkey and Syria would meet with "very strong resistance."

Calls Road "Very Difficult."

"If it is the Germans' intention to penetrate Egypt in this direction they surely know this road is not easy, but on the contrary is very difficult," the official Turkish radio said in the military section of the evening news broadcast compiled by the general staff of the Turkish army, navy, and air force.

"This road across Anatolia is guarded by 2,000,000 bayonets. Such a move on Germany's part would create many political complications and meet with very strong resistance."

The radio, making the first official comment on the dispatch of German forces into Rumania, added "It seems the Balkans and even soviet Russia, are on the brink of unexpected war. It is best to see what the next two weeks will bring. Let us wait."

3 Possible Explanations.

It gave three possible explanations of the German advance into the Balkan kingdom:

"One, to protect Rumania's oil fields from all possible attacks by neighbors or by the British Mediterranean air force. This is not sufficient reason to explain such drastic action.

"Two, to assist in the occupation of Egypt. The Italian army has learned that an advance beyond Sidi Barrani is extremely difficult, and maybe Germany has judged it necessary to advance across the Balkans, across Anatolia into Syria and Egypt.

"Three, to assist in the occupation of Egypt by occupying Greece, which would bring Germany to the Mediterranean. However, supposing Greece is occupied, it still would be impossible to get a land force to Egypt because the axis does not dominate the Mediterranean."

The German embassy at Istanbul where Ambassador Franz von Papen is now staying entertained Turkish officials and the diplomatic corps tonight with a series of German war films illustrating German victories. Privately, some diplomats recalled that the Germans showed movies of their Polish campaign in Oslo a few days before the invasion of Norway.

NAZI WAR GOODS REACH LISBON; BOUND TO BRAZIL

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 11 (AP).—A consignment of German war material purchased by Brazil was reported today to have arrived here by rail for loading on the Brazilian steamer Siqueira Campos. A Brazilian military mission which has been in Germany is expected to return on the same boat.

Order Placed Before War.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 11 (AP).—A shipment of German war material which reached Lisbon today en route to Brazil probably is a part of an order placed before the war, informed quarters said tonight.

One consignment of similar materials arrived aboard a Brazilian vessel several weeks ago, the British granting a special license for its passage.

British Remove French Passenger from Clipper

New York, Oct. 11 (AP).—A French passenger on the Yankee Clipper was seized by British officials when the flying boat stopped in Bermuda, it was disclosed tonight with the clipper's arrival at Port Washington from Lisbon with 24 passengers. The traveler, who was detained without explanation, was Eugene E. Angot, 52 years old. He was the third passenger to be taken from Pan-American flying boats recently. Two Norwegian shipping executives were seized Oct. 7.

SHIP CAPTURED FROM GERMANS REPORTS ATTACK

New York, Oct. 11 (AP).—Mackay radio late this afternoon picked up a message from the British motorship Empire Audacity—a former German passenger liner captured March 7 in the West Indies—reporting it was "being attacked."

The ship reported its position as 400 miles west of the northern tip of Scotland. The message did not state whether the attacker was a submarine or a surface raider.

The Empire Audacity, a ship of 5,725 tons, was the former North German Lloyd liner Hannover. She had been in service only a few months when she was captured in Mona channel, between the Dominican republic and Puerto Rico, by the Canadian flotilla leader Assiniboine and a royal navy cruiser.

British Trawler Sunk.

LONDON, Oct. 11 (AP).—The admiralty announced tonight that the British minesweeping trawler Sea King had been sunk by a German mine. The announcement did not state the number of lives lost.

FIRST AMERICANS TO LEAVE JAPAN ON LINER TODAY

Will Sail for Vancouver on Canadian Ship.

TOKIO, Oct. 12 [Saturday] (AP).—The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia was scheduled to sail today from Yokohama for Vancouver, B. C., carrying the first Americans from Japan since the state department's advice to get out of the far east.

A number of wives and children of business men and the family of one newspaper man had reservations together with several Britons, among other passengers.

The United States consulate continued to answer numerous inquiries on the possibilities of transportation while officials attempted to break a shipping jam which hampers Americans who want to heed advice from Washington, D. C.

The finest units of Japan's navy paraded off Yokohama yesterday before Emperor Hirohito—a feature of this year of celebration of 26 centuries of the Japanese empire's history.

More than 100 warships, including a number of battleships and 250 planes participated as the emperor watched from aboard the imperial flagship Hiyei with the admiral of the fleet, Prince Hiroyasu Fushimi.

Seek to Spike Rumors.

SHANGHAI, China, Oct. 11 (AP).—Japanese authorities made a studied attempt tonight to spike excited rumors of impending forcible occupation of Shanghai's international settlement or French concession.

Usually well-informed quarters insisted, however, that 14,000 Chinese soldiers of the Japanese-dominated Nanking government were concentrated between Shanghai and the Woosung forts, at the mouth of the Whangpoo river, 12 miles downstream from this teeming city.

An army spokesman admitted there might have been some troop movements, but he denied that "any troops are concentrated with the idea of moving against the foreign areas."

Deny Building Camps

Army and Navy spokesmen joined in an official denial either that Japanese forces were building concentration camps in which to intern foreigners or were "planning to take over the settlement or the French concession by force Oct. 18 after the Burma road reopens."

This channel of imports and exports of the central Chinese government, with which Japan has been at war for 39 months, is scheduled to be reopened by Britain Oct. 17.

The Japanese spokesmen refused to comment on the case of Mayor Fu Siao-en, one of the most heavily guarded men in the Orient, who was hacked to death abed early today in his Hongkew residence.

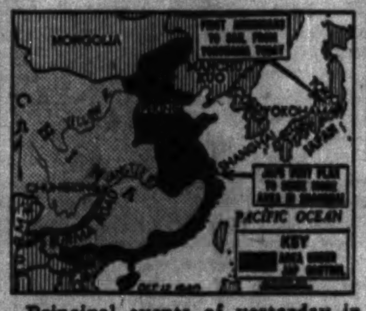
Reliable Japanese sources said one of Fu's trusted servants slipped into his bedroom, struck him three blows with a heavy meat knife without awakening Mrs. Fu or two Japanese and two Russian bodyguards in nearby rooms and then slipped thru the outside guard, with word that the mayor was asleep, and escaped on a bicycle.

Japs Remove U. S. Flags.

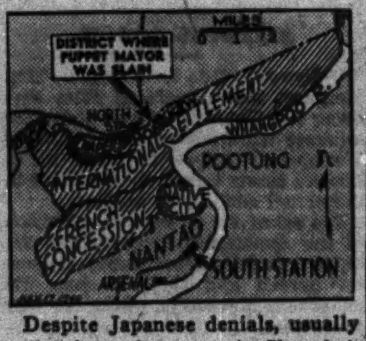
PEKING, China, Oct. 11 (AP).—Two cases of Japanese removing American flags from jinrikishas during the absence of American owners were reported in this Japanese controled city today. Most Americans are voluntarily removing flags to avoid trouble. Aside from these cases, Americans reported a marked increase in courteous treatment from Japanese.

Fear Shanghai Crisis

(Story in adjoining column.)



Principal events of yesterday in the strained relations between the United States and Japan are indicated on the map.



Despite Japanese denials, usually well informed sources in Shanghai, China, reported that 14,000 Chinese troops controled by Tokio were 12 miles from the city. Foreigners feared the force would occupy the international settlement or the French concession.

JAP ENVOY TO SEE REDS

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Japan, Oct. 11.—Lieut. Gen. Yoshitsugu Tatekawa, new ambassador to Russia, was given a rousing sendoff today as he departed for Moscow on one of the most important missions in Japanese diplomatic history. The outcome of his mission to reorient soviet-Japanese relation will largely decide the course of events in the far east. It will affect America and Europe, as well as Japan and China, it is authoritatively believed.

A rapprochement, it is held, would stop the shipment of munitions to China, which are held to be mainly responsible for continuation of China's resistance, and remove the danger at Japan's back in a southward expansion as well as in the event of a clash with the United States. Consequently, Japan is pinning tremendous hopes on Tatekawa.

Speeches Raise Optimism.

Observers are optimistic and recall Russian Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov's speech in August advocating a rapprochement and also Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka's speech this week calling for soviet-Japanese coöperation.

It is significant that the army for the first time is supporting the prosoviet policy. An amazing change in the attitude of the people toward the soviet also is noticeable.

Red-German Talks Forecast.

BERLIN, Oct. 11 (AP).—Germany and Russia will gather around the Kremlin conference table for new talks soon, the authoritative commentary Diest Aus Deutschland announced today, and offered this as proof that Japan's entry into the Rome-Berlin axis had not disturbed soviet-German relations.

The commentary said the continued interchange between Germany and Russia is a direct challenge to the opinion it said prevailed in "Anglo-Saxon circles" that Russia's "true interests" are in conflict with those of Rome, Berlin, and Tokio.

FREED BY NAZIS, LUISE RAINER'S FATHER IN U. S.

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 11 (AP).—Tears of joy rolled down the cheeks of Luise Rainer, the movie star, today as she embraced her 65 year old father on his arrival from Europe, where he recently was freed from a Prague prison camp.

Heinrich Rainer, who once conducted a thriving exportimport business in Hamburg and Brussels, appeared equally joyous at seeing his daughter and wife, who were waiting at the pier when the American liner Excambion arrived from Lisbon.

He dismissed any possibility of an internal uprising in Germany.

HERE IS 1ST STORY OF GIBRALTAR AS IT AWAITS FOE

Tribune Writer Shown New Defenses.

BY MAURICE ENGLISH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 11 [Passed by Gibraltar censor].—Gibraltar, Britain's lone stronghold on the European continent, has been turned into a sturdy bastion prepared to throw back an attack from any direction. A garrison of British troops and Gibraltar volunteers has converted this British colony into a labyrinth of concealed blockhouses and gun nests.

Old military galleries which honeycomb the rock have been equipped with modern artillery. The new concealed gun emplacements command all approaches by land or sea.

The military command here has declined to speculate on the imminence of an attack, but it has gone ahead with measures believed to have made the rock invulnerable.

The Tribune correspondent, only American war reporter to visit Gibraltar since the war began, has finished a two day tour during which he was shown a sample of the defenses by the man who planned and built them and will have the job of throwing back any attacking force.

Adopt Devices of "Lines."

Most of the defensive devices which the Germans and French lavished on the West wall and the Maginot line seem to have been adapted to Gibraltar's defenses.

My tour started from the frontier between Gibraltar and Spain. In the neutral ground which separates the rock from La Linea the Spanish have sown concrete dragon's teeth [tank barriers] and pillboxes.

The British command has prepared a further welcome against attack in artfully concealed gun emplacements. You can walk past an ancient looking shed or decorative piece of shrubbery in a garden a dozen times and not suspect the shed conceals a concrete pill box commanding the harbor and the tree camouflages a machine gun. Beaches where landings could be made are few but are well guarded.

Must Face Air Attack, Too.

"The guns are where you cannot see them," a general explained, "and where the enemy cannot see to aim at them either."

The rock's defenders must consider attacks from the air as well as from the land and sea, but they are confident the rock can resist any air attack, especially as the vital supplies are stored inside the rock where no explosion can reach them.

Some of the rock's casements, blasted out of solid limestone, date back to early sieges when the British consolidated their hold on Gibraltar. Others have been driven thru more recently. Stumbling along in the pitch darkness of the rock, where the troops live like moles, a visitor is likely to bump into the ancient and heavy guns hoisted up the bare face of the rock in the 18th century. These have been pushed aside and new guns set up on the face of the rock.

Some of these openings look across the straits to Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, where new German batteries were installed during the Spanish civil war.

The galleries are several miles long and you can walk thru the rock from the docks on the Spanish side to the gun emplacements which face Africa. Everywhere troops are building concrete labyrinths, barbed wire mazes, or finishing blockhouses.

The troops are bored with the stagnation on the rock but their morale is excellent and they seem convinced Gibraltar will not change ownership.

ENGLAND EXERTS GREAT EFFORT TO KEEP LIFE GOING

FearsAirRaids Will Cause Rise in Disease.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Outside of military and diplomatic problems directly related to the war, British authorities are almost wholly concentrating their efforts in devising means to overcome the disruption of national life caused by the day and night air blitzkrieg.

Measures either taken or projected absorb columns of space in tonight's London papers. They concern methods of maintaining the life and health of the community, industrial production, transportation, other public services, and even the establishment of a new code of shelter manners and the problem of disposing of tons of debris.

The ministry of labor published large advertisments offering jobs to men clearing debris from roads and demolition sites, salvaging property and raw materials, and performing other work created by the bombings.

Prompt Medical Steps.

According to the British Medical journal, measures must be taken to prevent "with the approach of winter a state of affairs in respect to infection and contagious diseases which may prove more devastating than the blitzkrieg." The national journal ascribes this advice to a committee under Lord Horder, famous physician, which is inquiring into the effect of the long hours underground on the health of the population.

These experts are urging immediate action to evacuate children and mothers with young children as well as the aged and infirm. They also advocate regular inspection officers for all shelters and their immediate equipment with sanitary arrangements and provisions for daily cleansing.

The new minister of home security, Herbert Morrison, and his undersecretary, Ellen Wilkinson, were said to be tackling the problem of providing special shelters for London business girls. Many business girls now are unable to get home owing to the raids and have to spend their nights in public shelters and then go straight to work in the mornings without facilities for washing or changing their clothes.

Special Shelters.

Under a projected plan certain shelters in all districts will be set aside for them and be provided with toilet facilities and, it is hoped, ultimately even cooking apparatus. A similar scheme may also be started for young men.

Morrison is studying a code of shelter manners on lines that already have been drawn up by Birmingham authorities. Commenting on this, the Evening News declared, "During the last noisy month, the old night life of London has vanished and a new night life begun at every dusk." It said that thousands of people are "now massed together in one huge, varied family on the hard floor of every shelter underground and like all other families, they have to learn the art of living together."

Birmingham has banned singing, shouting, scattering of litter and people "who drink too freely or bring countless cats with them."

Appeal to Motorists.

To facilitate transport, a new appeal is being made to motorists not to enter or leave the London area during rush hours with empty seats in their cars. The motorist is asked to stop and offer a lift wherever persons are seen waiting for buses of street cars.

It is suggested that motorists keep a Spitfire fund box in their cars so passengers given lifts can contribute at least their ordinary fares toward the purchase of new fighter planes.

JEWS TOLD: STEP ASIDE IF GERMAN SOLDIER PASSES

PrivilegesRestricted on Polish Walks.

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—Jews in Poland must get off the sidewalk to make room for Germans in uniform, according to a decree issued in Warsaw.

If there is room for both Germans and Jews, the Jews may remain on the sidewalk if they step aside, but otherwise they must get into the street. However, Jews are warned to get out of the way promptly.

9 p. m. Curfew for Jews.

Curfew in Warsaw has been set for 11 p. m. but Jews are not allowed in the streets after 9 p. m. They must remain indoors until 5 a. m. They are not allowed to leave the "epidemic disease district" between 7 p. m. and 8 a. m.

Violations of the curfew regulation will be punished by fines or imprisonment, but Jews en route to compulsory labor jobs will be excepted.

Another decree forbids Jews to enter parks outside the "epidemic disease district." It also bars them from walking on the "Victory road," which received its name last Sunday in commemoration of the entrance of German troops into Warsaw a year ago. Jews also are forbidden to enter the newly named Adolf Hitler square.

Says Poles Hate Germans.

An article in the periodical German Mining tells Germans "not to be overcome by sympathy for Poles" who have been put to work in German mines.

"The Poles hate the Germans today more than ever," the publication declared. "They pose as Germanophiles only to commit sabotage."

The treatment which the Poles may expect from their conquerors is summed up by the phrase, "The Poles can never be your comrades. Never give them your hand."

LINER PREPARES TO GO TO ORIENT FOR AMERICANS

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—The United States liner Washington will be ready for an emergency voyage to Shanghai to help in the task of bringing home Americans who have been urged to leave the orient, it was learned here tonight in reliable shipping quarters.

Officials of the company would not comment on the order, which came late today from Washington, where John M. Franklin, president of the line, has been conferring with maritime authorities.

The United States has insufficient tonnage on the Pacific to care for the 15,000 or 16,000 who are expected to seek passage home. The Washington can be made ready for the voyage in a few days, and will probably sail Thursday, or earlier if workmen are able to hurry the task of installing extra sleeping facilities.

SAYRE AND QUEZON DISCUSS EFFECT OF WAR ON PHILIPPINES

[Copyright: 1940: By the New York Times.]

MANILA, Oct. 11.—Significance of the recent frequent conferences among Francis B. Sayre, United States high commissioner, Commonwealth President Manuel Quezon, and United States army and navy commanders was disclosed today by Sayre himself. He admitted that they concerned both military and civil problems in the event an emergency developed affecting the Philippines.

By referring questions concerning food supplies, air raid precautions, and fuel reserves to commonwealth officials, Sayre disclosed the peculiar situation which presumably occupied a considerable portion of the matters taken up with Quezon. This involves the question of where responsibility of the commonwealth for the safety and protection of its citizens ends, and where the responsibility of the United States begins.

Sayre said military protection of the islands is in the hands of the United States until 1946, when the Philippines will achieve independence. But the question of the safety of the civilian population, he said, is within the scope of the commonwealth authorities.

CALLS REOPENING OF BURMA ROAD A U. S.-BRITISH DEFI

The reopening of the Burma road into China now guarantees to the world that Great Britain and the United States are working together and together are ignoring Japanese protests. Great Britain never would have reopened the road alone.

This statement of joint British-United States policy was made yesterday by Sir Charles Morgan-Webb, former ranking British official in Burma, in an address before the English Speaking union in the Palmer House.

"The amount of material which can be moved over the road is small," said Sir Charles. "But the opening of the road is significant in that it shows Britain and the United States are working together."

BANDITS GET 600 PHONE SLUGS.

Six hundred telephone slugs, 158 round trip tickets to Evanston, and $29 constituted the loot obtained by three robbers last night in a holdup of the Merchandise Mart elevated station. The bandits then went to the tavern of Andrew Crescio at 620 North Wells street, where they took $65 and a table radio set.

HIGH COURT VOIDS PREVAILING WAGE ON PUBLIC WORKS

Holds Illinois Act Strikes at Contract Rights.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11 (AP).—The Illinois prevailing wage rate law, requiring contractors to pay prevailing wage scales to employés on all public works projects, was held unconstitutional by the state Supreme court today.

Justice Gunn.

The statute, enacted by the legislature in 1939 and described by union leaders as one of the most important pieces of labor legislation in recent years, was thrown out on the ground it deprived contractors and employés of the right to contract freely on wages and hours.

The court also held the law gave officials sponsoring public works projects an "arbitrary" right to fix wage standards in various localities without adequate statutory restraint.

Opinion Written by Gunn.

The opinion of the court, written by Justice Walter T. Gunn of Danville, said:

"Regardless of what the rule may be in other jurisdictions, we have uniformly held that requirements which have the effect of materially increasing costs, or limiting those who might be employed in the construction of public works, are illegal."

The Illinois act, sponsored by State Representative Nick Keller of Waukegan, was held invalid by the Sangamon Circuit court in a test case.

The law provides that public officials should determine the prevailing wage rate before asking for bids, and compel all bidders to estimate labor costs from the same scale.

Bill Praised by Soderstrom.

The Keller bill was described by Reuben G. Soderstrom, president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, as "one of the most important pieces of legislation labor has obtained in Illinois in recent years."

The prevailing wage rates—usually the labor union standard for the area—were required on all public works, including work done for such political subdivisions as townships, school districts, and sanitary districts.

"Most of the laborers on public works in metropolitan areas have been paid prevailing wage rates for years, but the Keller act was aimed particularly at obtaining union wages for workers on projects conducted in rural areas where wages in the past have been low," Soderstrom said.

MRS. HAL ROACH.

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 11 (AP).—Mrs. Margaret Roach, wife of Film Producer Hal Roach, filed suit today for separate maintenance and requested a temporary order "freezing" all of Roach's assets except those needed in the actual conduct of business.

She asked for an equitable division of the community property and for $2,125 a month as temporary support for herself and their 19 year old daughter, Margaret, whose custody she seeks.

Mrs. Roach charged her husband with "cruel and inhuman treatment." She estimated his annual income at $200,000 and said he gave her $25,000 last year for expenses. She said they separated last Sept. 20, nine days before their twenty-fourth wedding anniversary.

SOCIAL SECURITY BAIT TO VOTERS SNAGS NEW DEAL

1,300,000 Workers Detect Peril to Pensions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—Social security bait for 10,000,000 persons not now covered, held out in this Presidential election year by the Roosevelt administration, has backfired among 1,300,000 public employés whose existing and far superior pension systems the New Deal bill would destroy.

Fred Baer, president of the International Association of Fire Fighters, whose organization is fighting the bill, asserted today that firemen, policemen, and teachers thruout the country, especially in the large cities, are on the warpath against the effort to wreck their pension systems.

Hints Switch to Willkie.

Baer intimated that the firemen's union, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, will support Wendell Willkie for President unless the New Deal threat to their pensions is removed.

"If they don't exclude us entirely and give us the break that we are entitled to we are going to support the individual that will give us protection," he said. "New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Illinois can be classified at the present time as extremely doubtful, and those responsible for this bill can be held responsible for the outcome in those states if they insist on including us under social security."

Smith's Defeat Recalled.

Baer recalled that Alfred E. Smith attributed his defeat as governor of New York in 1920 to the opposition of the policemen and firemen in New York City. Smith had vetoed a "two platoon" bill, providing for two 12-hour shifts instead of the 24 hours firemen then were working.

The new social security bill, introduced in the Senate on Aug. 14 by Senator Robert F. Wagner [D., N. Y.], sponsor of the original legislation, covers under the federal old age insurance system some 10,000,000 agricultural and domestic workers, employés of state and local governments, and employés of religious, charitable, and educational institutions. Existing pensions systems financed jointly by state and local governments and their employés would be absorbed by the federal scheme. Retirement benefits in virtually all cases would be much smaller than the state and local employés now receive.

Gives an Example.

For example, Baer explained, firemen would receive a maximum of $83 a month under the federal system and would not be eligible for retirement until they became 65 years old. Under existing pension systems they are eligible for retirement after 20 to 25 years of service and in the larger cities they receive half pay, or well over $100 a month.

HITS EMBANKMENT; KILLED.

Plymouth, Ind., Oct. 11 [Special].—James Paul Kepler, 20 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kepler, was killed when he ran his car off the end of a road and across a high railroad embankment west of Plymouth. Michael Hamman, 19, and Wark Perkins, 20, were injured. Both boys are from Plymouth.

THAILAND ANNOUNCES VICHY REJECTS CLAIMS AGAINST INDO-CHINA

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—American diplomatic moves in Thailand [Siam] to discourage any Japanese inspired aggression were disclosed today as new far eastern tension arose in the wake of the assassination of Shanghai's puppet mayor.

Hugh Grant, American minister at Bangkok, conferred with Thailand officials yesterday and Secretary Hull said at press conference that it was to supposed that Grant restated the principles of American foreign policy, embracing the status quo in that area.

This coincided with the stopping of a shipment of 10 American made warplanes which had been sold to Thailand, small Oriental country which has been advancing territorial claims against French Indo-China at the same time that Japan was sending military forces into that colony.

Hull would not discuss the possibilty of a dangerous situation developing at Shanghai or insistent rumors there that Japanese forces were preparing to attempt to seiz control of the whole international settlement.

HOW NEW DEAL KILLED REPORT ON TVA BARED

Republicans Barred from Even Seeing It.

(This is the third of a series of articles telling of the Roosevelt administration whitewash of the Tennessee Valley authority.)

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—One of the most important documents ever filed with the congressional committee which investigated the Tennessee Valley authority was suppressed by order of the Democratic majority.

This was the report of the committee's own chief engineer, Thomas A. Panter. Panter and his staff reported findings of immense importance. They went to the very heart of the electric power yardstick problem.

But Panter's report never came to light. The manner in which it was suppressed has been told to THE TRIBUNE for the first time by W. O. Heffernan, secretary and auditor in chief of the investigating committee. It is one of the most interesting chapters in the history of the TVA whitewash.

Resolution Orders Quiz.

Public resolution No. 83, creating the joint senate-house committee on the TVA investigation, directed the committee to examine into accounting methods, costs, allocation of costs, and the yardstick. Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, deposed chairman of the TVA, had accused his fellow directors of employing a false yardstick on electric power costs with which public utilities were to be beaten until they were run out of business.

The resolution ordered the committee to determine:

"Whether by accounting methods and cost charges applicable to private industry, the electric rates of the authority provide a legitimate, honest 'yardstick' of equitable rates of private industry."

This meant that Chief Engineer Panter and his associates were to explore and examine all questions having any reference to navigation, flood control, and power. Panter was to report to the committee his findings with reference to the allocation of costs as against those figures submitted to President Roosevelt by Director David E. Lilienthal.

What Report Covered.

The chief engineer's report covered the cost of power production, which included allocation of costs, transmission and distribution, market, revenues, rates, and rate schedules, both wholesale and retail. If used by the committee, it would have made possible recommendations to congress looking to the adoption of a national power policy and the allocation and liquidation of investment. On the report depended the the whole question of the feasibility of the TVA with its multiple purposes.

Panter was well along with his report when, one day in September, 1938, he came raging into Heffernan's office, as the latter tells the story.

"I'm submitting my resignation," he told Heffernan. "Biddle insists that my findings must be reviewed to him before the committee sees them."

[A previous article has disclosed how Francis Biddle, now solicitor general, was hand picked by President Roosevelt to be general counsel of the committee, and how Biddle's sympathies for the TVA social experiment dictated the summoning of witnesses and a line of questioning which aided materially in bringing about the whitewash report.]

Wanted for "Review."

Panter told Heffernan that Biddle had ordered him to produce all his engineering records then in the process of preparation to Biddle and his staff for review. The TVA staff also was to pass upon the engineer's report, Biddle ruled, before the committee was to receive it.

"You don't have to resign," Heffernan told Panter. "And you don't have to show your report to Biddle. I'll guarantee that the committee sees it first."

With the chief engineer and secretary of the committee aligned against him in his attempt to preview and censor the engineer's report before it reached the committee, Biddle gave up his attempt to obtain direct control over the report. Their refusal to permit him to see the report apparently convinced him that its findings would not be in accordance with the conclusions he was placing in the record. The next move towards suppression of Panter's report came when he submitted it to the committee chairman, Senator "Honest Vic" Donahey of Ohio, on Jan. 14, 1939.

A Strange Proposal.

The Republican minority was notified of the receipt of the report, but with the notification an extraordinary proposal was presented to them.

They were presented with an agreement and a pledge, which they were asked to sign. This agreement stated that they were to be permitted to see the chief engineer's report only upon condition that they were not to reveal or discuss in any manner the contents of the report with any one.

The minority rejected this amazing proposition. They declared that the report was a public document and as such the public was entitled to know its contents.

The Republicans made a last desperate attempt to ascertain the nature of Chief Engineer Panter's findings. They demanded that Panter and his associates be called for questioning. They reminded Chairman Donahey that he had promised in December that there were to be further hearings in January, 1939.

Private Meetings Held.

It was after this minority demand, Heffernan recalls, that Frank Murphy, then the attorney general of the United States, now promoted to the Supreme court bench, paid a call upon Senator Donahey in his office. There were also several private meetings among the Democratic members of the committee majority and General Counsel Biddle. Heffernan, as secretary, was excluded from these meetings. He was later given what purported to be the minutes of these meetings and told to insert them in the minute book.

Eventually, Chairman Donahey issued an arbitrary ruling: There were to be no more hearings. This shut off the testimony not only of Panter but of a long line of other witnesses.

"There is overwhelming evidence," Heffernan declares, "that one of the reasons for calling off the hearings was the fact that the majority did not want Chief Engineer Panter to appear before them. There is no doubt that his report was withheld because it disagreed with the testimony and records and exhibits presented by the TVA officials and witnesses under the coaching of Chief Counsel Biddle."

Chief Engineer Panter has since died. So far as can be determined, his report has likewise ceased to exist.

Baby Given Away

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Nurse Dorothy McGinly of Detroit, Mich., with baby that was thrust into a woman's arms.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11 (AP).—Detroit police enlisted the aid of Buffalo, N. Y., authorities today in a search for the parents of a month old boy, who was abandoned in a stranger's home yesterday.

Police said a birth certificate pinned to the child's clothing indicated he was Gary Wayne Stratton, born in Buffalo Sept. 16 to Mort and Sylvia Stratton.

Mrs. Lillian Zahra, who turned the child over to officers, said she was called to her door by a well dressed woman who had the baby in her arms.

"Do you like babies?" the woman asked.

"Why, yes," Mrs. Zahra replied.

The woman thrust the child into her arms and walked hurriedly away.

SUBWAY KELLY'S 'GOPHER HOLE,' LYONS CHARGES

Assails Election Hush on 8 Cent Fare.

Richard J. Lyons, former state representative, charged in a radio talk last night that the Kelly-Nash machine has made an 8 cent street car fare inevitable in Chicago by using the city's transportation system for a political football. Mayor Kelly is trying to hush the coming 8 cent fare until after the election to avoid losing votes, Lyons asserted.

He charged that millions of dollars in the traction fund, paid in fares by street car riders for improving street car service, have instead been squandered by politicians to draw unused transit plans and dig a "dinky little two track subway that starts nowhere and ends nowhere." The resulting shortage of funds must be made up by boosting fares from 7 to 8 cents, he said.

Small Compared with New York.

Chicago's subway is less than eight miles long, compared with 220 miles of subways in New York, Lyons said.

Lyons' address was the first in a series of eight radio talks on "Politics Behind Chicago's Traction and Subway Muddle." The talks will be made each Monday and Friday at 6:45 p. m.

"The traction improvement program has been kicked along by the Democratic machine," Lyons said. "At the same time the city has been hiring engineers and paying them millions of dollars in fees to produce dreamy plans for subways and other transportation which have been tossed into the wastebasket without being used."

"The subway is a mere hole in the ground which nobody wants to take off the hands of the Democratic machine and operate. The Kelly-Nash machine promoted the subway for the purpose of employing thousands of workers and thus buying the votes of the men and their families. The subway does not add a nickel's worth of service to car riders in the city of Chicago.

No Tenant Yet Found.

"Two years ago with the promise of easy money from the federal government the subway was started. That was two years ago, but even now with nearly $30,000,000 poured into the subway, there is not a sign of a tenant to run cars in the tunnel."

Lyons said that the subway tunnel cannot be completed unless the Public Works administration turns over to the city 13 million dollars still not deposited on the original federal grant of 18 millions.

"And so far even the easy money New Dealers in Washington are not ready to put up the money — even with an election three weeks away—because they do not want to pour money into a gopher hole that isn't going to be used," Lyons asserted.

Extra Cent to Aid Elevated.

"The Democratic machine has been told by transit officials and by the federal government that the only hope for making such a scheme work is to raise street car fares from 7 to 8 cents. Then the extra cent paid by street car passengers can be used to fix the elevated.

"Not content with having squandered away the $70,000,000 traction fund, the city hall machine now wants to use as much of the street car lines' money as it can get to start its little Toonerville subway rolling."

Gets Year in Jail for Bribe Attempt in Vote FraudCase

Dennis Kelly, business agent for the Bartenders' union in Joliet, was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000 yesterday for trying to bribe a juror last January when he was on trial on vote fraud charges. Sentence was passed by Circuit Judge F. B. Leonard of Champaign. Kelly was acquitted of the vote fraud charge.

FINE THREE BOOKIES $13.50 EACH.

Three men were fined $13.50 each by Judge Harold P. O'Connell in South State street police court yesterday when they pleaded guilty to charges of accepting race bets. They are Jack Collins, 4614 Broadway; Carl Lindstrom, 3182 North Clark street, and John Moran, 3919 North avenue.

JUSTUS JOHNSON CHARGES A PLOT TO AID HIS FOE

White House Debt for 'Draft' Seen.

Justus L. Johnson, Republican nominee for secretary of state, asserted last night that Washington Democracy has extended a protecting hand over his opponent, Edward J. Hughes, incumbent.

In a speech in Villa Park, a western suburb of Chicago, Johnson said he had received trustworthy information that orders had been received by the state Democratic organization that Hughes and two other candidates in Illinois must not be scratched in the voting; that they must not be the victims of any trades or deals.

Washington's interest in the secretary of state, Johnson continued, was due to its desire to repay Hughes for setting in motion the third term draft movement. Hughes, he pointed out, ordered President Roosevelt's name printed on the ballot in the Illinois Presidential preference primary altho the President failed to file the certificate of candidacy required by the Illinois statutes.

White House Aids Slattery.

"I've been able to learn the names of only two of the candidates the White House seeks to aid," said Johnson. "One is Senator James M. Slattery. The other is Hughes. The orders from Washington were very definite. They were that in any trades or deals the Democratic party might make in Illinois, Slattery, Hughes, and the third man must be counted in.

"Just whom the trades or deals are to be made with wasn't explained in the orders, but I do know that the Republican party would not stoop to such practices.

"It is obvious that the White House edict to save Hughes at any cost is merely an effort to pay a debt of gratitude. When the Kelly-Nash machine decided to launch the 'draft Roosevelt' movement it called upon Hughes to place the President's name on the ballot. Obviously Roosevelt couldn't sign a certificate of candidacy because if he did the 'draft movement' would have been exposed for the fraud it was.

Called Protégé of Nash.

"Actually the Kelly-Nash machine didn't need any orders to take care of Hughes. The secretary of state is the kingpin of the state machine. The late Gov. Horner twice defeated the machine but he couldn't end Kelly-Nash control because Pat Nash's protégé remained as secretary of state.

"The secretary of state controls the state election machinery. Hughes decides the order in which the names of candidates for many offices shall be placed on the primary ballot, and position on the ballot often means the difference between defeat and victory.

"This is especially true of candidates for the general assembly. And, by controling the legislature, the corrupt Kelly-Nash machine is able to maintain its rule over the state.

"That being the case, the machine is going to do everything in its power to insure Hughes' reëlection by fair means or foul.

LIVE WIRE KILLS FARM BOY.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 11 [Special].—Raymond Luthe, 18 years old, a Hervey City farm boy, died today of burns received when he was shocked by a 3,000 volt power line. Luthe was working on a combine when it came into contact with a high tension line.

FIND CARETAKER OF ICKES HOME A BOSS OF CCC

On U. S. Project Since 1933, Says Employe.

On exclusive Private road in Winnetka lies the mansion [eight bathrooms] of Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, a five acre estate with a well tailored lawn and carefully weeded gardens.

The caretaker, who is entirely responsible for the grounds while Ickes is in Washington, is Edward P. Whitfield, employed by Ickes for 11 years and for the last seven years a supervisor on the Skokie lagoons CCC project. While working for the government, Whitfield has not received regular pay from Ickes for the caretaking job, he told a reporter yesterday.

Project Is Under Ickes.

Work on the Skokie project is under supervision of the national park service, a part of the department of the interior, which Ickes heads. Questioned at his home on the estate, Whitfield somewhat reluctantly told the following story, aided by his wife:

"When Mr. Ickes was going to Washington after Roosevelt's first election, Mr. Ickes asked me if I wanted to go to work on the Skokie project since there wouldn't be enough work on the place here for me," Whitfield related with an English accent. [He was born in England and is a naturalized citizen of the United States.]

"Mr. Ickes said he couldn't afford to keep a staff here," Mrs. Whitfield interposed.

"He said no such thing," the caretaker contradicted. "Anyhow, I said 'yes,' you can bet."

Employed on Job Since 1933.

"So on Dec. 15, 1933," he continued, "I started work, and I've been there ever since. I draw my money from the government, and Mr. Ickes has got nothing to do with my salary. The only money he pays us is to my wife. I can show you the checks.

"Evenings and Saturdays I work on the lawn and the garden. And I do it just as a favor to Mr. Ickes, who's always been nice to us."

Mrs. Whitfield interrupted:

"And the small amount he sends us is for my keeping the house up. It's got to be kept just so, in case he should come home unexpected like."

"Once in a while when I've got a day off," Whitfield said, "I put in a full day on the yard. Then Mr. Ickes pays me for it, but it doesn't amount to more than a day a month."

"We're sure grateful for all Mr. Ickes is doing for us," he added as the interview ended.

SLUSH FUND DEFI HEARING DATE TO BE SET MONDAY

Circuit Judge Roscoe C. Smith of Joliet will set a date Monday for hearing a plea that Warden Joseph E. Ragen of the Joliet penitentiary and several of his aids be compelled to testify on their knowledge of the state Democratic organization's 2 per cent club.

Plaintiffs in the suit are three former prison guards who demanded an accounting of the funds. Ragen and his assistants have ignored a subpena commanding them to appear before a notary public and make depositions. The notary, Margaret B. Massa, has asked for the court order. Assistant Warden George F. Sehring and Guard Captain Joseph Maguire are among those named.

Ragen unofficially has denied ordering his force to contribute 2 per cent of their salaries to the campaign funds.

Mayor Proclaims Flying Cadet Week for Chicago

Mayor Kelly proclaimed yesterday that next week should be observed in Chicago as Flying Cadet week. He suggested that young men during the period give thought to the advantages offered by the air corps of the army.

Killed in Plane Mishap on His First Solo Effort

Robinson, Ill., Oct. 11 [Special].—J. H. Simons, 40, a salesman for the Ohio Oil company, was killed this evening when he was hurled into the propeller of a training plane at the Robinson airport. Simons, a member of a local flying club, was about to take off on his first solo flight. In starting he made some error at the controls. The plane wheeled and headed toward an open gate. The wings struck a post, nosed over, and hurled the victim into the revolving blades. His widow and a 7 year old son survive him.

You are required by the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 to fill out this Questionnaire truthfully and to return it to this Local Board on or before the date shown below. Willful failure to do so is punishable by fine and imprisonment.

This Questionnaire must be returned on or before..................................

Member of Local Board

(The above items are to be filled in by the Local Board before the Questionnaire is mailed to the registrant.)

INSTRUCTIONS

This Questionnaire is intended to furnish the Local Board with information to enable it to classify you in one of the following Selective Service classes:

Class I includes men who are available for induction into the armed forces of the United States.

Class II includes those whose induction is deferred because of the importance to the Nation of the service they are rendering in their civilian activities.

Class III includes those whose induction is deferred because they have persons dependent upon them for support.

Class IV includes those whose induction is deferred by law and those unfit for military service.

You will receive notice from your Local Board of your classification.

Oaths required in the Questionnaire may be administered by [1] a member or chief clerk of a Local Board or Board of Appeal, member or associate member of an Advisory Board for Registrants, or a Government Appeal Agent; [2] any Postmaster, Notary Public, or any Federal, State, county, or municipal officer authorized by law to administer oaths generally or for military purposes. No fee should be charged for this service.

Advisory Boards for Registrants are organized to assist registrants in completing their Questionnaires. No charge will be made for this service. If there is no Advisory Board available, you must nevertheless complete your Questionnaire.

If the registrant is an inmate of an institution and is unable to complete the Questionnaire, the executive head of the institution shall communicate these facts immediately to the Local Board.

1. Make no alterations in the printed matter in this Questionnaire.
2. Write the applicable words in the spaces provided in the Questionnaire.
3. If you furnish additional information or affidavits with your Questionnaire, attach the same securely to it.
4. If you are already in the active military or naval service, obtain a certificate to that effect from your commanding officer and attach same to your Questionnaire.
5. After this Questionnaire has been returned, report to your Local Board at once any change of address or any new fact which may affect your classification.

WHEN A NOTICE AFFECTING YOU IS POSTED AT THE OFFICE OF YOUR LOCAL BOARD, YOU ARE BOUND TO PERFORM THE DUTY REQUIRED EVEN IF NO NOTICE REACHES YOU BY MAIL.

Any statements in this Questionnaire marked [Confidential] are for information only of the officials duly authorized under the regulations to examine them.

2. I have..................children who are under 18 years of age or are physically or mentally handicapped, and who live with me.
[Number of children; if none, write "No"]

"DEPENDENT," AS USED IN THIS SERIES DEFINED

The word "dependent," as used in this series, means any person to whose support the registrant contributes more than merely a small part of such person's support [or to whose support the registrant would contribute were he not temporarily prevented from so doing by the registrant's physical or economic situation] who is either [a] the registrant's wife, divorced wife, parent, foster parent, or grandparent, or [b] the registrant's child, unborn child, brother, half-brother, sister, or half-sister, who is under 18 years of age or is physically or mentally handicapped, or [c] a person whose support the registrant has assumed in good faith, who is either under 18 years of age or is physically or mentally handicapped.

Only a person who is a United States citizen or who lives in the United States or its Territories or possessions may be regarded as a dependent.

Based on the information contained in this Questionnaire and on other information which the Local Board may receive, the Local Board will determine whether the "dependent" is an individual who is dependent in fact for support in a reasonable manner in view of such individual's circumstances on income earned by the registrant by his work in a business, occupation, or employment.

INSTRUCTIONS.—Only those registrants who believe that one or more persons are dependent for support on the registrant's earnings from his work are required to fill in the statements numbered 3 thru 12 in this series.

3. The following persons live with me in a home maintained by me and are entirely or partly dependent on my earnings from my work in my business, occupation, or employment, and have no other sources of income except as stated below:

Name	Sex	Age at last birthday	Relationship to registrant	Date when support began	Dependent's income, last 12 months other than board and lodging provided by the registrant in his home: Contributed by the registrant	Earned by the dependent	Received from other sources

INSTRUCTIONS.—With respect to any dependent [other than the registrant's own wife, child, parent, or grandparent] whose support the registrant has assumed, attach to this page a statement explaining why and under what circumstances the registrant assumed such person's support. Such statement will then become a part of this Questionnaire.

SUPPORTING AFFIDAVIT OF DEPENDENTS OVER 18 YEARS OF AGE

INSTRUCTIONS.—If convenient, each dependent over 18 years of age except the registrant's wife shall swear to [or affirm] the following affidavit. The registrant shall furnish the Local Board a separate affidavit from each such dependent who does not sign the affidavit below. Blanks for this purpose will be supplied by the Local Board on request.

Twenty members of the 108th quartermaster regiment, Illinois National Guard, of Chicago, and 10 Rockford men of the state staff will be sworn into federal service next week for duty at Camp Grant, Rockford.

They will aid in preparing clothing and other guard equipment, including tents, stoves, and cooking utensils, for shipment to Camp Peay, Tullahoma, Tenn., where the 33d division is expected to go early in 1941.

SWEAR IN DRAFT REGISTRARS FOR CITY AND COUNTY

Officials Hand Out Roll Call Instructions.

The principals of 404 Chicago public schools, representatives of 25 colleges and universities within the city, and school principals and war veterans from the part of Cook county outside Chicago which is under the board of election commissioners' jurisdiction, took the oath last night as chief registrars for next Wednesday's draft registration. The inductions took place in the city council chambers. Nearly every seat on the floor and in the galleries was filled.

Simultaneously, in the office of County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, a registration chairman for each of the 28 Cook county townships outside Chicago took the same oath, pledging to conduct faithfully, correctly, and truthfully the registration of men 21 to 35 years old, inclusive. These chairmen will swear in chief registrars of the 199 schools of the Cook county area under Flynn's jurisdiction.

The 28 township chairmen are:

Barrington, H. W. Schroeder.
Bloom, Ed L. Jensen.
Bremen, Albert E. Clifton.
Calumet, Walter Deichen.
Elk Grove, Paul Carroll.
Evanston, Ed Gensch.
Hanover, William C. Straub.
Lemont, Al Graf.
Leyden, Frank Bojack.
Lyons, George Hine.
Maine, C. O. Michaelson.
New Trier, Harold D. Odh.
Niles, Arnold Lindman.

Riverside, Thomas K. Holt.
Schaumburg, Louis F. Nerge.
Stickney, Ed Janasky.
Thorton, Frank Forster.
Wheeling, William L. Krueger.
Worth, Henry A. Richs.

For an hour the two groups received instructions. Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service; County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, and Maj. Stanley R. McNeil, temporary Cook county assistant to Armstrong, spoke while the educators listened and studied a packet of instructions which had been handed them. Superintendent of Schools William H. Johnson was on the rostrum.

The principals were told that they will not only swear in, but instruct the registrars who work under them. In Chicago, where the registration will be conducted in the schools and the city hall, nearly all registrars will be teachers, altho 800 ex-service men who volunteered to serve have been invited to report to chief registrars to aid if they are needed.

College Registrations Arranged.

The representatives of colleges and universities will be chief registrars of registration boards in their institutions, which will register students or faculty men of draft age whose legal residence is not Chicago. Those whose legal residence is Chicago will register in the place to which their home precinct is assigned.

Yesterday afternoon Director Armstrong met with 150 Cook county veterans at 205 West Wacker drive to discuss appointment of the three members of each of 103 local draft boards to be named in the county. He accepted suggestions for prospective membership and explained that they would be considered Sunday when he, Gov. Stelle, and Adjt. Gen. Lawrence V. Regan hold the final conference on appointment of the members of all 284 local boards of Illinois. Armstrong and Regan predicted the boards, as recommended to President Roosevelt for appointment, will be announced Sunday, since the names must be in Washington, D. C., by Monday.

Armstrong told the veterans he was almost certain his two permanent assistants—one for Cook county and one for downstate—would be ex-service men.

Instruct Draft Registrars

QUESTIONNAIRES FOR MILLIONS IN DRAFT REVEALED

Answers Will Touch All Phases of Life.

naires required 'yes and no' answers to all questions. In these questionnaires, the man is enabled to make statements and explanations about himself and his circumstances."

On the other hand, it was noted, the draftee is deprived of some privileges which he enjoyed in the world war. In 1917, he could state his preference for a certain branch of the service. The question: "What branch of the service would you like to serve in?" Has been omitted from the 1940 questionnaires. That query will not be put until the conscripted man arrives at the induction center.

In addition, there is no place in the present questionnaire for a man to claim exemption except in the case of conscientious objectors. A registrant may make a statement that, in his opinion, he should be placed in a certain one of the four classes and give his reasons therefor. But the draft board is given sole authority to decide whether a man shall be placed in a deferred class.

Summary of Questionnaire.

PAGE ONE—Requires the name and address of the prospective draftee and the admonition that willful failure to fill out the questionnaire is punishable by fine and imprisonment. A set of instructions states that the questionnaire is intended to furnish the local draft board with information to classify the registrant in one of four classes. Class one includes men who are available for induction into the armed forces. Class two includes those whose induction is deferred because of the importance to the nation of their civilian activities. Class three includes those whose induction is deferred because of their dependents. Class four includes those whose induction is deferred by law and those unfit for military service.

PAGE TWO—Requires the repetition of name and address, and any alias, telephone and social security number, the description of any physical defects and whether the registrant is an inmate of any institution or hospital. [The latter answers will be kept confidential.] A complete description of the man's education must next be given. A very detailed description of his occupation comes next, including name of employer, description of job, statement of duties, length of employment, average weekly earnings, and whether salaried employé, independent worker, etc. If an employer, he must state number of workers he is hiring.

PAGE THREE—Calls for a statement of reasons for unemployment if registrant is not working; whether he is licensed in a trade or profession; whether he is an apprentice and "other facts" which might be presented for classification. Statements from employers may be attached. Any other occupational experience must be fully described if engaged in during the past five years.

Agricultural workers must detail whether they own farms or are hired managers, cash tenants, standing share tenants, share croppers, wage hands or unpaid family workers. They must tell how many years they have farmed and the principle crops and livestock of their farms; the number of hands employed on the farm and "other facts considered necessary to present fairly the agricultural enterprise."

PAGE FOUR—Takes up the subject of dependents in great detail. The registrant must, if married, tell when he was married and where and whether he lives with his wife. He must describe his dependents and whether they have any income. He must tell the net cost of maintaining his home during the previous 12 months.

PAGE FIVE—Continues the questions concerning dependents, demands the last year's income of the registrant. Any income from other sources, and a list of property owned by himself or dependents and its value. If he rents, he must give his monthly rent and the name and address of his landlord. All the dependents named must submit supporting affidavits. Ministers or students preparing for the ministry, exempted under the draft law, must answer a series of questions.

PAGE SIX—Calls for details of the registrant's citizenship. Aliens must answer a separate set of questions dealing with their residence and whether they have filed for their first papers. Conscientious objectors are to be recorded and given a special form to fill out which is in process of preparation. Registrants must give their court records, if any, telling whether they have ever been convicted of any offense against the law.

PAGE SEVEN—Students, present members of the service, and government officials exempted from service must answer the questions on this page. The registrant is also permitted here to state which classification he thinks he should be put in.

PAGE EIGHT—Contains minutes of action for extension of time for filing claims or proof and space for an appeal by the registrant to the board of appeal.

STRONG DEFENSE MAY AVOID WAR, ROOSEVELT SAYS

Speaks to Large Crowd at Akron, Ohio.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Aboard Presidential Special En Route to Columbus, O., Oct. 11.—A good national defense is the best security against war, President Roosevelt tonight told an enthusiastic crowd of 35,000 persons at Akron, O., when his special train stopped in that city in swinging thru Pennsylvania and Ohio on his eight "nonpolitical" defense inspection tour.

"You and I know the difficulties and the dangers of these times in the world," he said in an informal rear platform address. "For many years we in the United States have managed to keep out of trouble in other continents and I am confident that in the future we shall be able to avoid being brought into war thru an attack by somebody else on the Americas.

"But I also believe, and I think most of you do, too, that the best way to avoid an attack is to be ready to meet one."

Calls for More Speed.

Mr. Roosevelt called for more speed in the defense program, saying that his message to those who are a part of the defense program "speed up all you can."

In the back platform appearance, which was staged at the suggestion of Ohio Democratic politicians as a means of offsetting the fact that Wendell L. Willkie, Republican Presidential candidate lived in Akron for 10 years, he avoided any statement which might disclose the political nature of his trip. Altho his words were guarded, his actions were frankly political—he mended his political fences in an effort to carry the 36 electoral votes of Pennsylvania and the 26 of Ohio in his third term bid.

Inspects Steel Works.

Earlier Mr. Roosevelt visited the Youngstown Sheet and Tube plant and other industrial works in Ohio engaged on defense projects. The reception to the President was similar to that in Pittsburgh in the morning, where he was greeted by thousands. Later he inspected a prairie at Newton Falls, on which the Ravenswood powder plant is to be built, but did not leave the train.

Tomorrow Mr. Roosevelt will inspect Fort Hayes at Columbus, dine at the Dayton home of James M. Cox, his unsuccessful running mate in the 1920 Presidential campaign. In the evening he will make a western hemisphere broadcast on defense of the new world aboard his train. He will return to Washington Sunday.

At the outset of the defense barnstorming tour Mr. Roosevelt settled a feud between Senator Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.], a candidate for reelection, and David L. Lawrence, national committeeman from Pennsylvania. The two had not been on speaking terms since Lawrence opposed Guffey in the state primary.

Brought Together on Train.

On invitation from the President, the two boarded the Presidential Special at Johnstown, Pa., and accompanied the chief executive thruout the Pennsylvania portion of the day's tour. During the day they smoked the pipe of peace.

At Johnstown Mr. Roosevelt took a seat on the back platform of his private car as his special moved slowly to permit him to inspect the flood control works he promised that city in the 1936 campaign.

The special then proceeded to Pittsburgh where Mr. Roosevelt toured the Carnegie-Illinois Steel company plant which is turning out armor plate for battleships and the Mesta Machine company which is supplying tools and dies for the defense program.

Visits Housing Project.

From these plants he turned to "Terrace village" a federal housing project which he dedicated. He dedicated the project as a part of the defense program because it houses defense workers.

In returning to his train Mr. Roosevelt passed thru the center of the city, where crowds jammed the sidewalks to greet him.

As the train crossed the Pennsylvania line into Ohio, Pennsylvania politicians left the train and were succeeded by Ohio Democrats who hoped to make political hay out of their proximity to the President.

The Ohio delegation was headed by Charles Sawyer, Ohio national committeeman. Former Gov. Martin L. Davey, who is trying to regain the state's executive mansion, will join the party tomorrow at Columbus.

This is official:

Miss Jean Roff, 18 years old, 7806 Euclid avenue, is freshman beauty queen at the University of Chicago. She was picked a week ago by Pulse, student monthly magazine, and her title was immediately disputed by the Daily Maroon, student newspaper. Last night she was picked by the Maroon editor, John Stevens, and his committee.

Miss Roff and her court of honor, Miss Helen Pearce, 6603 Dorchester avenue, and Miss Ginny Alling, 6826 Euclid avenue, both 18, were presented to the Social C last night in Ida Noyes hall.

WILLKIE COUNTS ON FINAL DRIVE TO WIN FOR HIM

Confident He's Gaining in Industrial Centers.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Oct. 11.—Wendell L. Willkie enters the final weeks of the Presidential race confident that his cause will win altho aware that at present the states with big blocks of electorial votes are about evenly divided. The swing, particularly in the industrial centers, has begun, he thinks, toward the Republican ticket, as a result of his constant preaching against the future financial insecurity of the New Deal methods as applied to social security and other labor gains on the books.

Willkie will keep on driving day and night until election day, he said today as he entered the Boston area to campaign in a state that is closely drawn between himself and President Roosevelt, just as the campaign has developed in New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Illinois. He thinks he has the edge in all these states and that he will carry the rural and farming areas of the middle west heavily.

Effect of War in Doubt.

As the issues of the campaign develop Willkie has found that the Roosevelt administration is aided by the war uncertainties, the constant blanketing of campaign news by war news, and by the new business activities that have come in many states as a result of the billions appropriated for defense.

In the event of a major war crisis in the orient developing before election day, whereby this country seems on edge of war, the result on the election might be favorable or unfavorable, in Willkie's view. It might increase the sentiment against changing leaders in a crisis, a point at which he is hammering away daily, or it might bring a new resentment against the actions of the administration that had brought the country to such a pass.

Finds a New Attitude.

On this also Willkie talks, frequently. He things he is making headway here as well as in labor ranks, and has found a new attitude toward his speeches in the last few days on the part of the worker groups that he has faced from his open car on many a cross road and street corner.

On the war issue itself Willkie will pound away on his questions to the President about secret treaties. He is expected to sharpen these questions later on the basis of specific information.

Willkie feels deeply on the war question and is seeking daily to clarify this issue between the Republican and the New Deal stands. He feels that this country could not survive another major war in its institution of free business enterprise or in its civil liberties. And he feels even more deeply on the question of civil liberties than on the fate of business.

Explains Stand on War.

Willkie has stated during the last few days that he would never lead this country into war, but would leave that fateful decision to the people. This does not mean a referendum on war. It means that as a situation approached war, such as the question of whether to uphold the status quo in the Pacific in coöperation with the British, he would first make it clear to the people just what such a war meant, and what moves might lead to war. When the people thru congress, demanded war, he would act and not before.

TALK ON WILLKIE BY MRS. TAFT SET TOMORROW

Mrs. Robert A. Taft, wife of the Ohio senator, will make a campaign speech for Wendell L. Willkie, Republican Presidential nominee, at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Highland Park High school.

The meeting is being arranged by Lake county men and women, but women all along the north shore, from Evanston to Lake Bluff, plan to attend. The auditorium seats only 1,700, but arrangements have been made to have a sound truck carry the program to others outside.

Gen. Robert E. Wood, a lifelong Democrat, will introduce Mrs. Taft. She will be preceded on the program by Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for United States senator. Mrs. Bertha Baur, Republican national committeewoman for Illinois, and Werner Schroeder, national committeeman, will be on the speaker's platform.

ERECT 2,000 SIGNS ASKING ELECTION OF DWIGHT GREEN

The Citizens' committee began erecting 2,000 signs yesterday appealing to voters to halt racketeering and beat the political machine by electing Dwight Green, the Republican nominee, as governor. The signs, which will be seen both in Chicago and downstate, were approved by Edward L. Ryerson Jr., chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Charles F. Cutter, wife of the committee secretary. New committee members announced yesterday include Philip Clarke, Charles F. Wills, Dr. Edward J. Ryan, Michael A. Romano, and Frank R. Prete.

WILLKIE BLASTS ROOSEVELT FOR RECKLESSNESS

New Deal Irresponsible in Crisis, Says Nominee.

chain of ideas and events that set our people free.

"Today the ideas of individual freedom, of human rights, and democratic government are being challenged thruout the world. Let me say with deep sincerity that we have yet fully to meet that challenge.

Spiritual Forces Neglected.

"In our generation we have neglected these values and precepts that make democracy strong. We have come to have a cynical attitude toward life. We have neglected the spiritual forces that made us a great people—confidence in ourselves and humble reverence before God.

"I think we have lost one quality that we most desperately need. It is a sense of responsibility. Each of us, young and old, has responsibilities that he must fulfill if this nation is to be strong.

"We are the last great democracy. Every man and woman in America still has a right to vote. Every man and woman in America has a sacred responsibility to exercise that right.

"We must demand an equal sense of responsibility in the government that we elect to office in November. The burden which that government will carry is almost beyond the measure of men.

Fears Democracy Will Fall.

"The history of the world will be determined by the way that government meets its responsibilities to the American people.

"If we have an irresponsible government in Washington during the next four years I believe that democracy will fall. And if democracy falls in America it will perish from the earth.

"But if we elect a responsible government I believe—I know—that democracy will be saved.

"What are the responsibilities that face the next administration? Obviously we cannot list them all tonight. But I want to talk about a few of them—the most important ones.

Must Uphold Traditions.

"First of all, I see the responsibility of upholding our democratic traditions. In a hostile world we must not attack or violate them. We must seek to strengthen them.

"The candidate of the New Deal has chosen this most critical time to violate one of our oldest traditions. He is violating a principle that was framed by George Washington. He is seeking to perpetuate himself in office.

"And what reason does he give for this? Does he tell you that there are more jobs than there were four years ago?

"Oh, no. He says that Hitler and Mussolini would like to see him defeated this coming November.

"He does not say this directly. He does not dare to say it for quotation. He says it by reading aloud a dispatch from Rome. He hints at it. He insinuates it. He leaves the real job to his hand-picked governor of New York.

A Reckless Act.

"Dragging the European war into our domestic elections is not a responsible act. It is a reckless one.

"Do you care what Hitler thinks or what Mussolini thinks?

"Are you going to take either of those gentlemen into the voting booth with you next November?

"No one in America has any use for those men except the third term candidate. He thinks they can win for him.

"It is the responsibility of government to meet the American issues. I have sought to meet them frankly and openly.

"I shall continue to meet them and I shall continue to lay them before the people.

"It will be the responsibility of the next administration to protect the American standard of living. Without that standard, democracy cannot survive.

"The next administration must guarantee relief to every one who can't get a job. It must see to it that the old people are adequately taken care of. It must continue the social security program, and even extend it.

Need a New Labor Board.

"It must protect the rights of labor. It must stand by the National Labor Relations act. One way to stand by that act is to get a labor board that will administer the law in the interests of industrial peace and the unity of labor.

"Those are obvious responsibilities. But you and I know that a real sense of responsibility toward the unemployed, toward the old people, and toward labor, involves something more than laws and good resolutions.

"It involves the making of jobs: jobs in private—not public—pay rolls.

"I can make jobs. I have been employed for many years for the very purpose of creating new jobs.

"If I didn't know I could make jobs I wouldn't even run for a first term.

Jobs Without a Future.

"The only jobs the New Deal has made in the last four years are government jobs. But we in America do not believe that the way to open up the future is to go on the public pay roll.

"For eight years they have been telling us that America is a land without a future. We, the people, know better. America has a future and we are going to make it a good one.

"But—all around us the world is at war. All around us a hostile system of government has grown up. The three most powerful dictator states have made an alliance against us.

"The next administration will bear the awful responsibility of keeping us at peace.

"We can have peace. But we must know how to preserve it.

"To begin with, we shall not undertake to fight anybody else's war. Our boys shall stay out of Europe.

"But we shall appease no one. We stand for our democratic institutions and we stand ready to defend them with our lives.

"How then shall we stay out of war and avoid appeasement? There is only one way. We must build ourselves an air force, a navy, and an army so strong that no dictator will dare to tamper with our commerce, our interests, or our rights.

"That is the defense program we must have.

Words—But No Defense.

"I have spoken often of defense in this campaign. I have pointed out that in 1936, nearly five years ago, the present administration told you it would build an adequate defense system. Since then the third term candidate has spoken urgently many times. Yet that adequate defense system does not exist.

"It takes at least two years to build an army of even 750,000 men. It takes seven years to build a two ocean navy. But the administration started off by taking five years just to talk about it.

"At that rate we shall never get any defense—on time.

"We have plenty of talk, but few tanks, plenty of plans, but few planes.

"None of us is so simple as to think that Hitler is planning at this moment to send an expeditionary force across the Atlantic to attack us.

"Yet none of us is so blind as to deny that he has designs on us. We know—he has said so many times—that he hates democracy. He is aware that if we can really make democracy strong here in America, his own system of blood and tyranny cannot forever survive.

Aim at Revolution.

"And what does he think about this? Listen to Mr. Hitler's mouthpiece—his minister of propaganda, Dr. Joseph Goebbels. This is what Goebbels said. I quote:

"'The America of today will never be a danger to us. Nothing will be easier than to produce a bloody revolution in the United States. No other country has so many social and racial tensions. We shall be able to play upon many strings there.'

"That's what Hitler thinks.

"Now let's see about that.

"When he said that, Hitler's propaganda minister must have been reading the propaganda of the New Deal. He wasn't reading the character of the American people.

Proud of Our Mixture.

"We are a people of many races and creeds, but we are proud of that.

"No matter where our parents may have come from—regardless of race, creed, or color—we are Americans now and always.

"We picked this country for our own. We will keep it for our own. We have no racial tensions.

"But how about the social tensions of this minister of propaganda? Well, the New Deal has been trying to tell us for eight years that we are divided by social tensions.

"And what is the triumphant outcome of its efforts? It has succeeded in convincing Dr. Goebbels.

"Internal tensions have weakened all the democracies that have recently fallen. Their own internal discord rendered them powerless to decide, powerless to produce, powerless to defend themselves.

Discord Created Deliberately.

"Some of that discord was created deliberately by German agents. They are trying to do it here.

"At this very moment Nazi agents are going about this country, spreading propaganda, seeking to entrap American business men by the lure of commercial profit.

"And what is the New Deal doing about that?

"Even mighty England was endangered by internal discord. It was not until Norway collapsed that the British people awoke to their real danger—the danger from within. Then England put a strong man at the head of her government.

"I pray God that Winston Churchill did not come too late.

Must Help the British.

"I am resolved—and I know that you are resolved—to do everything in our power to strengthen those heroic British people.

"But tonight we must solemnly undertake to achieve unity ourselves. We must bring America together. We must come together with a full understanding of what is at stake for our democratic institutions. We must work with each other and for each other, to make our democracy strong.

"We cannot do this with an irresponsible government. We cannot do this with a government that divides us into classes. We cannot do this with a government that defies dictators while it neglects defense. We cannot do it with a government that appeases communists by putting them on the federal pay roll.

"There is only one way to achieve unity.

Sense of Duty Vital.

"We must have in office a government with a sense of duty—duty to the people of America; to our democratic institutions, our prosperity, and our need for defense.

"We must elect such a government. We have still the right to elect. Let us elect it.

"An hour of critical decision is upon us; not next year, nor the year after—but this year—now.

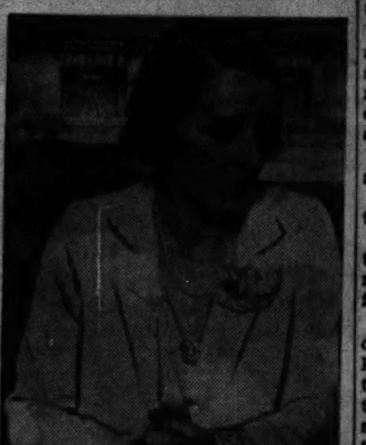
"We must take our stand if we are to preserve this precious democratic way of life. We must become a responsible people with a responsible government.

"As in Lincoln's day, a house divided against itself cannot stand.

"As he said:

"'We must nobly save or meanly lose the last best hope on earth.'"

Final Decree



[Acme Photo.]

LADY CAMPBELL.

LONDON, Oct. 11 (AP).—A conditional divorce granted Sir Malcolm Campbell last April 29 was made absolute today.

Sir Malcolm, noted auto racer and holder of the world speedboat record, won the decree on the ground that his wife committed misconduct with Brian Edmund Lewis, 36 year old son and heir of shipping magnate Baron Essendon and the speed king's former business associate.

The Campbells were married in 1920 and have a son and a daughter.

GENERAL DECRIES ARMS SHORTAGE IN PENN GUARD

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP).—The Pennsylvania National Guard, which used pick handles as "antitank guns" and stovepipes as "trench mortars" during August maneuvers in New York, is not in much better shape now, Major General Edward Martin reported today.

Shortages in many categories of arms and equipment were shown in an inventory released for publication last spring, and since then "there has not been enough change to make any material difference," the adjutant general commented in reply to an inquiry.

"We're in about the same shape as the rest of the army," he added.

One recent improvement in the equipment situation was provision of 11 additional armored scout cars for the 104th cavalry, Martin noted. However, the regiment's requirements have increased since its reorganization into a combined horse-mechanized regiment.

LIVES OF COUNTY RECORDER RIVALS OFFER CONTRAST

Sketches of 2 Opposing Candidates' Careers.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

If there had been no prohibition in America, the race for recorder of deeds in Cook county probably would be different. The office pays $9,000 a year and has about 280 noncivil service jobs attached quite firmly to the person of the Democratic incumbent, Edward J. Kaindl.

Kaindl, who has been seasoned by 23 years of service on public pay rolls, is opposed by A. W. Komarek, Republican, who has spent that length of time in the real estate business.

Engaged in Liquor Business.

It was prohibition which drove Kaindl into politics. After graduation from Chicago Business college at the age of 16 in 1901, he got a job at the Chicago Chemical works. The United States Brewing company soon seized upon his talents and by 1910 he was cashier and assistant manager.

But the rewards of being an entrepreneur were irresistible for Kaindl, and he opened his own retail liquor business. This was successful until the advent of the bootleg era, according to Recorder Kaindl's biography, which adds:

"It was then he turned his talents to public service, being elected alderman successively from 1917 to 1929, each time with larger majorities."

No one knows how long this might have continued had he not been chosen by the Democratic organization to run for city treasurer on the A. J. Cermak ticket in 1931. He was defeated, but following the election he was appointed city collector, a position which he held until he took over the recorder's duties by appointment of the county board in 1934.

Both Are Party Committeemen.

Kaindl, who is 55 years old, lives at 921 North Sacramento boulevard, in the 31st ward, of which he is Democratic committeeman. He is married.

Komarek, who is serving his second term as Republican committeeman of Riverside township, is married and has three sons. His home is at 273 Maplewood drive, Riverside. For more than half of his 44 years Komarek has been in the real estate business under his own name.

He was manager of the real estate department of the Chicago sanitary district for three years, until 1932, when he resigned. During the period he increased revenue and cut expenses to the point that he was able to deposit $454,000 to the taxpayers' credit. This figure he compares to a deficit of $210,000 for the preceding two years.

FIREMEN'S PAY REFERENDA ACT RULED ILLEGAL

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11 (AP).—The Illinois Supreme court today held unconstitutional the Rhodes act requiring local referendum approval before payment of minimum firemen's and policemen's wages under the 1937 firemen's and policemen's act was required.

In effect, the decision would compel more than 50 Illinois cities to revert to the original provisions of the 1937 act and pay the minimum wages specified in that law from July 13, 1937, when the act became effective.

The minimum wage act requires payment of $150 a month to policemen and firemen by cities of from 10,000 to 25,000 population and $175 a month to the same classification by cities of from 25,000 to 150,000 population.

The court held the Rhodes act, standing alone, merely provides for a referendum and does not specify the subject to which it refers. The ruling was made on a test case brought by the firemen of Peoria, who sought increased salaries.

STELLE SERVES PARTY IN ROLE OF SCANDAL HUSHER

Promises to Act in Three Notorious Matters.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11 [Special].—Gov. John Stelle, ending his first week as the chief executive of Illinois and as the new boss of the statehouse machine, today continued to wash dirty linen that might embarrass the candidacy of Harry B. Hershey. He is now actively supporting the Taylorville lawyer who defeated him for the gubernatorial nomination last spring with the aid of the Nash-Kelly organization and the sickroom clique which ruled during the invalidism of the late Gov. Henry Horner.

Items listed for this laundry service by the governor at today's press conference were as follows:

1. The shakedown of state employés for 2 per cent of their pay checks for the Democratic campaign fund.
2. The Manteno State hospital epidemic that killed 63 last year.
3. Corruption in the state's $32,000,000 a year paving industry for the benefit of the political machines and of business interests with political affiliations.

Expects Loyalty of Employés.

"Any political contributions from state employés in my administration," Stelle answered a reporter, "will be voluntary and not forced. At the same time, I expect every man to be loyal to me."

Since spring, employés pressed by their superiors have been required to sign a statement that their per cent contributions have been voluntary.

"I'm going to Manteno next week to arrange for the institution to get its water from Kankakee," Stelle answered another interviewer. "I learn that doctors repeatedly reported pollution of the hospital's water from as far back as Gov. Emerson's administration. I'm not going to do anything about the resignations of Director Bowen and Dr. Baxter until I have all the facts before me and can question them together."

Bowen Appeals Conviction.

Director of Public Welfare A. L. Bowen is appealing a conviction for neglect in the Manteno epidemic. Dr. A. C. Baxter is director of the department of health.

"I've already started an investigation of the highway situation," the governor responded to another inquiry, "and I'll not stop at vigorous prosecution of any state, county or city officials who might become involved."

Speaker of the House Hugh W. Cross, ranking Republican state official, has charged that in Chicago's city hall and in the Cook county building the corrupt paving alliance, injured by the death of the labor gangster, Mike Carrozzo, is being revived to finance the current Democratic campaign.

WILLIAM OSBORN, ONCE ROOSEVELT AID, FOR WILLKIE

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—William Church Osborn, a lifelong Democrat and one time adviser of Franklin D. Roosevelt, today announced he would vote for Wendell Willkie. He said he has become convinced that the direction of the Roosevelt administration is toward an executive rather than constitutional government and that the third term drive is "the crowning step toward the totalitarian state."

At his law office here Osborn declared that it was with regret that he has found it necessary to "walk out on the Democratic party." He said that he had voted for Democratic Presidential candidates consistently since Grover Cleveland was the party's candidate in 1894.

In 1910 Osborn was an adviser to Franklin D. Roosevelt, then a state senator, when he was engaged in a bitter election fight and since that time had been a supporter of the President. He was chairman of the Democratic state committee from 1914 to 1916.

RECORDS OF N. Y. FIRMS SEIZED BY AGENTS OF DIES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 [Special].—The files of "certain companies in New York" have been seized under congressional subpena and turned over to the state department for action, it was announced by the office of the Dies committee here today. The names of the firms were not made public.

Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.], at his Orange, Tex., home, advised committee aids here that the seizures had been made, but said the information had been turned over to the state department "because it involves our foreign policy." He declined to elaborate.

Reference of the files to the state department would indicate that possible action against these companies, or individuals connected with them, for failure to register as agents of a foreign government might be contemplated, or that action might be taken against diplomatic or consular representatives who might be involved.

OKLAHOMA JURY DECREES PRISON FOR COMMUNIST

Oklahoma City, Oct. 11 (AP).—Robert Wood, state secretary of the communist party, was convicted of criminal syndicalism in District court today. The jury assessed a $5,000 fine and fixed penalty at 10 years' imprisonment.

Wood and 11 other persons were arrested last Aug. 20 in a series of raids led by Assistant County Attorney John Eberle.

They were charged with advocating, advising affirmatively suggesting, and teaching crime, criminal syndicalism, sabotage, and the commission of crimes as a means of accomplishing, effecting and bringing about industrial and political revolution.

Wood obtained a severance and was the first to go to jail.

BROWDER FINDS IT HARD TO RUN FOR PRESIDENCY

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—Earl Browder, under conviction of passport fraud and sentenced to four years in prison, is conducting his campaign as communist party candidate for the Presidency under difficulties.

Judge John C. Knox of the federal District court has refused Browder, who is out on $7,500 bonds while his appeal is being prosecuted, permission to leave his jurisdiction. Browder's speechs for west coast and other audiences have been sent out in the form of phonographic records.

Browder was convicted last Jan. 22. His sentence was affirmed June 24 by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. On July 29 he petitioned the United States Supreme court to set aside the conviction, and the justices, who reconvened on Monday after the summer recess, have not yet acted on the plea.

In denying his request to travel, Judge Knox said there was no obligation for the govenment "to afford a man who wishes to tear down the government the opportunity to do so."

MACHINE PLOTS TO RULE STATE, STRATTON AVERS

Congressional Candidate Busy Campaigner.

BY EDWARD WILSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 11.—Charges that the Kelly-Nash machine is making a determined effort to garner state political control were levelled here today by William G. Stratton, one of the two Republican candidates for congressman at large.

"The Republican party in Illinois is continuing to balance the political and particularly representative posts between Cook county and down state," Stratton told crowds in meetings at Anna and Carbondale today, "But let's look at the action of the Democratic machine. Both Democratic nominees for congressman at large are Chicago residents.

"I am from Morris, Ill., and Stephen A. Day the other Republican nominee for congressman at large is from Evanston. That should spell to you people equal distribution of representation at Washington."

Campaigners in South

Stratton has been campaigning thru southern Illinois this week with Wayland Brooks, Republican nominee for United States senator and Arthur C. Lueder, candidate for state auditor.

Stratton, the son of the late William J. Stratton, a long time downstate Republican leader and former secretary of state, is barely 26 years old. He claims that if elected he will be the youngest congressman in Washington.

Young Bill Stratton as he is known thruout the state, has paid several visits to every city, village and cross roads during this campaign. He learned downstate campaign methods in his childhood and for at least 15 years traveled the state with his father.

That is why the old timers in these small towns grab his hand when he arrives and invariably say: "I knew your father well."

Cites Willkie's War Record.

It is said in these southern Illinois counties that Stratton's early knowledge of country politics has assisted him by directing him to the proper political contacts in each county. Frequently, according to practiced politicians down here, a young or new candidate makes his first approach to the wrong party leader when entering a county.

One particular line in Stratton's talk has brought applause and cheers from every crowd he has addressed.

It is where he compares the world war record of Wendell Willkie, who enlisted as a private, to President Roosevelt who was an assistant secretary of the navy at that time.

Young Bill reminds his listeners that Willkie served in France and was actually at the front. Then he says, "Now the President says he knows the horrors of war. Well, folks, he must have had damn good eyesight to see three thousand miles."

When he gave that talk in Cairo last night to a crowd that was half made up of colored people the audience shouted, whistled and stamped on the floor of the courtroom in the antique Alexander county courthouse.

"You tell 'em boy," sang out one old colored man down in the front row and "Amen and bless you," came from another.

Here at Carbondale, close to the famous Crab Orchard lake development. Stratton talked to several hundred persons gathered on a street corner today. Carbondale has a population of about 8,000 and is a strong Republican city. It is in Jackson county which went Democratic in 1938.

Tonight Stratton was scheduled to talk in Nashville, in Washington county, where Republicans have gained strength during the last four years.

Lueder, in his campaign, has found warm friends in all counties. Due to his years as postmaster of Chicago and many positions he has held in postmasters' organizations, he has found a wealth of ex-postmasters to greet him and pledge their support.

GREEN PUSHES ON TO 102D COUNTY IN VICTORY QUEST

Piles Up 87,000 Miles on Campaign Tour.

BY THOMAS MORROW.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 11—Dwight H. Green, Republican candidate for governor, settled wearily into his hotel here tonight after he had visited the 102d county in Illinois.

Green finished a tour of 87,000 miles which started with the opening of the primary campaign. He and Warren Wright, candidate for state treasurer, and Stephen A. Day, seeking the job of congressman at large, have spoken to 574,000 persons since the campaign got under way.

"I feel the job is only half done," Green told "Irish Johnny" Maier, his chauffeur, confidante, and guide, as he shied his hat at the bed. "I'd like to speak personally to every voter in the state."

Sees Football Game Today.

"Well, anyway, win, lose or draw, we see a good football game today," Green commented as he ruffled his graying hair and yawned. He was referring to the Illinois-Southern California game in the stadium.

Earlier Green had visited conservative Washington county and had spoken to a cheering crowd in Alton, busy center of Madison county. In Nashville the people of Washington county gathered in the court house and promised Green that the voters would better the 1,700 majority that they piled up at the last election.

"Can't let that fellow Roosevelt have a third term," was the consensus of the pipe smoking crowd that filled the auditorium and overflowed into the courthouse yard.

"Don't let Kelly steal more than 150,000 votes in Chicago and we'll put Green over in downstate," said H. F. Brennecke of Eddyville, Republican leader.

Record for Voting G. O. P.

Predominantly agricultural, Washington county has a fringe of oil wells, some coal, and a record for voting in the Republican column. The people resent the antics of the Democratic state machine. They cheered lustily when Green told them that they must be prepared to fight off a last stand by "the masters of crooked politicians."

"Court records bear out the charge that when I opposed Ed Kelly for mayor in 1939, ballot boxes were stuffed and unfortunate citizens were herded to polls to vote as they were dictated," Green told his audience. "On that occasion I received 638,000 votes. I mention this fact because since that election it has been revealed that in 200 precincts of a total of 3,648, an average of 40 votes a precinct were stolen from me and given to Ed Kelly. The law abiding, decent citizens of Chicago rightfully won that election, and with an honest count they can do it on Nov. 5."

EXECUTIVE FINED $10,000 ON CHARGE OF TAX EVASION

Judge William H. Holly in the federal District court fined Felix A. Malczewski, 6066 North Marmora avenue, head of the Chicago Printers Machinery Works, $10,000 yesterday on a plea of guilty to a charge of income tax evasion. Malczewski has agreed to pay $33,000 in back income taxes, penalties, and interest for the years 1933 to 1936, inclusive, according to Paul Ziffren, assistant United States attorney. Malczewski was accused of making false exemption claims and falsifying entries in his books. Judge Holly said he imposed a fine rather than a prison sentence because Malczewski had saved the government time and money by pleading guilty.

COURT CONTINUES ACTION ON NITTI IN BARKEEP CASE

Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti.

Judge James F. Fardy in Criminal court yesterday continued until Oct. 28 the arraignment of Frank Nitti, gang syndicate leader, and six co-defendants indicted for conspiracy to seize control of the Bartenders' and Beverage Dispensers' union.

Five of the defendants have surrendered and furnished bonds of $3,500 each. One, Murray Humphreys, old Capone gangster, surrendered yesterday. The others who appeared with him and Nitti in court are Frederick Evans, alleged financial "brains" for Nitti; Louis Romano, president of the union, and Thomas Panton, a former business agent of the union.

Still missing are Paul [The Barber] Ricca and Louis [Little New York] Campagna, close allies of Nitti. The affairs of the union are being conducted by Roy D. Keehn as receiver, pending settlement of a suit in which George B. McLane, veteran business agent, demanded a full investigation of the Romano leadership.

G.O.P. TO PROVIDE JOBS, NOT RELIEF, WILLIS ASSERTS

The Republican party will provide jobs instead of relief if the Republicans are placed in power at the November election, Raymond E. Willis told a cheering Lake county [Ind.] crowd last night in East Chicago. Willis, an Angola newspaper editor, is the Republican nominee for United States senator from Indiana against Sherman Minton, the Democratic incumbent who has admitted on the floor of the Senate that he is a New Deal rubber stamp.

Willis arrived in Lake county yesterday for two days of intensive campaigning. After conferences in Hammond and Gary, he was escorted in a torchlight parade from Gary to East Chicago, where he spoke in the Columbus school.

"Your industries have been the victims of government meddling for seven years." Willis told the crowd. "Wendell Willkie promises jobs for all who want to work by encouraging the development of private enterprises, big and small. I want a job helping him do that job."

Willis added, however, that the Republican party is pledged to continue relief as long as there is a family in need.

Posters on Hand

DeKalb, Ill., Oct. 11 [Special].—Charges, substantiated by a photograph of the garage interior, that the Democratic organization is using the state highway maintenance department garage in DeKalb as headquarters, were made today by E. R. Carlson of Waterman, chairman of the DeKalb County Republican committee. The photograph which Mr. Carlson secured shows a pile of Democratic campaign posters on a bench in the garage. Directly behind the bench is a truck operated by the state.

Ed Burke, on duty at the garage, unaware that a picture had been taken, offered to give the photographer a poster. He explained that the supply was low because the members of the highway crew had just completed putting up all of the bigger posters.

Carlson charges that the activities of the highway workers are in direct violation of the Hatch act, in view of the federal funds allocated the state for highway work. Windows of the garage also contain the large posters, one being directly above the sign indicating the building is leased by the state for garage purposes.

SAVED 3D TIME FROM CHAIR; NEW TRIAL ORDERED

Jerry Mangano, confessed slayer of Park Policeman Harry François, was saved from the electric chair for a third time yesterday when the Illinois Supreme court reversed his death sentence and ordered the Criminal court to hold a new trial. Twice before, on Feb. 23 and April 19, Mangano was saved by stays of execution.

The Supreme court, in an opinion delivered by Justice Loren E. Murphy, conceded the evidence showed Mangano shot and killed François during a holdup in Humboldt park last Nov. 20. The court ruled, however, that State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney acted improperly in introducing evidence of seven other crimes which may have influenced the jury to impose the death penalty.

HERSHEY RALLY COMPETES WITH FOOTBALL GAME

1,000 Gather at Rockford to Hear Candidates.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 11 [Special].—The Democratic campaign caravan led by Harry B. Hershey, gubernatorial candidate, competed with a red hot football rivalry here tonight and drew 1,000 persons to the Masonic temple, a crowd which local leaders boasted was one of the largest ever to attend a Democratic rally in Rockford.

While the East and West Side High school teams fought in the stadium a mile away, Hershey, Congressman John C. Martin, nominee for state auditor; and state Senator Harold G. Ward, candidate for attorney general, combined for their own triple threat attack—against the Republicans.

"There are about 6,000 people at the football game," said C. H. Hoskinson, a Democrat. "What if they do outnumber us at this meeting six to one? Many of them are kids and they can't vote anyway."

G. O. P. Victorious in 1938.

Rockford is the county seat of Winnebago county, which went to the Republicans by a 7,000 plurality in 1938. Democrats here insist they will turn back the page next month to 1936, when they defeated the Republicans.

Hershey told his meeting that if he is elected, his efforts will be unrelaxing to gain for Illinois its full share of industrial promotion for defense.

"For months," he said, "without fanfare and without political ballyhoo, the Democratic state administration has been coöperating with business and industrial leaders to bring new productive enterprises to Illinois."

Before this meeting Hershey gave a radio address here, which also was heard in Chicago. He asserted that up to 1932, Republican administrations in Illinois had piled debts on taxpayers, paid no heed to the impoverished, and favored G. O. P. political leaders in building new roads.

Upholds Democrat Record.

"The Democratic record since then," he said, "shows that instead of piling up a huge debt, Illinois has decreased it by nearly 48 million dollars. The state now is being operated an a pay-as-you-go basis, which means every penny taken in taxes comes back in the form of service."

After the radio and Masonic temple addresses, Hershey and his party attended a Scandinavian club Democratic meeting and snacked on smorgasbord. This made a varied diet, because earlier the caravan had acquitted itself well at a fish fry in Belvidere. The fry was in the new Belvidere community building, erected last year with the help of a PWA loan.

"Can you imagine Belvidere and all of Boone county going Republican after getting such a swell building from Roosevelt?" inquired one local welcomer. Boone county and McHenry county, where Hershey spoke earlier at Woodstock, are heavily Republican.

Ward, in his speeches at the rallies, declared Hershey enjoyed the confidence of the late Gov. Henry Horner, "a great humanitarian," and will coöperate with "that greatest humanitarian of the age, President Roosevelt." Martin said he had learned to love Hershey, and so would all of Illinois.

REP. SHORT ATTACKS 'WHITE HOUSE HOUDINI' IN CHICAGO ADDRESS

Americans must decide in the coming election whether they want war or peace and whether or not they wish their government to become a dictatorship, Representative Dewey Short of Missouri told the Executives' club yesterday. Representative Short, Missouri's only Republican in congress, spoke before a crowd of 1,000 at the club's luncheon in the Hotel Sherman.

The congressman blasted at President Roosevelt and the New Deal and called for their defeat. He termed President Roosevelt "King Rosy." and "the Houdini in the White House."

Attacking President Roosevelt's campaign for a third term and its inference that he is indispensable, Representative Short said:

"Washington could have had a third term but turned it down. He was offered a kingly crown. Jefferson's friends begged him to run for a third term, but he rebuked them, telling them a third term would lead to a fourth and a fifth, and that eventually the office would pass from father to son. The rise of Hitler and Mussolini and Stalin can be traced to monopoly in government. We are traveling down the same road."

Young Democrats to Hold Columbus Dinner Tonight

The Young Democracy of Chicago will hold a Columbus day dinner this evening in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House. Managers of the meeting estimated that 1,500 would attend. Among the speakers will be Attorney William D. Saltiel and Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the President.

"YOU'VE ALWAYS WANTED A BRIGHT KITCHEN"

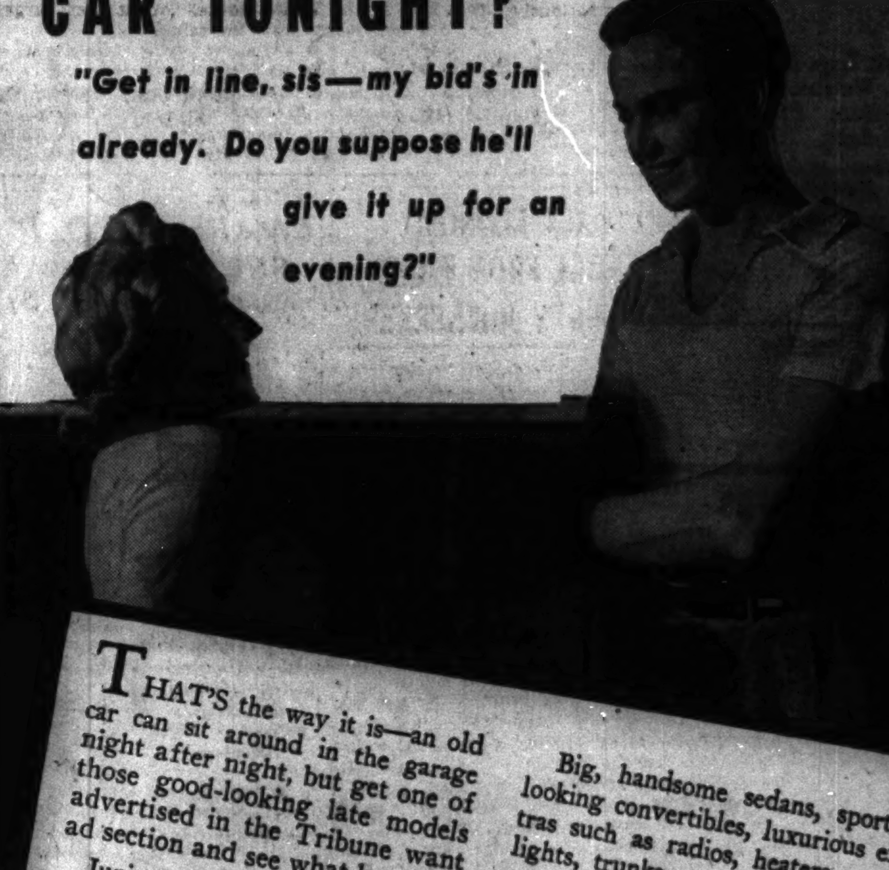
"This one is a dream. Weren't we lucky to find this apartment in the Tribune want ads?"

BIG, bright kitchen, ample closet space, modern fixtures, sunny exposure . . . are these the requirements you look for in an apartment?

The easiest way to find an apartment with the features you want is to consult the Apartments to Rent columns in the Tribune want ad section.

Chicago's largest selection of attractive apartments is described in these columns. For your convenience the offerings are grouped by locations in city and suburbs and by numbers of rooms.

List the offers which interest you. Then visit only those. By so doing you know in advance that you will not waste time and energy looking over apartments which could not possibly interest you. Review today's Apartments to Rent offerings in the Tribune want ad section now.



"IS DAD USING THE CAR TONIGHT?"

"Get in line, sis—my bid's in already. Do you suppose he'll give it up for an evening?"

THAT'S the way it is—an old car can sit around in the garage night after night, but get one of those good-looking late models advertised in the Tribune want ad section and see what happens.

Junior wants it for dates. Sis discovers errands to do. Mother suddenly has to repay a lot of calls, and father finds a new thrill in driving.

Today's used car values are some of the best in history. And you will find the cream of the bargains described in the Tribune want ad section.

Big, handsome sedans, sporty-looking convertibles, luxurious extras such as radios, heaters, spotlights, trunks, and other valuable accessories, motors which squeeze out more miles per gallon . . . these are just a few of the outstanding features headlined and described in the Tribune used car offers.

Review the Used Automobiles for Sale columns now and see for yourself what value your money can buy today in a late model used car. Your present car may be the only down payment required.

"WISH I COULD PLAY"

Some day your child may wish he could join in the good times which center around any one who can play a musical instrument. You can select a well-made piano, violin, or other musical instrument from among the many worthwhile offerings advertised in the Musical Instruments column in the Tribune want ad section. Start him now on the road to musical training, and start him well with one of these instruments, which, tho used, represent unusual values.

Because they get better results, want ad users place more want advertising in the Tribune than they place in all other Chicago newspapers combined.

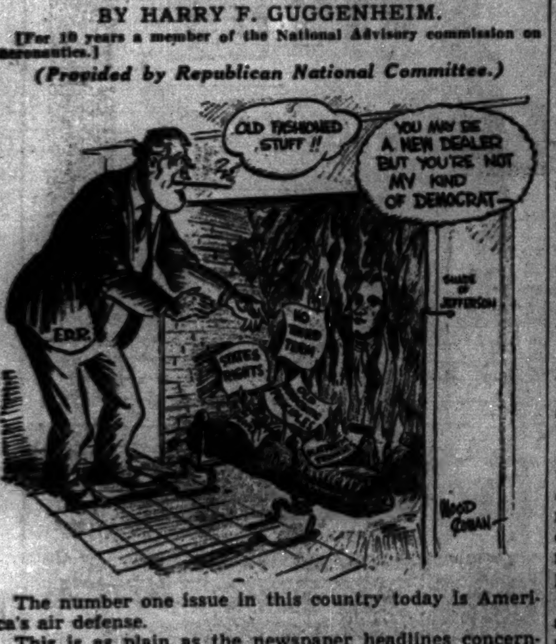
REPUBLICAN
F. D.'s Record on Aviation.

BY HARRY F. GUGGENHEIM.

[For 10 years a member of the National Advisory commission on aeronautics.]

(Provided by Republican National Committee.)



The number one issue in this country today is America's air defense.

This is as plain as the newspaper headlines concerning the war in Europe—headlines that daily tell of threats to our peace and our security.

It is a problem that has been before us for years—and today we are more vulnerable from the air than ever before.

WHY?

Here is the record.

In 1933 Hitler came to power in Germany.

In that same year Franklin D. Roosevelt refused to renew appointments of under secretaries in charge of air in the army and navy. These offices are still vacant.

In 1935 Italy conquered Ethiopia, largely from the air.

In that same year congress passed the Wilcox bill, authorizing air defenses along this nation's widespread frontiers. Mr. Roosevelt neglected to ask the congress for the necessary funds to carry out the recommended program.

Dress Rehearsal in Spain.

In 1936, Germany and Italy took their fighting planes to Spain for a dress rehearsal of what was to come.

In that same year Mr. Roosevelt was informed that the United States army air corps had 700 fewer planes than it had in 1932. He did nothing about it.

In 1938 Hitler seized Austria and Czecho-Slovakia.

In that same year of 1938 the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the federal government's air research bureau, reported that the European crisis made patent the overshadowing influence of air power in international affairs; in addition, the United States navy urged immediate action in building up our air defenses.

Mr. Roosevelt ignored the report of the committee, as well as the appeal of the navy.

THEN came 1939. Poland was crushed by Hitler's air power—and Hitler challenged the world.

In that same year, and despite repeated warnings from his own advisors as well as from aviation experts, Franklin D. Roosevelt TOLD CONGRESS THERE WAS NO POINT IN OUR TRYING TO MATCH THE AIR POWER OF CERTAIN OTHER NATIONS.

THAT brings us up to 1940—and more of the same.

In 1940 Germany struck westward, France became a shambles, England a bomber's proving ground.

Take Aviation Out of Politics!

And in 1940—today—America has just about 500 planes suitable for first line fighting.

Also, in 1940 [an election year!] Mr. Roosevelt tries to cover his own failure of seven years by talking furiously of 50,000 planes.

The plain truth is, we will be fortunate if, by Jan. 1, 1942, we have a total of a few thousand planes suitable for first line fighting.

By comparison it is not very pleasant to contemplate that Hitler and Mussolini have a combined air force, according to the newspapers, of 20,000 war planes.

DEMOCRATIC
Playing Politics with Dynamite.

(Provided by the Democratic National Committee.)

This is no time for explosive statements on foreign affairs, for sly innuendo, irresponsible statements, or cleverly concealed charges hidden in the guise of innocent questions. Wendell Willkie apparently thinks otherwise.

Dorothy Thompson.

War shadows grow longer across the world. Dictators are on the march. Treaties are denounced as scraps of paper and the rule of blood and iron supplants the reign of law and international agreement. People are puzzled and worried as the tension grows.

President Roosevelt foresaw the decay of normal world relations with prophetic vision and moved to prepare the United States in time. Long before others were awake to the danger he warned his countrymen that the democracies of the world would soon be on trial for their very existence. He was ridiculed as an alarmist and a war-monger then. But his critics lived on to embrace the policies which he proclaimed and they denounced.

The chief executive preached the simple doctrine that as a measure of self-protection for the safety of the nation we should extend material aid to the countries of Europe which were holding off the onward thrust of force and violence. The longer that thrust was delayed the more time this country had to prepare. The heroic defense of Britain against Hitler's raining bombs has demonstrated the wisdom of President Roosevelt's course.

Now the situation in the orient grows more ugly. The newspapers tell of vague warnings by Japan that she will not tolerate interference with her expansionist program. The American people want peace and they wonder how this situation has come about.

A Consistent Foreign Policy.

The first thing to remember is that the foreign policy of the United States is just what it was 10 years ago, the same as it was under Coolidge and Hoover.

Under the wise direction of Secretary of State Hull the foreign policy of the United States has been consistent and forceful and its application temperate and moderate.

But Wendell Willkie has decided to make political capital, if he can, out of the involved and dangerous world situation. He demands to know if President Roosevelt has private understandings with foreign governments about the war.

"What are the international understandings," he asked, "about America's participation in the incidents of Europe and Asia at the present time?"

This is an old courtroom trick and Willkie is an old courtroom lawyer. A leading question plants a doubt in the minds of the jurors. The people become vaguely stirred, uneasy, afraid that perhaps something dreadful is being concealed about which they should know. This hidden purpose is to convey the impression without saying so that Roosevelt has helped to bring about the tension, that he flirts with war for his own political advancement.

Of course, Willkie is too clever to make the charge directly.

Wise, Consistent Policy.

The fact is that the United States government has no commitments, secret or otherwise. It has pursued a wise, consistent policy in the full light of day. The administration has taken every possible step to keep war away from America.

Miss Dorothy Thompson recently indorsed Roosevelt for reëlection in a brilliant analysis of why the country needs him in the White House. About the charge that the President wants war, she said:

"The President is a man of peace. No one who saw and talked with him, as I did, after the outbreak of the war, and in June, in the midst of the collapse of France, and saw how the war had stricken that naturally insouciant personality, marking his face with suffering, COULD EVER SAY THAT HE IS A WAR MONGER."

YOUNG AMERICA MEETS A NEW HERO, LEW LOYAL

Radio Fans to Get Thrills and $10,000 Prizes.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Boys and girls all over America met a new hero, Lew Loyal, last night. Besides Lew Loyal they got acquainted, thru W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system, with his friends, Betsy True, just as smart, alert, and patriotic as Lew; Uncle Mack, a federal agent, and others. Lew Loyal and Betsy True help Uncle Mack in tracking down foreign spies and other enemies of the American government.

Adventures of these young patriots, to be broadcast at 7 p. m. every Friday night over W-G-N and Mutual, will also appear in the comic book magazine of THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE each week, starting tomorrow. Four pages of full color cartoons, by Milt Youngren, will chronicle their adventures in the comic magazine.

Compete with Photos.

THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE will award $10,000 in cash prizes to boys and girls under 15 who enter the Lew Loyal Patriots of America contest. All contestants need to do is to send in their photographs so that they may be considered as possible models for Lew Loyal and Betsy True. Two grand prizes of $2,500 in cash will be awarded—one to the boy whose picture is chosen as a model for Lew Loyal and one to the girl whose picture is selected as most typical of the character of Betsy True.

Besides these grand prizes 20 prizes of $25 each will be awarded each week for ten weeks. Photographs of these 20 weekly winners will be published in the SUNDAY TRIBUNE.

The 20 winners each week of a total of $500 will all have a chance at the two $2,500 grand prizes. All boys and girls who join the Lew Loyal contest will receive free a red, white, and blue membership card and badge.

Complete rules and full explanation of the Lew Loyal contest, along with an entry coupon, will appear in tomorrow's SUNDAY TRIBUNE.

Follow Them in Tribune, Too.

In last night's broadcast Lew Loyal and Betsy True were plunged swiftly into an adventure in which they with Uncle Mack succeeded in exposing enemies of America. In the comic magazine they will experience different adventures than on the air. Thus, youngsters will need to follow them both on W-G-N and in THE TRIBUNE to share all their excitement and thrills.

On the air Lew Loyal is portrayed by Jack Bivans, a typical American boy with freckles all over his face. Betsy True is played by pretty Patti Willis, and Uncle Mack is played by Bret Morrison. Blair Walliser is in charge of the radio production.

Five hundred newspaper boys of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE were among the studio guests last night.

Patti Willis played the role of Betsy True in the first broadcast of Lew Loyal by W-G-N last night; Bret Morrison (center) was Uncle Mack, and Jack Bivans was in the title part.

W-G-N PRESENTS 2D OPERETTA OF SEASON TONIGHT

The curtain of the Chicago Theater of the Air will lift for the second time this season at 9 o'clock tonight. The production is the tuneful "Chocolate Soldier," by Straus, with Marion Claire and James Melton singing the leads of Nadina Popoff and Lieut. Bummerli. A group of expert singers, all well known to radio listeners, will support them. Among these are Annette Burford, young soprano who was one of the winners of the Chicago Opera auditions; Helen Bartush, recently featured on the W-G-N Symphonic hour; Mary Love, W-G-N basso; Earl Wilkie, and Ray Charles.

James Melton.

Double casts will be used in this rollicking and romantic story of make-believe, set in the colorful Bulgaria of the last century. Fran Carlon and Olan Soule will take the speaking rôles of Nadina and Bummerli, respectively. They will be supported by an outstanding cast of actors.

Miss Claire is the star of this series of full hour operetta productions. James Melton, who was the guest star on last spring's production of "Bittersweet," came from New York for tonight's broadcast. The musical backdrop will be provided by the W-G-N Concert orchestra and ensemble. Henry Weber is the conductor and Robert Trendler the choral master. William A. Bacher is producer of the program.

LEADER OF LADIES OF ISABELLA DIES OF AUTO INJURIES

Mrs. Emma H. Wall Is Hit on Highway.

Mrs. Emma Huising Wall, 50 years old, who had been supreme grand lady of the Ladies of Isabella for 18 years, died yesterday in Elizabeth Condell Memorial hospital, Libertyville, of injuries suffered in an automobile accident Sunday. The Ladies of Isabella is a philanthropic organization.

Mrs. Wall and Sister Clare, directress of St. Mary of Providence institute, were walking along U. S. 12 near Mount Joseph, summer establishment of the Ladies of Isabella, north of Lake Zurich, when they were struck by an automobile. The driver was Lincoln Wyman, 1413 South 5th avenue, Maywood. Sister Clare also was seriously injured. Mrs. Wall lived at 4348 Washington boulevard.

Crash Kills Two Chicagoans.

Two Chicagoans were killed near Kenosha, Wis., yesterday in a truck-auto collision. Kenosha reports gave their names and Chicago addresses as Emory A. Wilson, 30 years old, of 4608 Elston avenue, and Mrs. Johanna Koch, 24, of 5203 Schubert avenue. Mrs. Koch's husband, Henry, 28, driver of the car, was injured seriously.

Mrs. Jeanette Verniere Donato, 47, of 5521 Van Buren street, died in St. Anne's hospital of injuries incurred Oct. 3 when she was struck by an automobile at Division street and Central avenue. The car then careened across the corner and smashed into a tavern. The driver, Miss Etta Klasky, 47, of 5614 Wayne avenue, was injured.

Collegian Dies of Injuries.

Joseph B. Kandra, 19, of Cleveland, O., was killed Thursday night when he was struck by an automobile when he and four other boys were walking along U. S. 34 east of Naperville in Du Page county. Kandra was a student at St. Procopius college at Lisle. The driver of the car was Joseph H. Bolin of Naperville.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 673 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 4. Of these, 493 were killed in Chicago, where 18,279 were injured in the same period.

SAFETY COURT SETS RECORD IN GUILTY FINDINGS

More cases were heard and more findings of guilty were entered in September than in any other month in the four year history of the Automobile Safety court, Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court reported yesterday. Judge Joseph B. Hermes, who sat there last month, heard 724 cases and found 231 persons guilty. Of those convicted, 68 lost their driving privileges for varying periods, 37 went to jail, and 23 were placed on probation.

EXTRACT ECONOMY PLEDGE FROM EIGHT COUNTY JOB SEEKERS

Eight candidates for county office have pledged to effect economies in their office, if elected, and have expressed their willingness to have independent surveys made to determine means of reducing expenditures.

This was announced yesterday by Tighe E. Wood, chairman of the property owners' bureau of the Chicago Real Estate board. The attitude of the candidates was expressed in answers to a letter sent by the board to the Republican and Democratic candidates for state's attorney, recorder of deeds, sanitary district trustee, coroner, and the clerks of the Probate, Superior, and Circuit courts.

Wood announced that replies had been received from the following: State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney [D.]; Judge Oscar Nelson, his Republican opponent; Circuit Clerk John E. Conroy [D.]; Coroner A. L. Brodie [D.]; Probate Clerk Frank E. Lyman [D.]; Gustav E. Beerly [R.], candidate for Superior court clerk; A. W. Komarek [R.], candidate for county recorder, and Raymond S. Blunt [R.], candidate for sanitary district trustees.

1939 REAL ESTATE ASSESSMENT LIST TO BE PUBLISHED

Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, and Maurice Kavanaugh, chairman of the finance committee, announced yesterday that the 1941 budget would include an appropriation for publishing and mailing the 1939 quadrennial real estate assessment to all taxpayers, as required by law.

The 1940 budget included only $20,000 for preliminary work because the final corrected assessments, from which the printed list is made, will not be ready until late this month. Assessor John S. Clark estimated the cost of publishing and mailing at $110,000. This will be the first list published since 1931.

The taxation committee of the City club in a statement yesterday said the list could be published and mailed for approximately $68,674, the cost in 1931.

Six Autoists Arrested for Driving Without Mufflers

Six motorists were arrested yesterday for driving automobiles, trucks, or motorcycles without cutout mufflers. Those arrested were: James Skillen, 4213 Princeton avenue; Ike Springer, 1517 South Central avenue; Ralph Fons, 2618 West 105th street; Robert Todd, 5118 Mango avenue; James Demes, 6330 Ingleside avenue; and Edward O'Neill, 4727 Michigan avenue.

CHARGES POLICE BRUTALITY AND WINS NEW TRIAL

A charge of police brutality won a new trial yesterday for Tony Santucci, 4122 McVicker avenue, who was convicted in 1938 as one of three men who robbed the Buena-Oaks hotel, 4301 Broadway, on May 6, 1938. The state Supreme court reversed the Criminal court conviction and ordered that in a new trial the police beating element be taken into consideration in determining the admissibility of Santucci's alleged confession.

The reviewing court decision says Santucci apparently was beaten by three policemen, Leonard J. Dalbert, Thomas Carroll, and Edward J. McNamara of the Gale avenue station when he was arrested. He was beaten a second time, the decision said, by Policeman Charles Todd.

"After such abuse by policemen it is obvious the defendant would be afraid to invite the further hostility and wrath of the officers by insisting he was innocent," says the opinion.

Brig. Gen. Abraham Gets Fort Sheridan Command

Brig. Gen. Clyde R. Abraham, inspector general of the Puerto Rican department, was assigned yesterday to duty at Fort Sheridan. Maj. Gen. Lloyd R. Fredendall, present commandant at the fort, goes to Fort Benning, Ga., Wednesday to take command of the 4th division. Gen. Abraham is assigned to the 5th division, as was Gen. Fredendall during his stay at Sheridan.

THE STORY OF THE BRITISH CASUALTIES.

Great Britain's casualty list, as disclosed in the Associated Press reports of official figures, is a revealing commentary on the war which started Sept. 3 a year ago. In killed, wounded, and missing the total is 59,577. The army lost 3,457 in killed and fatally wounded. It had 13,502 wounded, 3,267 missing, and 1,441 prisoners. The expeditionary force in France was reported at about 400,000.

The first units of the B. E. F. were landed in France from Sept. 9 to Oct. 5, 1939. The retreat to Dunkirk and the evacuation to England began May 29 and continued thru June 4, 1940. This period of eight months included the stalemate of winter and the battle of Flanders. The casualties presumably include also the men killed, wounded, and missing in the brief and futile Norwegian campaign.

The official figures would indicate that the British army has not as yet been engaged in any serious fighting. The stories of the tremendous action to protect the evacuation must be regarded as not relating to the British. Either the French stood off the Germans, or the Germans did not assail with the force and the fury attributed to their effort in the first accounts. Something of the French reproach that the British army did not pull its weight is conceded tacitly by the British lists.

Altho the French also complained that they could not get the British air force into action where and when it was needed, the R. A. F. has been fighting hard. It has lost in killed and fatally wounded 2,191. It has had some 711 wounded, 2,207 missing, and 300 known prisoners. Some of the missing may be prisoners and some of them dead. Altho the enlistments in the air force are not known, it is certainly true that the casualty lists represent a high percentage of the men in action. Britain has not fought the war as yet on land. It has been fighting it in the air.

Altho the navy has dominated the sea from the beginning, it has lost nearly as many dead as the army, 3,115, has 4,870 missing or prisoners, and only 1,986 wounded. The civilian casualties in dead are greater than those of the army and navy combined, being 8,500. There are nearly as many civilians reported wounded as there were army wounded. Mr. Churchill says that worse was expected than has happened. He says that the British population can take it, is taking it, and will take it.

The battle of Britain has gone back to old forms. The enemies are raiding and burning towns, as they did in the days of the early Edwards, of the French revolution, and the Napoleonic wars. The B. E. F. of 1939-'40 followed the footsteps of English armies of the Hundred Years' war, which landed at one port and fought their way home thru another. But the B. E. F. didn't happen upon anything like Crecy, Poitiers, or Agincourt.

BROOKS' WELCOME IN EGYPT.

Wayland Brooks, touring the southern Illinois coal fields in his campaign as Republican candidate for United States senator, has received an enthusiastic welcome from the miners. Edward Wilson, a TRIBUNE reporter, in a story from Marion Friday morning, reported that workmen who said they had been Democrats all their lives were going to vote for Brooks and the Republican ticket this time. Some of the comments by Franklin county miners about the Roosevelt régime were decidedly on the spicy side.

It is scarcely a surprise to find that miners of this state have turned against Mr. Roosevelt. They have been suffering more severely from the depression than any other group. This is because the New Deal has taken away a large part of the market for the product of their labor. The development of water power at public expense has reduced the demand for coal produced in Kentucky and Tennessee mines. This coal thereupon was sent to the markets formerly served by Illinois mines; because of lower labor costs, these mines were able to undersell the Illinois operators.

The Roosevelt régime hurt the Illinois coal miners in another way. A number of large manufacturers were on the point of locating plants in the middle west where they would become consumers of Illinois coal. The government offered to sell them power so cheaply that they built their plants down there.

Depressions came upon the corn belt farmers because the automobile displaced the horse. Gasoline supplanted oats as the fuel for locomotion. But that result came about in a free, competitive fight, and some horses are still being used advantageously. If the government offered to supply gasoline at 2 cents a gallon it would be clear that the government was intensifying the corn farmers' depression.

But exactly that is what the Roosevelt administration has done to the miners. Where the best informed engineers have found coal preferable to water power the government is subsidizing water power so that coal is displaced anyhow. Whenever hydro-electric juice is turned on, coal miners somewhere go on relief rolls. It has been estimated that when all the government's water power projects under construction are completed the services of 60,000 miners will be dispensed with. Government figures show that depression has been intensified for Illinois coal miners during the Roosevelt administration. And there can be no question but that specific New Deal acts were the cause.

CORN BELT LOSSES.

The latest of the government's crop forecasts, issued on Oct. 11, estimates that this country's corn crop in 1940 will total 2,352,000,000 bushels. The average yield over the last 10 years has been just under 2,300,000,000 bushels. This year's crop, therefore, is to be about 53,000,000 bushels larger than the average for the 10 year period.

That may be taken as the measure of success of the Roosevelt-Wallace curtailment program. Some people think it was a good idea to bribe the farmers to plant less corn and some people think it was a foolish idea, but no matter what the opinion on that point may be, the fact remains that the program hasn't worked. The aggregate production of corn is above average this year and was above average last year, as well.

Perhaps some corn belt farmer may rise at this point to ask what, then, is all the shooting about? Those who believe that crop curtailment would be injurious to the nation and to its farmers ought not to complain if the measures of curtailment are not effective.

The best answer to that question is provided by a study of the crop estimates, state by state. That shows that while the total corn production of the country is well above the 10 year average, the production in Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, and most of the other corn belt states this year is materially below the 10 year average. That means that in sections of the country which are best adapted to the growing of corn, the sections whose prosperity largely depends on corn, production control has been operative. At the same time competition from outside the corn belt has become a growing menace to the farmers of this region.

For example: the average crop in the last 10 years in Illinois has been 311,000,000 bushels. This year, when the national production is up, the production in Illinois is down to 307,000,000 bushels. In Indiana the disparity is even more striking. The 10 year average there is 152,000,000 bushels; this year's production is only 130,000,000 bushels. The same thing is true in Ohio, Nebraska, and Kansas. Iowa, the banner corn state, provides an exception, to be explained, perhaps, by favoritism on the part of Mr. Wallace for his home state or, perhaps, by a wider use there of his hybrid corn seed from which he reaps so fancy a profit.

But now look at Texas. The 10 year average of corn production there is 76,000,000 bushels. This year Texas will produce 94,000,000, an increase larger than 23 per cent. Or Oklahoma. The 10 year average there is 33,000,000 bushels; this year Oklahoma farmers will harvest 39,000,000, an 18 per cent increase. Or Minnesota. The 10 year average there is 138,000,000; this year the production is to be 162,000,000, up by 17 per cent. The losses in production within the corn belt have been more than made up outside the corn belt.

Mr. Wallace forced the Texas farmers, to choose one example, to restrict their cotton acreage, but placed no parallel restriction on their corn acreage. The limitation on corn planting was confined to the corn belt. Wherever they could do so, Texas farmers turned from cotton to corn. And, in consequence of all these regulations, everybody is worse off, and the farmers of the corn belt in particular.

TOMATO DEBUNKED.

The tomato in the days of our grandparents was known as the love apple. Then, as one writer has put it, "wise adolescents and adults knew its special virtue and so gave it the reputation of being poisonous to prevent young mouths from wasting the red pulp on the mere pleasure of eating."

After a time the tomato was generally discredited as a love charm. However, if there is a will to believe in the amorous effects of the juiciest vegetable, some facts could be deduced for an argument. Prof. C. C. Furnas, the Yale chemist, and his wife in their book entitled "Man, Bread, and Destiny" relate that the birth rate until 1933 was very low on St. Croix, one of the Virgin Islands. In that year tomatoes were introduced for commercial cultivation. As they were cheap the natives ate freely of them. And within a short time the birth rate rose and has ever since remained high.

However, the Furnases point out that this was not due to any aphrodisiac qualities in the tomato but to the improved health of the natives when, to a deficient diet consisting principally of cornmeal and fish, necessary vitamins were added.

Lest the publication of this piece might result in a panic in the tomato market, it should be pointed out that according to the United States department of agriculture the consumption of tomatoes in the United States has increased by more than 100 per cent since 1920. And yet the birth rate in the United States has gone down steadily and is at the lowest point in our history. Tomatoes constitute a most desirable item in any family's diet, but they are not entitled to be known as love apples.

Editorial of the Day

DRAFT FAVORITISM.

[Reno Evening Gazette.]

Wearing the shoulder straps of an army captain and drawing $200 a month, Elliott Roosevelt, 30 years old and son of the President, is entering upon his military duties at Wright field. In addition to his $200 a month salary, he will be given an office and $116 a month for rent and subsistence. Thus, while several hundred thousand other young American boys will be compelled to perform the laborious work about the army camps at $30 a month or less, the son of the President will occupy a comfortable office and "purchase supplies" for the aviation service.

Statements credited to young Roosevelt to the effect that he was not required to enlist and is exempt from the draft because he has a wife and two sons, are flatly denied by responsible army authorities and are contradicted by the draft law itself. No provision in the law exempts any young man within the draft age because he is married or has a family. There will be instances, no doubt, wherein the draft board will grant exemptions because of dependency, but where the drafted person is affluent such leniency will rarely be shown. And young Mr. Roosevelt would have a hard time proving his family would be left destitute.

With his customary vigor Gen. Hugh Johnson denounces this extraordinary elevation of young Mr. Roosevelt over the other young men of America as being "raw, hateful nepotism, favoritism, and unfair." It is all of that, and millions of young American boys, compelled to take a year out of their lives at $30 a month, while the President's son struts about in a captain's uniform without ever having learned the army business in the hard way, can never be convinced otherwise.

It certainly pays to be one of the Roosevelt dynasty.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

A PAGE OF GUTENBERG.

The dinner to celebrate the 500th anniversary of the art of printing from movable type, held in the Stevens hotel on Oct. 1 under the auspices of all Chicago organizations in the field, had a notable souvenir for distribution. This was a reproduction in scale and colors of a page from the Gutenberg 42 line Bible, the bright and morning star of "incunabula." If this were an original page, its value to collectors would run from $125 to $150.

The copy that has come into our possession, thru the courtesy of Douglas C. McMurtrie, general chairman of the celebration, will be framed as an ideal decoration for a room full of books. It has decided decorative value, for the illuminated capital letters and borders are fine examples of the monastic art with which the early printers embellished their work.

The first page of the Acts of the Apostles was selected for reproduction because of its elaborate illumination. It is printed in two columns. The first column is a noncanonical preface; the second contains the opening passages of the Latin translation of this book of the New Testament. The Latin is hard to read unless you are familiar with the system of contractions used by medieval manuscript writers, whose style was followed in the Gutenberg type font.

This Bible, the world's first important printed book, was planned and started in production by Johann Gutenberg, and was completed by his former partners, Johann Fust and Peter Schoeffer, in Mainz, Germany, in the year 1455 or thereabouts. It has 1,282 pages. Gutenberg's 36 line Bible, in which a larger type was used, is another highly prized relic of his vague but history making career. He seemed to have died in Mainz in 1468. No genuine portrait of Gutenberg has survived.

Spring in Masquerade.

Sentimentalists who sigh that fall is only a time of melancholy impress us as having marshmallow minds, sweet, soft, and sticky, not to say stale. October, seductively arrayed and as dangerous as a dimpled damsel bearing tribute, gives the lie to such pensive tommyrot.

The month is a time of merrymaking and movement, symbolized by swirls of impudent leaves chasing each other down the streets, football teams in furious combat, homecomings, hearty and even hectic caravans of color moving over hill and dale, and majestic migrations of birds.

October sees the blossoming of dozens of varieties of flowers. Cool winds go waving thru the corn while the dawns and evenings are as fresh as the frosts they encourage. If we must have sentiment let us drink to October in something stronger than cambric tea, and as we drink let us peer beneath her fetching masquerade and see her as she really is—Springtime returned, sunburned, saucy, sophisticated, and therefore a hundred times as intriguing as ever. Capture her fancy if you can! Newcomer.

O'Leary or Just Leary?

According to the old record books in the offices of the Chicago Title and Trust company the name of the family that owned the incendiary cow originally appeared as Leary. Now, was the name changed by the family, a reporter, or some poet, or song writer? Ward Monte.

[Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary could not write their own names. No wonder, therefore, that a clerk made an error.]

AT GRAND CANYON.

Upon Creation's rim I stand and gaze
Upon the fragments of an earlier world
Where once vague, prehistoric waters swirled.
I try to pierce the blue, primordial haze
That clings to cliff and canyon, and to raise
The curtain of the geologic past
And view the making of that chasm vast
When time flowed by in aeons, not in days.

Rose-tinted are the strata, orange, gold.
Sun-tinged the twisted river far below,
And as the amber of the afterglow
Melts into twilight, and the air grows cold,
I see, beyond our range of life and breath,
That awful, ageless beauty known as death.

HEALING TUBERCULOSIS A SLOW PROCESS.

A FEW weeks ago a correspondent wrote: "Can people with tuberculosis be cured? Every few months some one in our organization is sent away to a sanitarium."

Despite the fact that a generous amount of information on this disease is available, the right people may not be reached. We are forced to admit that the malady is still with us—enacting its tragic rôle.

Only recently I inspected the chest films of a young mechanical engineer. He had been strong all of his life and had paid but little attention to his health. An attack of influenza last March left him prostrated. Convalescence was slow, and a cough persisted—despite a gallon or two of "sirup." Scarcely able to last the day out, he returned to work, but was compelled to give up within a few weeks because of weakness. He now exhibits extensive destruction in both lungs.

This instance presents all the scenes in a true life drama. He is married, there are two children, and he supports his aged parents. I believe he can get well, but his period of invalidism will be far more prolonged than it would have been had his condition been recognized early.

We must recall that tuberculosis is a general infection and that the causative bacilli manufacture toxins—just like other germs—which disturb vital organs. Recovery is slow, as nature is called upon to heal tissues that are constantly on the move—with every breath. Like the storybook Indian, the ailment creeps upon one stealthily and without the slightest warning. No blare of trumpets heralds its onset. Even after "arrest" has been accomplished, a relapse can be prevented only by special precautions.

The first requirement is rest. Activity obliges us to inhale and exhale more rapidly and more deeply. This is just what we wish to avoid. A desirable situation is complete relaxation, with nothing to do and not a care in the world.

The reason we resort to pneumothorax [collapse of the lung] is because we wish to relieve a portion of the breathing apparatus of all work. If the procedure is employed it must be performed with great skill, as complications may ensue. Fluid may collect in the pleura and occasionally pus will appear.

This type of management must not be depended upon to shorten the interval of confinement in bed. While the contracted structure is freed from labor, healing may require many months and many repetitions of the treatment. If the sufferer improves without this artificial aid, so much the better. But many cannot, and it is of great benefit in certain cases. The physician who promises a cure in six months, or even a year, is scarcely playing fair. Several years may be demanded.

Should the patient go away? Yes, if he is not doing well where he is. Sometimes a change of environment will bring a rebirth of fighting forces. Visits of members of the family may leave disturbances behind—with problems of home or business intruding upon repose. Furthermore, calls on the part of uninformed individuals may work more harm than good. "You look fine—why don't you get up and go home?" is a senseless remark.

Fresh air cannot be overemphasized and many a victim who is gaining but slowly will make rapid progress when removed to an open air porch. Weather permitting, air baths are helpful, altho no direct sunlight should strike the skin.

The patient must be taught the proper coughing technique. Forceful expulsion may not only spread the bacilli but it is likely to cause involvement of the voice box. Restricting conversation will prevent the spread of infection to the larynx.

Patience is the master word in restoring health.

BLOOD PRESSURE LEVEL.

J. L. writes: Is it possible to have high blood pressure at 32 years of age?

REPLY.

Yes. There is a condition known as essential hypertension, the cause of which is a puzzle. If the levels are raised consistently the most careful medical management will be demanded.

OXYGEN IN MIGRAINE.

J. R. writes: Does breathing pure oxygen give relief in migraine?

REPLY.

It may help thru increasing the oxygen saturation of the blood.

LEWIS AGAIN IN CONTROL?

Astoria, Ill., Oct. 10.—John L. Lewis and his C. I. O.-NLRB combination are again jockeying our President into a blind alley. How will he get out this time?

By permitting his "defense program" to be tied up to only those companies which have been whipped into line by NLRB and the C. I. O., he has put Lewis in the position of "dictator" of defense. Has our President sold us down the river again for a campaign contribution?

Somebody will have to do some neat squirming and double-crossing to get that defense program out into the open again and carried on by our whole industry, rather than by a selected[?] few.

The New Deal has not and cannot coordinate our people, as its policies are un-American and foreign to us. It has brought confusion in our social life, in our business life, and in our methods of government. AN AMERICAN.

TWO TERMS ONLY.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—On Dec. 15, 1875, William M. Springer, Democratic Illinois congressman from the Springfield district, introduced in congress the following resolution which was adopted by a vote of 233 to 18:

"Resolved, That in the opinion of this house the precedent established by Washington and other Presidents of the United States in retiring from the Presidential office after their second term, has become, by universal consent, a part of our republican system of government, and that any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic, and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

This occurred when Gen. Grant's friends were urging his renomination for a third term; and the large affirmative vote which the resolution received, embracing within the number many of the leading Republicans of the United States, completely destroyed all hope of Gen. Grant's renomination.

WILLIAM M. SPRINGER.

COMPLAINT ABOUT HALLOWEEN.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—The dirty practice of smearing merchants' windows in celebration of Halloween started early this year—Sept. 25—and I wonder why we merchants have to tolerate it. It would disgust mothers if they had to clean their windows six or seven times a day for a month, scraping off the sticky stuff. Would it be too much to ask our mayor to issue an order forbidding this hoodlumish practice from now on?

It would be greatly appreciated by all merchants.

A DEALER, VOTER, AND TAXPAYER.

SMOKING THEM OUT.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Now that Fire Prevention week has made us all fire conscious, will some kindly soul give me a cure for a smoking stoker? Smoke belches out of it every time it goes into operation.

Repair men have tried to fix it or find a cause for the belching, but have not succeeded. The landlord does not seem to care. My apartment is full of coal gas most of the time. What effect will this have on the health of the occupants? Or is moving the best cure for it?

DISGUSTED TENANT.

UNEQUALED FOR SLANDER.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Reading Chicago's only morning paper becomes an increasingly unpleasant experience. For slander of our President you have no equal. It is obvious that you must consider Willkie a weak man to need such building up, and President Roosevelt a strong one to need such tearing down.

Especially does it make decent persons' blood boil to see your disparaging items regarding such a lovely, unselfish lady as Mrs. Roosevelt.

Your methods are childish, particularly your cartoons. More particularly, the one of Mr. Roosevelt dressed as a child running to Uncle Sam, saying "Whee! I've made you another enemy!" Pathetic! Even school children know Japan has been an enemy of the United States for more than a quarter century, perhaps longer. They only dared come out in the open when Hitler backed them up. Just an example.

It should seem absurd to accuse a newspaper the size of THE TRIBUNE of fifth column propaganda. Yet stranger things have happened. Doing all you can to defeat preparedness and to influence the masses that such preparedness is "war mongering" is undoubtedly playing right into Hitler's hands. It is apparent to even the most unthinking that war is coming to us and we had better be ready if we don't want all [including the editor of THE TRIBUNE] to be saying "Hell, Hitler" or worse. JANE C.

IN "TERMS OF DOLLARS."

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 9.—Further in regard to the railroad labor vote: I am a retired railroad employé and see no reason why Mr. A. F. Whitney should tell me how to vote.

In reviewing the wages paid railroad employés, I find they were paid $4,465,604,688 MORE in the six years preceding the New Deal [1927 to 1932 inclusive] than they were during the first six years of the New Deal [1933 to 1938 inclusive].

Further, I find that the Baltimore and Ohio railroad established the first railroad pension system away back in the "horse and buggy days," in 1884, during a Republican administration, while the present third term candidate was still wearing diapers.

Further, I find that over 90 per cent of the nation's railroad employés were covered by pensions prior to 1933, and that over 50 railway companies established pension systems during Republican administrations.

While we hear periodically about "those who think in TUMS of DOLLAWS rather than humanity," it would appear that many of our business executives were thinking in terms of humanity and common sense, as well as dollars, long before the New Deal was conceived, and while its chief progenitor was still a PLAY BOY at HAVAWD. A. B. C.

POLLS A RACKET?

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Since neither I nor any of my friends have ever been able to find any one who has been asked to vote in the Gallup or other polls, we begin to think that the vote takers stay pretty close to the city hall, county building, and relief stations in order to get the percentages desired. One begins to wonder if these polls are not a racket, or worse still, clever propaganda to influence voters. Some people like to vote for the apparent winner. JASPER F. ROMMEL.

"WHYS" AND SOME ANSWERS.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Headlines: Communist Party Barred from Ballot." Why? So they can vote for Roosevelt.

Headlines: "England and U. S. A. Continue Negotiations; May Include Russia."

Why? To make America strong, do you voters want to be a captain, too, or just a comrade? VIOLA A. MCATEE.

MR. TYDINGS EATS CROW.

Freeport, Ill., Oct. 10.—So Senator Tydings of Maryland has come out for Mr. Roosevelt! It seems only yesterday that Mr. Tydings, stung by the attempted purge, gave his opinion of Mr. Roosevelt and his administration in these words:

"What do you think of a great democratic government, the largest and richest in the world, which in a great national emergency says we must have 50 to 100,000 airplanes, when we are tripling the size of our fleet . . . and yet cannot raise even enough money to pay for its ordinary running expenses, without a dollar going to the army and navy? Do you think that a party or an administration can go before the country if these facts are known, and hope to be sustained? If it can be sustained in the face of these facts, in my judgment all our efforts are futile, for democracy is gone."

And now, after those brave words, the senator from Maryland comes out for Mr. Roosevelt. Poor old Tydings, with your craw full of crow, how crestfallen you must be! However, you have the poor consolation of knowing that the federal patronage to the state of Maryland will, if Mr. Roosevelt is reëlected, still flow thru your hands.

JUDGMENTS.

Maywood, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—

1. Will you please give me information concerning judgments? How long may they be kept alive?

2. What procedure does one use to keep a judgment alive?

3. Does the debtor receive any notice of the status of a judgment? That is, if a period of years runs against it, how does one know whether the judgment is still outstanding against him?

4. If a transcript is filed in another county, what is the status of the transcript over a period of years?

5. The specific circumstances of which I am writing is of a judgment secured in August, 1933, for $271.20, and a transcript was filed in May, 1937.

6. Please advise whether the statute of limitations runs against fraud.

7. In this instance forgery and the cashing of the check by a director of a bank without the indorsement of the payee—the check clearing thru the bank without evidence of its having ever been paid, but the funds being charged out of the account. This occurred while my brother was very ill, and was not discovered until several years after his death. The director in the bank was the one who forged the check. I did not state this clearl, above. G. H.

1. If execution is issued during the first year, then the judgment lien continues for 7 years. At the end of the 7 years it can be renewed by service of new papers. The judgment itself is not barred short of 20 years.
2. Service of what is called a Sci. Fa.
3. See 2.
4. Same.
5. It is presumably a lien.
6. Depends on all the facts.
7. The limitation period as to prosecution for the forgery would be three years.

GOV. HORNER'S ESTATE SET AT $50,000 IN WILL

Charity, Secretary, Kin Are Beneficiaries.

The will of Gov. Henry Horner, disposing of an estate estimated at $50,000, was filed yesterday with Frank Lyman, clerk of the Probate court. Personal property valued at $40,000 and real estate listed at $10,000 make up the estate, according to Attorney Herbert M. Lautmann.

The estimate was considered conservative. Judge John F. O'Connell set the hearing to prove the will for Nov. 14 in the Probate court.

The inventory did not include the late governor's fine collection of Lincolniana, for which he was known nationally and which he previously had given to the state. Some recommendations concerning it were included in the will, however.

Gives $5,000 to Charity.

The two largest monetary bequests were for $5,000 each: one to charity, the agency to be selected by the executors, and the other to Mrs. James V. Cornwall, for many years the governor's secretary.

Two brothers, James Levy and Sidney Horner, were given a life interest in the real estate, described as a building at 235 South Wabash avenue. Bequests of $500 each were left to the children of 11 cousins. The residue, after payment of debts, expenses, and distribution of gifts, will go to two cousins, Robert E. Straus and Henry Horner Straus. Gov. Horner never married.

The will was drawn May 27, 1939, more than 16 months before the governor's death last Sunday. It was witnessed by Attorney Lautmann, Mrs. Nellie Cross, an employé, and United States Senator James M. Slattery, who was a guest at the executive mansion. Executors are a cousin, Robert Straus; his father, Eli M. Straus, and the brother, James Levy.

Tells Affection for Friends.

"I desire to make known," said one provision of the document, "that there are many friends and relatives whose valuable services, loyalty, and friendship I should like to recognize as beneficiaries of my estate were it sufficiently large to enable me to make substantial bequests to each of them in keeping with my affection for them."

The Lincolniana collection of more than 6,000 items, valued at $75,000, already has been delivered to the Illinois State Historical library. The will suggests purchase of certain material to fill out the collections of that library, the Chicago Historical society, and the library of the University of Illinois.

It suggests also that if there are items in the Horner collection that duplicate items already held by these libraries, they be sold and the proceeds be used to purchase other Lincolniana.

TWO MEN KILLED BY PARALYSIS AS INFECTION WANES

Infantile paralysis took the lives of two men Thursday, one in Cook county hospital and the other near Harvard in McHenry county, it was learned yesterday. The Cook county death was that of Carl Ahrens, 33 years old, manager of a Hinsdale meat market, who was stricken Wednesday. He was taken to the county contagious disease hospital and placed in an iron lung.

The second death was that of Clarence McComb, 28, a farmer living in Lawrence, a village four miles west of Harvard. He became critically ill on Oct. 4 and was placed in an iron lung taken from Park Ridge. McComb appeared to gain, but the strain proved too much for his heart.

Records at the board of health show that there have been 111 cases of infantile paralysis and five deaths from it in Chicago since Jan. 1, compared with 73 cases and 5 deaths in the same period last year. Health officials say they believe the danger period has passed and that from now on the number of cases will decline steadily.

COLUMBUS DAY CEREMONIES TO BE HELD TODAY

Chicago will observe Columbus day today with commemorative ceremony and festivity.

A program recalling the voyage of the Santa Maria and her sister vessels to the new world 448 years ago will be conducted by four posts of the American Legion at 2 p. m. at the Christopher Columbus monument in Grant park, Roosevelt road and Columbus drive. Eliodor Libonati, state Americanization chairman of the Legion, will speak.

The annual Columbus day dinner dance of the Order of the Sons of Italy will be held this evening in the Stevens hotel. Judge Felix Forte of Boston, Mass., national president of the order, will speak.

Banks, the Chicago Stock exchange, the Board of Trade, the Mercantile exchange, and courts and clerks' offices in the County building will be closed for the holiday.

VAL NOLAN, U. S. ATTORNEY, DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11 [Special]. —Val Nolan, United States attorney here for the last seven years and a trustee of Indiana university, died of a heart ailment in a hospital today. Death came only a few hours after he was stricken. He was 48 years old.

Nolan was widely known for prosecution of WPA fraud cases in which prominent Indianapolis persons, including a banker, were indicted. He also had conducted inquiries into the Democratic 2 per cent slush fund scandal in Indiana.

His widow, Jeannette Covert Nolan, is a writer of children's books. Two sons and a daughter also survive.

OBITUARIES

Joseph E. Buker.

Joseph E. Buker, railroad supply executive and yachtsman, died yesterday afternoon in his apartment at the Blackstone hotel. Mr. Buker was vice president and a director of the Vapor Car Heating company for 30 years. Formerly he was an official in the mechanical department of the Illinois Central railroad. For three years Mr. Buker was commodore of the Mackinac Island Yacht club. He was a member of the Chicago Yacht and the Illinois Athletic clubs. A son, Edward, and a grandson survive. Services will be held Monday at 10:30 a. m. in the First Presbyterian church, 64th street and Kimbark avenue.

Francis D. Roberts.

Funeral services for Francis Drake Roberts, an assistant cashier for the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, will be held at 2 p. m. today in the Church of the Advent, Logan boulevard and Francisco avenue. Mr. Roberts, who had been with the gas company for 38 years, died Thursday in his home at 2435 North Washtenaw avenue. He was born in England. Mr. Roberts was for many years a choirmaster and organist in Episcopal churches of Chicago. His widow, Lucile; a son, Jack D., and a brother, Wilbur D. Roberts, survive.

Robert R. Elliott.

Funeral services for Robert R. Elliott, father of George H. Elliott, Chicago hide merchant, will be held at 2 p. m. today in the chapel at 1567 Maple avenue, Evanston. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery. Mr. Elliott died Wednesday in Kansas City, Mo., where he had made his home for the last 50 years after leaving Coulterville, Ill. He was 83 years old. In addition to George H. Elliott, he is survived by his widow, Margaret, and another son, R. C. Elliott of Salt Lake City, Utah.

John E. Northup.

Funeral services for John E. Northup, former first assistant state's attorney, who died Thursday, will be held at 3:30 p. m. today in the chapel at 318 North Central avenue. There will be a private ceremony in Forest Home cemetery. Mr. Northup was 72 years old. His widow, Elizabeth, a daughter, Dorothy; two sisters, and a brother survive. The Northup home is at 161 North Menard avenue.

Prof. Vito Voterra.

ROME, Oct. 11 (AP).—Prof. Senator Vito Voterra, 80 years old, noted biologist and world war director of the Italian bureau of inventions, died of a heart attack today. He had taught in the United States at Clark university, Rice institute, the University of Illinois, Princeton, California, and Chicago.

James Spottswood.

New York, Oct. 11 (AP). — James Spottswood, 56 years old, character actor of Broadway, films, and radio, died today. He appeared in many stage plays, including "The Deluge," "Parlor, Bedroom, and Bath," and more recently in the Theater guild production of "Our Town."

Vice Admiral Adolf von Trotha.

BERLIN, Oct. 11 (AP).—Vice Admiral Adolf von Trotha, 72 years old, chief of staff of the German high seas fleet in the battle of Jutland, died today. From March, 1919, until his retirement from the navy he was chief of the Reichs Bund for Sea Equality.

Court Gives Father Baby, But Wife Pursues Them

New York, Oct. 11 (AP).—Robert L. Boylen of Kansas City, Mo., fled down state Supreme court steps today with his 2 year old daughter, Jacqueline Shannon, in his arms and his wife at his heels demanding that the child be given to her. Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew awarded the girl to Boylen on his contention that Mrs. Boylen had left their home with the child last August and that every effort to communicate with her had been "frustrated." Boylen took the baby into a waiting taxi and Mrs. Boylen followed in another. Apparently the second taxi was outdistanced. The Boylens were married in 1935.

JEWS OBSERVE ATONEMENT DAY OF YOM KIPPUR

Ushered in with a solemn blast of the shofar, the ceremonial ram's horn, Yom Kippur, or day of atonement, was observed thruout the world yesterday by members of the Jewish faith. This is regarded as the most sacred day in the Hebrew calendar. Yom Kippur marks the culmination of the days of penitence following Rosh Hashana, the feast of the New Year.

In conformity with the scriptural injunction, "Ye shall afflict your souls," it is customary to abstain from all food and drink 24 hours, afflicting the soul being traditionally interpreted as the Biblical synonym for fasting. A large taper burns continuously during these 24 hours in memory of the departed.

Kol Nidre, meaning "all vows" is the principal chant used in the synagogue liturgy on Yom Kippur. It is formal abrogation of all vows made under emotional strain, and is intended to guard against oaths, which may remain unfulfilled thru negligence, between a man's conscience and his Creator.

Treasure Island, off Nassau, where John T. McCutcheon took his bride, the former Evelyn Shaw, 23 years ago, will be the address of today's bride and bridegroom for the next month.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hutchins' younger daughter and the son of Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson and the late Mr. Ryerson will repeat their wedding vows at 4 o'clock in the Fourth Presbyterian church, the Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson officiating. A reception will follow at the Astor street home of the bride's parents.

The bride will be attended by her sister, Mrs. John J. Borland II., as matron of honor. The bridesmaids will be the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. George W. W. Brewster Jr. of Boston; the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Chauncey Keep Hutchins, a cousin of the bride, Miss Mary Gardner; Miss Mary Adams, Miss Grace Shumway, Mrs. Philip D. Armour IV., Miss Sally Perry, Miss Nancy Orr, Miss Mary Ryerson, the bridegroom's cousin; Miss Joan Sanger of New York, and Miss Sally Reed of Dedham, Mass., formerly of Chicago.

Leslie Wheeler Will Be Mr. Ryerson's Best Man.

Leslie Wheeler will be best man for Mr. Ryerson. Ushering will be Mr. Hutchins, Mr. Borland, Mr. Brewster, James G. K. McClure Jr. of Fairview, N. C., and Edward L. Ryerson III., both cousins of the bridegroom; Charles Spalding, John A. King Jr., David Wilhelm, John Coleman Jr., William Borland, Robert Hagey, Edward Carpenter of Mount Kisco, N. Y., and George Swope.

The Donald Frosts, who have come from their home in Boston for their nephew's marriage, are giving a luncheon today with Mrs. Frost's brothers and sisters-in-law, the Edward L. Ryersons and the Joseph T. Ryersons, at the latters' home.

Other out of town guests are the bride's aunt, Mrs. Charles J. Biddle, who has come from her home in Philadelphia with her son, Henry Keep; the Philip Reeds of Dedham, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dodge of Philadelphia.

Mr. Ryerson and his bride will reside in Lake Forest.

Miss Patricia Dobson and John W. Clarke Wed Today.

Lace that trimmed the court dress her late paternal grandmother, Mrs. James Brennan Dobson, wore for Queen Victoria's silver jubilee, will form the headdress Miss Patricia Dobson will wear this afternoon when she becomes the bride of John W. Clarke at 4:30 o'clock in the Winnetka Congregational church. The Rev. Samuel D. Harkness will officiate. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Desmond Dobson of Evanston, will give a reception at the Exmoor Country club following the ceremony.

Miss Hermona Clarke, the bridegroom's sister, will be maid of honor, and Mrs. George A. Bates will serve as matron of honor. Miss Alice L. Schuneman, Mrs. John Alden Sears of Beloit, Wis., and Mrs. Frederick Tuttle Williams will be bridesmaids.

Will Reside in Evanston After Month's Wedding Trip.

E. L. Gates Jr. of Indianapolis will be best man for his cousin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley L. Clarke, also of Evanston. The ushers will be Jackson B. Waterbury of St. Louis, Charles E. Blomgren Jr., John Peter Starbuck of New York City, John F. Wallace, Philip Foote of Philadelphia, Richard Goff of Adrian, Mich., and Roderick Clark.

Among the out of town guests here for the wedding are the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Benton Heaton of St. Louis; her aunt, Mrs. H. Alfred Fowler of Kansas City, and Mrs. Harold D. Sturtevant of Whitehall, Mich.

After a month's wedding trip Mr.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

If there's one thing we envy the "glamor girls" it's their ability to wear—quite appropriately—the lovely, distinctive hair ornaments that are so important this season. O, to lead the kind of life that demands one beautiful evening ensemble, complete even to hair whimsies, after another!

We got pretty wistful about it all when we viewed the beauties that have recently arrived here. A grand collection if ever you saw one. Imports are few, as you might expect, but the American offerings are the kind that make you feel we can do nicely.

◆

Some metal black eyed Susans, for example. You can't imagine how pretty they look tucked into brown or gold hair. The center, of black enamel, is about the size of a nickel; the perky petals are gold colored. Each flower is mounted on a hair pin. You can use one, two, or half a dozen in any little arrangement that suits your face, your hairdress or your fancy!

Then, in line with the siren fashion, there is a beguiling butterfly in black sequins. It's delicate, quivery and a dramatic foil for fair hair. There's another dramatic little offering for gold or white hair, a comb with a black velvet back, adorned with two little ornaments in black sequins. And, if you're blonde, consider some little tufts of shiny black feathers, mounted on bone hair pins.

Here's Popular Garb for Sports Spectators

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Gertrude Smith, left, and Miss Nathalie De Clerque, wearing the sort of clothes that will be popular with feminine sports enthusiasts all week-end. Miss Smith's plaid wool frock and furred hat and Miss De Clerque's tweed suit and suede bonnet would be perfect at this afternoon's football game in Dyche stadium; at today's dog show at the Onwentsia club; at the springer field trials in Dunes Park today and tomorrow, or at the Oakbrook Polo club's last polo matches of the season tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Oct. 11. — Talk at Chasen's last night got around to the irresistible urge an actor sometimes gets to do something different—an urge that usually coincides with said actor being a little high.

Mayo Methot recalled a stock player who — it was in early prohibition days—drank nothing but lilac toilet water, which gave him a beautiful edge and a lovely aroma. He was playing the father in "Way Down East" one night with one of these aromatic buns on, and the time came to toss Mayo out into the paper snow storm. Instead of flinging open the door, the fellow said, "Siddown. Yer not going out on a night like thish!" Despite frantic promptings and wigwags from the rest of the cast he stuck to his notion that the weather was too horrible, and they had to ring down the curtain.

◆

George Murphy remembered the toughest crisis in his stage career. He was touring with "Hold Everything," in which he and another actor had a prize fight scene. "We had a minute and 20 seconds of routine and then I was to knock him out," said George. "One Saturday between a matinée and an evening he got high. That night we put on our fight and when our routine was over he didn't fall. 'This time I win,' he said. I kept sparring and argued with him under my breath, but he said 'I win this time.' I was in a panic until I got an idea. I whispered, 'Look out behind you!' and he turned his head and I clipped him a beauty right on the button. It floored him and we went on from there okay."

◆

Which prompted Ed McNamara to tell of Moffat Johnston, the Scot, and two mellow fellows at the Players' bar in New York some years ago. The pair were in a poetic mood, discussing the beauties of Honolulu and the conversation made Johnston a little sick. Whenever Johnston wanted no part of anything he'd stand at the end of the bar and, like an ostrich, turn his face to the wall.

He stood that way for half an hour, while one of the boys up the line worked up a regular Maxfield Parrish phrase-painting of the beach at Waikiki and how it was a symphony of sight. "Maybe so," finally countered the other, "but remember—wherever the white man has gone, that marks the beginning of the downfall of a country."

At this Johnston turned away from the wall and addressed the speaker. "Ye have something there," he soberly agreed. "They domn near ruined Scotland!"

◆

Peter Lorre has a beautiful new set of teeth, but may have to have the old tusks duplicated for film work. . . . Chances for a new film career look good for Ann Pennington, following views of her work in Republic's "Texas Terror." . . . Billy Jones, stunt man, says "Shepherd of the Hills" will be his last acting job. He's going to devote himself to writing, as his elder brother, the late Grover Jones, always wanted him to do. . . . Jimmy Van Heusen is here to do a song for "Road to Zanzibar."

Ovations Greet Fortune Gallo Brand of Opera

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The city's opera addicts, who had been deprived of their stimulant for 10 long months, went raging into the Auditorium theater last night. They were hungry for fainting sopranos, heroic tenors, bluff baritones, and everything else that goes to make up the operatic feast. They came determined to like everything.

And that was not difficult. Fortune Gallo's San Carlo Opera company, which is with us now for a 17 day, 20 performance engagement, deals in a brand of opera which, unpretentious tho it may be, has a vigor and a friendliness and an infectious quality all its own. Last night's patrons had both opportunity and justification for a long series of ovations.

◆

The piece was Verdi's "La Traviata." Conductor Carlo Peroni moved it along at a smart pace and made the most of the exhilarating meters in which the first act, especially, is so rich. And under his skilled hand the broader melodies of the second act seemed to flower of themselves into their exceedingly lovely shapes.

Lucille Meusel, the Violetta of the cast, was responsible for a good part of the evening's enchantment. She sang her more desperate pages with a voice quality that was bleak and luminous at the same time, if you can imagine such a thing, and she achieved often a really tremendous expressive power. Her fireworks at the end of the first act had a genuinly bravura quality.

◆

To Dimitri Onofrei—he of the impassive countenance and the wistful, hornlike voice—went the rôle of Alfredo. His was a grave and thoughtful note amid all the whoopie of the first act.

The part of Alfredo's father was sung by Ivan Petroff, a good, dignified artist who dealt understandingly with the music allotted to him and who enjoyed his own private ovation at the end of the "Di Provenza il Mar." By the way, no baritone within memory has achieved so pained an expression as Mr. Petroff did in the second act. Since there was nothing in Miss Meusel's singing to justify it, one could only conclude that it was the result of his own deep absorption in the unhappy plot.

Everything about the San Carlo Opera company seems more vivid this season. The characters do more acting; the chorus sings louder. Even makeup, always remarkable enough, is this year profiting by an extra layer of rouge.

Hilda Kosta, not Marie Powers as originally scheduled, will sing the title rôle of "Carmen" this afternoon.

Gift Is Sent Algonquin for Use Next Summer

The Tribune Charities yesterday received a gift of $25 from the Harriett Sayer Trust fund to be placed in the Camp Algonquin fund for next summer. Algonquin, a Fox river vacation camp for needy mothers and children, is operated by the United Charities with the financial aid of TRIBUNE readers.

Front Views and Profiles

By June Provines

Outpost of Bohemianism.

Probably the last outpost of Bohemianism in Chicago is an organization called the Seven Arts club, which meets weekly on the third floor of a hall on North Dearborn street. The Bohemian era in Chicago, during which poets read their works in tearooms and speakeasies, young women wore smocks and long, dangling rings, young couples moved into garage and carriage house apartments, painted the floor red and invited friends in to sit on the floor and listen to poetry by candlelight, has long since gone. The Seven Arts club carries on in the Dill Pickle club tradition, with speakers and hecklers, and a varied audience of members and novelty seekers from conservative neighborhoods. Doc Ben Reitman, hobo king, sociologist, and author, a holdover from the Dill Pickle club days, is a habitué. E. Buckland Plummer, an Englishman, who rarely is heckled, so dazzling is his oratory; the Sheridan brothers, Jack and Jim, both of them soapbox orators and experienced hecklers; Triphammer Johnson, with a walrus mustache, a north Minnesota accent, and a booming voice; Bert Weber, red-cheeked poet laureate of Bughouse square, who shouts his poems to audiences, and Box Car Bertha, other name unknown, are among the figures at Seven Arts club meetings. Morris Levin, blind, gray-haired orator of soapbox fame, is another frequenter. Head man is Pastor Ed Clasby, trained for the ministry and possessor of a gift for oratory.

Meetings open with the singing of the club's theme songs, The Pig Got Up and Walked Away and Oil in My Lamp. Our scout adds the meetings have a commercial tinge, too. Four bits to get in.

◆

Giver.

The most heartwarming story of the week concerns a one-armed man who sells fruit at the corner of La Salle and Quincy. He arrived at his post at 7:30 a. m. as usual last Tuesday, and at 8:30 he approached the worker for the Chicago Children's Benefit league to drop a coin in her box.

"My first sale," he told her.

Cuff Notes.

Geoffrey Shakespeare, member of the British parliament, junior cabinet minister, and chairman in charge of the evacuation of British children, who will speak to children in America from England on the same radio program with Princess Elizabeth Sunday evening, is a brother of Mrs. Donald S. McWilliams of Winnetka. Mrs. McWilliams herself speaks over a radio every Sunday afternoon at 2:30 on a program called Three International Ladies (with Princess Marina Wolkonsky and Blanche Mason Tellis).

Good Morning!

The world—HIS world—is filled with music when a good man dies. . . . Music that awakens a different response in the heart of each one who has known him. . . . For some it is just a sad, sweet refrain; for some, surging, nostalgic reminder of "the touch of a vanished hand, the sound of a voice that is still." But to others it is marching music! Music that says thru every reverberation, thru every drumbeat, in the beloved, remembered tones:

◆

"You and I have marched together in the past—and what a swell time we had doing it! Now, you march FOR me—that I can SEE you marching, and be proud of the part I once had in your brave parade—and in you!"

"It's marching music that goes on in the world Knute Rockne left. Challenging, inspirational music! His legacy to the youth he loved.

The life of this greatest of coaches unreels engrossingly with the hero strongly and sympathetically impersonated by Pat O'Brien, whose intensive study of the character he portrays has resulted in the finest piece of work this actor has ever done. . . . His makeup is so cleverly achieved that he bears the most striking resemblance to Rockne without entirely obliterating O'Brien.

◆

The story starts with Rockne's childhood in Norway and follows him thru his hardships and triumphs in America, highlighting important events.

You learn how the 7 year old Knute became football conscious . . . how he earned the money for his college tuition, loading mail at the Chicago postoffice. . . . Of his years at Notre Dame—where his brilliance in chemistry first won him attention.

His roommate, Gus Dorais, and he become fast friends. . . . It is the famous Dorais to Rockne pass—practiced while the boys are working as lifeguards during the summer—which brings Notre Dame into the limelight, in the memorable game that witnessed the defeat of the mighty Army.

◆

This and more is history with which many of you are familiar. . . . I wonder tho—do you know how Rockne got his idea for the back field shift which introduced the dramatic "Four Horsemen" to the world?

Against the colorful background of gridiron achievements are the quiet embroideries of Rockne's happy home life and his personal contact with teachers and boys. You'll not soon forget the scenes circling about him and the great George Gipp.

The finale is tremendously affecting.

Bulwarking Mr. O'Brien's fine presentation are masterly characterizations by Donald Crisp as Father John Callahan, C. S. C.; Albert Basserman as Father Nieuwland, and Ronald Reagan as "The Gipper." . . . Gale Page is appealing as gentle, self effacing, understanding Mrs. Rockne.

Music by the Moreau Choir of Notre Dame lends a rich touch.

No picture was ever better directed. None will ever appeal more hotly to the best that lies in Americans, young or old, than "Knute Rockne—All-American."

See you tomorrow.

Lutherans Plan New University on Chicago Site

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Dr. Armin G. Weng.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 11 [Special].—Chicago may become the world center of higher Lutheran learning thru the early establishment there of a national Lutheran university.

The general outline of the plan for the proposed university was disclosed today before the Illinois Synod delegation to the twelfth biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church of America by the Rev. Dr. Armin George Weng, president of the Illinois synod. He said the plan had emerged after consultation with leaders of the National Lutheran council and educational leaders of various other Lutheran groups.

Dr. Weng asserted international conditions have either cut off access to graduate studies in formerly great Lutheran universities in continental Europe or have impaired their usefulness. He added that if Lutheranism in America is to achieve its full American stature, a great educational center is a first requirement.

◆

"Chicago," said Dr. Weng, "is probably the greatest Lutheran center in the country, and it may now be the strongest in the world. No one to whom the plan has been outlined questions Chicago's strategic geographical location for such an institution.

"Beyond this, Chicago is now noted thruout the world as a principal educational center, with two universities holding membership in the Association of American Universities. No other city in America has this distinction."

Unique to the program, which has been designed to offer educational cooperation to all American branches of Lutheranism, is the fact that only graduate work would be offered by the new university. Dr. Weng explained. He added that four year college courses are offered by Lutheran colleges thruout the nation.

◆

"These colleges are where they belong," said Dr. Weng. "Lutheran education, in general, is committed to the principle of the small liberal arts college for the student's first four years. The national university will be organized in large part to strengthen the local liberal arts college, and there has long been a question in the minds of educators whether the undergraduate student has a real place on the campus of a great university where graduate, professional, and vocational subjects are the chief emphasis."

Jay Berwanger and Philomela Baker to Wed

Miss Philomela Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cuyler Baker of Dorchester avenue, will become the bride of John Jay Berwanger at 8 o'clock tonight in the Bond chapel on the University of Chicago campus, with the Rev. Herbert Prince officiating.

Mrs. Robert Bethke of New York, the former Patricia Davis of Kenilworth, at whose marriage a year ago Miss Baker was bridesmaid, will be the only attendant. Paul Berwanger will be his brother's best man. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Berwanger of Dubuque, Ia. Mr. Berwanger and his daughters, the Misses Eleanor, Dorothy, and Elizabeth Berwanger, all are here for the wedding.

Ushering will be William Haarlow, Richard Cochran, Robert Upton, and John Baker, all classmates of Mr. Berwanger's at the University of Chicago.

Mr. Berwanger and his bride, who will reside on the south side, will take a short trip now and go to Havana in December.

The James Lewis Krafts' daughter, Edith Lucille, and Howell Benjamin Hardy, son of Mrs. L. P. Hardy of Pensacola, Fla., will be married at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the North Shore Baptist church, the Rev. A. G. Adams, uncle of the bride, officiating. A reception will follow at the Kraft home in Wilmette.

Miss Kraft's attendants include Miss Mollie O'Daniel, daughter of Texas' governor, Lee O'Daniel, who will be a bridesmaid. Mrs. George Edwards will be the matron of honor. The other bridesmaids are Mrs. Robert Adams, Miss Ethel Kraft of London, and Miss June Mauland. Frank Hardy of Pensacola will be best man. There will be two little flower girls and a ring bearer, Joan Blackburn, Mary Pratt Dawson and William Kenneth Platt.

Church Fete

MRS. JOHN M. LEE.

The Tabernacle guild of St. Giles' church in Oak Park will give its annual card party Monday afternoon in the Palmer House. A large committee of officers and members are planning the fête, interest in which extends far beyond the parish. One of the most active workers is the guild president, Mrs. John M. Lee, 1022 Woodbine avenue, Oak Park.

When Miss Marjorie Paschen, daughter of the Henry Paschens of Fullerton parkway, marries Robert Lincoln O'Neil at the Georgian hotel in Evanston at 8:30 o'clock tonight, the neck of her ivory satin gown will be fastened with her grandmother's diamond and gold pin.

Miss Elizabeth Paschen will attend her sister as maid of honor. Miss Barbara Whitney of Larchmont, N. Y., Miss Joan Dixon and Miss Elizabeth Stahr of Chicago, will be her bridesmaids.

Mr. O'Neil's brother, Edward, will be best man, Donald O'Neill of Madison, Wis., John Buckley and John Murphy will be ushers. Miss Paschen's young brother, Buzzy, will serve as junior usher.

A reception will be held in the hotel immediately after the ceremony. After a two weeks' trip to New Orleans and Biloxi, Mr. O'Neil and his bride will be at home at 2315 Commonwealth avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ehler F. Kath of Winnetka announce the marriage yesterday of their daughter, Verna Ann, to John Wyndham Channer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Adare Channer of Winnetka.

Mrs. Ethel Christensen, 7157 S. Bennett avenue, announces the marriage today of her daughter, Betty, to Fred K. Ross, son of Mrs. E. E. Anderson, 6860 South Ridgeland avenue, and H. N. Ross of Birmingham, Ala. The wedding will take place in the Bryn Mawr church. Mr. Ross and his bride will be at home at the Cyrill Court Apartment hotel after they return from a wedding trip.

The Borrowed Cottage

By Alice Campbell

[Copyright: 1940: By Alice Campbell.]

SYNOPSIS.

Rowan Wilde, an American girl, goes to the isolated cottage of Hazel Fordyce, in England, to do some studying. Arriving at night she is frightened by footsteps. Investigating, she finds a dead man in a closet. As she rushes from the house, she runs into 32 year old Stephen Smedley, who she later learns is a publisher who has come to the country for a rest and lives in an old chapel near her cottage. Rowan tells Stephen her story and he goes off to get his car. When he fails to return Rowan starts out searching for him and stumbles upon him prostrate. Helping him into the house, he collapses on the sofa. Rowan leaves him and goes to her bedroom for a nap, but is awakened by him entering her door, holding a butcher knife. A sharp command from her makes him drop the knife and retreat. Mrs. Faithful, the housekeeper, fails to show up to get breakfast but sends Mrs. Yallilee, mother of Egbert, the caretaker. Stephen seems to remember nothing of the knife incident and when he and Rowan look for the body it has disappeared. Rowan has discovered Stephen's brief case and unbeknown to him, hides it with her bloody skirt just as the Rev. Bogge and Lord Romrytch, Rowan's neighbors, arrive searching for the vicar's brother, Bertram, who they say was allowed to study in the Fordyce cottage. Stephen admits to Rowan that the dead man was Bertram Bogge, who was trying to get Stephen interested in publishing a book he had written. He advises her not to mention finding the body. Lord Romrytch invites Rowan, the vicar, and Stephen to lunch and they are forced to listen to Forbes, Romrytch's secretary, report on his fruitless efforts to locate Bertram. Rowan learns hat Bertram had a bad reputation and that he had assaulted the vicar's maid, who was engaged to Egbert, the Fordyce gardener. Romrytch tells her that Bertram forged an introduction to him, and hints that he was insane, claiming to know Hitler, Mussolini, and a lot of prominent persons. Rowan invites Stephen for dinner, planning to return his brief case. When she gets home she opens a closet door and the corpse falls out. She faints and when she comes to Stephen is standing over her and the body had again disappeared.

INSTALMENT XXIV.
INVESTIGATION.

Rowan's weakness left her. Out of bed, she began examining the room. The scarf had been brushed off, not, she believed, by her own hand. Very little to go on. If she noticed any other disarrangement?

If there had been signs of visitation her recent scurry to get dressed had obliterated them. Unless. . . . Had she disturbed this drawer? Opened it, yes, started to put on a belt and then changed her mind. Forgotten all about the automatic she had stuck back at lunch time, the automatic of which she had grown suddenly ashamed. Here it was. Being left handed she had laid it with its muzzle pointing squarely towards the window. She could take an oath on that.

It pointed now in the opposite direction.

"O! Have I got it all wrong?"

Wait. She must make sure. So much depended on it. With a stupendous effort she repictured her movements. Making her brain blank she took up the automatic, laid it down. She was sure. It was a gigantic discovery, because from the moment she raced out of this room till her return this evening Stephen had been with her.

Back in bed she ate every scrap of her steak and kidney pudding.

The doctor shunted the tray into Mrs. Yallilee's hands, motioned Stephen away and sat down on the Chippendale stool.

"Pulse all right. Now the tongue. . . . H'm, excellent. I see you've managed a good meal."

"O, yes, I'm over it all now! Not exactly nice having corpses fall on you, but——"

"Knew what it was, eh?" The doctor pulled his moustache.

"You'd have known, too. Remember I'd had the vicar and Lord Romrytch asking me questions about a missing Mr. Bogge. I knew he'd been here, so—"

"Yes, quite, they've been beating the woods for him. Nasty experience. Nasty person. H-hrumph!" Dr. Roach appeared to realize he had gone too far. "Well, I congratulate you on your sterling constitution. Never fainted before? No, and you probably won't again. Feel equal to having the police around and so on?"

"I'll be thankful to see them."

"That's right. They're on their way, so you'll soon get that part of it over. I'll just leave you a couple of mild sedative tablets, so you'll make certain of a sound sleep."

"I don't think I'll need them. I've never taken a sedative."

"Good girl! Well, here they are, in case." He dribbled the tablets onto the dressing table, got up and hauled Stephen round to the light. "Young man, you're the one wanting attention. Why, you're pea green! Still having the insomnia?"

"No." Stephen backed churlishly away.

"Headaches, I'll be bound. Well, out with it!"

"One. Last night. Stave off, doctor. If I want you I'll let you know."

"Hold still!" With an air of standing no nonsense, the doctor jabbed a thermometer between Stephen's unwilling lips. "Yes, by God, a temperature. Walking round with it, dining with young ladies. Can't say I blame you." A flattering old eye rolled in Rowan's direction. "But see here, Smedley, my lad, if you mean to get fit you've got to take care. No roaming the country trying to locate that corpse, understand? You give your evidence and keep clear. Not much doubt who polished the fellow off. Simple matter to catch him out, and—what's that?"

Stephen muttered a communication. The doctor stared, chewed his moustache.

"My word, caretaker for this place? And gardening for Romrytch? H-hrumph! Can't have that, can we? I'm thinking of this girl. Tomorrow, certainly, she can move on, but tonight . . . the woman's stopping."

"The woman," said Stephen, "happens to be his mother."

"Good God! Thought I knew that jaundiced skin. Mrs. Yallilee. O, she's not in it, not a chance! Knows, of course, now this has happened—and she'll fight for her young, poor devil, but . . . well, well, Maj. Godstone will take care of things. Nice fellow, Godstone. Come along down."

Linking an arm in Stephen's, Dr. Roach went out.

Nothing more could happen. She really did not mind overmuch whether or not Mrs. Yallilee stayed. The doctor's remarks, tho, coming on the heels of her own discovery, were illuminating. Egbert—taking French leave of his job to finish off what he had begun while she was off the scene; startled by her entrace, hiding in the Tudor room only to snatch the corpse during the minutes of her unconsciousness and make away with it. Off in the woods now, digging a grave. Poor Egbert, not a hope. He hadn't been concerned with the brief case. It was the automatic he'd been after. Finding no ammunition he had just left it alone.

Meanwhile she wanted badly to retract her idiotic ravings. She rehearsed her apology; but Stephen did not come up. A temperature—and she had accused him. She went to the stair head and called softly, "Stephen?" He did not reply. Presently she heard something bumping on wood. There came a tiny, clear ring. Her typewriter bell. He had found paper in the drawing room, on the long table under the windows. He was writing—a letter, perhaps. To Mavis.

A car rasped outside. That would be the police. Back in her bedroom she combed her curls into order, sat down in the solitary armchair.

Voices below, several of them. Feet tramped the stairs.

"Bad business!" said gruff, cultivated tones. "O, shocking! And Cyprian Bogge's still out?"

"So his housekeeper tells us," answered a less urban voice. "Missed dinner. We rang Lord Romrytch, hearing he's been trying to assist, but he's not seen the vicar since lunch."

"O, well, Potter can go round again presently. This the room?"

Very steadily Rowan called, "Come in." She saw a soldierly man with tufted brows over pleasantly keen eyes, and behind him in order one slow moving inspector, one brisker sergeant, and a bovine nondescript who must be, she supposed, the local constable. Last Stephen, remaining for want of space by the door.

Very respectable he looked this evening. He had put on another dark navy shirt and a gray suit, well pressed. She'd noticed none of this till now.

"I'm Maj. Godstone, chief constable of this district." The soldierly spokesman shook hands. "Sorry to charge in like this. Tight fit, isn't it?" He glanced humorously round at the crowding six footers. "Never mind, we'll cause as little inconvenience to you as possible. Now, then, Miss—Wilde, is it?—will you be good enough to tell us exactly what occurred?"

While Rowan braced herself he added that by rights Constable Potter should have been first on the scene, only the constable had been doing his rounds on a bicycle and could not at once be located.

"Right up Harker's way I was," said Potter huskily, and blushed. His voice had a beery sound. "Bit of luck you picking me up."

Metal Jewelry in Two Tones Is Latest Idea

BY REA SEEGER.

New zip for dark street costumes comes in a clever combination of metal called two-tone jewelry. Two shades of gold metal called rose and yellow make a practical as well as decorative contrast that goes with everything. It's a shiny metal that will glitter effectively with wools, silks, or satins and velvets. It's as easy with brown, black, or navy as it is with high colors and pastels.

Rather breath taking is the new 144 inch strand of round ball beads about the size of small marbles. This apparently endless rope of two tone gold metal is wound round and round the neckline to almost serve as a chest protector. . . . It's excitingly new and they proceed to stun you still further with the news that even a longer rope is on the way.

Winding 12 feet of jewelry around the tonsils sounds like pretty much of a contortionist act, but the smart shoppers will try, we'll bet our best beret!

Such a trifle as a matching bracelet of the same ball beads is a comedown, but you can live up to the footage of the necklace by wearing three or four.

For the less adventurous soul, there are reasonable lengths in necklaces of the same two tone stuff. Also stunning double and single link affairs in bracelets, chokers, chest pins, handsome big clips, and even earrings.

Still another find are the multistrand two tone gold metal, wrinkled, chunky looking small beads, that alternate the rose and yellow gold metal with great distinction.

The Housewife

A charming new bedroom lamp for the dressing table, dresser, or night stand is made of a gay floral glass, similar to the old Bohemian glass. At first glance the lamp looks like a china one, the flowers being painted on light blue, or pale yellow, rose, or light green backgrounds. Plaited white lumarith shades are used with these lamps and the price of the complete unit is amazingly low for such a lovely decorative piece.

Occasionally the bulky files and cookbook lined shelves of the foods department's "library" fail to produce some recipe or other which a reader has requested. In such a case, we usually appeal to other readers, and I don't think we have ever been disappointed. Some cook always sends in the obscure recipe.

Today a Chicagoan comes thru with the recently requested "parsley jelly."

"I have made it several times with very good results," she writes. "I take two quarts of parsley and wash it thoroly. Then I drain it and place it in a kettle with three pints of water. After boiling for 10 minutes, I strain it and combine the juice with an equal measure of sugar. I let it boil for 15 minutes to make a jelly clear as crystal, which tastes like honey. Some persons add the juice of a lemon to it, but I never have done so."

Readers are still having fun over a column which appeared several weeks ago and was shortened in some editions. A chocolate pie recipe was eliminated, but the sentence preceding it was left intact, so that the column ended with a description of a tomato, bacon and pineapple salad, insisting that "this is a very rich, creamy chocolate pie, which I know you'll love"!

We thought it was funny, too, but since several of the readers who wrote in about the error asked "where's that chocolate pie?" or complained that such a recipe was just what they'd been looking for, we're repeating it, with a fervent hope that this column doesn't get lopped!

CHOCOLATE MERINGUE PIE.

1 baked pie shell
3 squares unsweetened chocolate
2½ cups milk
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
3 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon sale and
6 tablespoons sugar for meringue

Heat chocolate with milk in the top of a double boiler, and beat with rotary beater to blend. Mix sugar, flour, cornstarch and salt, and add gradually, stirring, to milk and chocolate. Stir and cook until thick. Continue cooking for 15 minutes longer, stirring frequently, to cook the starch thoroly. Beat egg yolks slightly and stir a little of the hot mixture into them. Return to double boiler, cook and stir three minutes longer. Add butter, vanilla and cool. Fill pie shell. Beat egg whites with salt until foamy, add sugar a little at a time, and continue beating until whites stand in peaks. Pile on filling and brown in a 350 degree oven.

Oberlin Club Meeting.

The Oberlin Women's Club of Chicago will meet this afternoon at Mrs. George H. Brown's home, 6116 Ingleside avenue.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

Referring to the national bridge examination which has been running for two weeks in this column, I had better say a word about the demerit points I have been assigning to various answers. Many readers may be feeling that their 1,000 points won't last very long if they have to take off 40 or 50 points at a clip. May I remind them of two facts: [a] the exam will be shorter than the last one [only about 40 questions as against 57], hence there will be less opportunity to pile up demerits. And [b] questions will soon make their appearance bearing credit points rather than demerits. If these are answered correctly depleted scores can bloom with new life. At any rate don't get discouraged this early in the game!

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 spades	Pass
3 spades	Double [final bid]

West passed on the first round as a trapping measure, but when South bid three spades, felt that North could not have the strength for another raise, hence stepped in with a penalty double. He should have waited, or should have chosen his opening lead with more imagination. He led the club king, then the ace and ten spot. This established South's clubs and made it impossible to defeat the contract. South, on taking the third club, led a low spade. West had to hop up with an honor and could make no better return than a diamond. Declarer got rid of his queen and ten of hearts, conceded another trick to West's second spade honor, then claimed the balance.

The lead of the king from a holding of A-K-x has long been a favorite of the bridge public [and of some authorities] but actually it should be used rather sparingly. This is particularly true when the "x" is a ten or nine. Only when the partner of the leader has the queen, or a doubleton which will permit a third round ruff, has the lead any advantage. Under almost all other circumstances it is apt to cost a trick. In this hand, which is typical, either a diamond or a heart lead would have defeated the contract. [The first named lead would, of course, have been more logical.] Declarer could always get the discards on the ace and king of diamonds [or, failing that, force a favorable lead from West] but would have to lose two trump tricks and three clubs.

Although I dislike generalities, I might say that when leading from a strong hand such as West's, the best course is to choose the suit containing the least strength.

Miss Hutchins, A. M. Ryerson to Wed Today

Clarke and his bride will be at home in Evanston.

Mrs. Orville E. Babcock left for New York yesterday to attend the marriage today of the Babcocks' younger son, Bruce Babcock, and Miss Lucille Margaret Kopperl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Kopperl. The ceremony will take place at 5:30 o'clock at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, the Rev. Henry Darlington officiating. A reception will follow at the St. Regis hotel.

Mrs. John A. Klopp of Bryn Mawr, Pa., will be her sister's only attendant. Alexis Thompson will be best man. Mr. Babcock and his bride will make their home in New York.

Mrs. Thompson gave a tea on Thursday at the Ambassador hotel in New York for Miss Kopperl. Among the guests were two former Chicagoans, Mrs. Archibald Foster and Mrs. Jay Morse Ely.

Longmeadow Hunt Holding First Meet of Season Today.

Following their first formal meet of the season at 3 o'clock this afternoon members of the Longmeadow Hunt will be guests at tea of Mr. and Mrs. Clark J. Lawrence of Hubbard Woods. Mr. Lawrence and Denison B. Hull are joint masters of the hunt. The Longmeadow Hunter trials will be held on Oct. 27.

The first in this season's series of football teas at Northwestern university will be given this afternoon in Scott hall by President and Mrs. Franklyn B. Snyder, following the Northwestern-Ohio State game. President and Mrs. Snyder and Kenneth F. Burgess, chairman of the board of trustees, and Mrs. Burgess, will receive.

Mrs. Elbridge Keith of Winnetka will give a shower today for Miss Gertrude Cook of 10116 South Wood street, whose marriage to Carl Keith Jr. will take place on Oct. 26 at the Bethany Union church. Miss Cook, daughter of Dr. E. Albert Cook of Urbana, Ill., attended the University of Michigan and did graduate work at the divinity school of the University of Chicago. Her financé, the son of Mrs. Cornelia Alling Keith of Kenilworth, attended the University of Illinois.

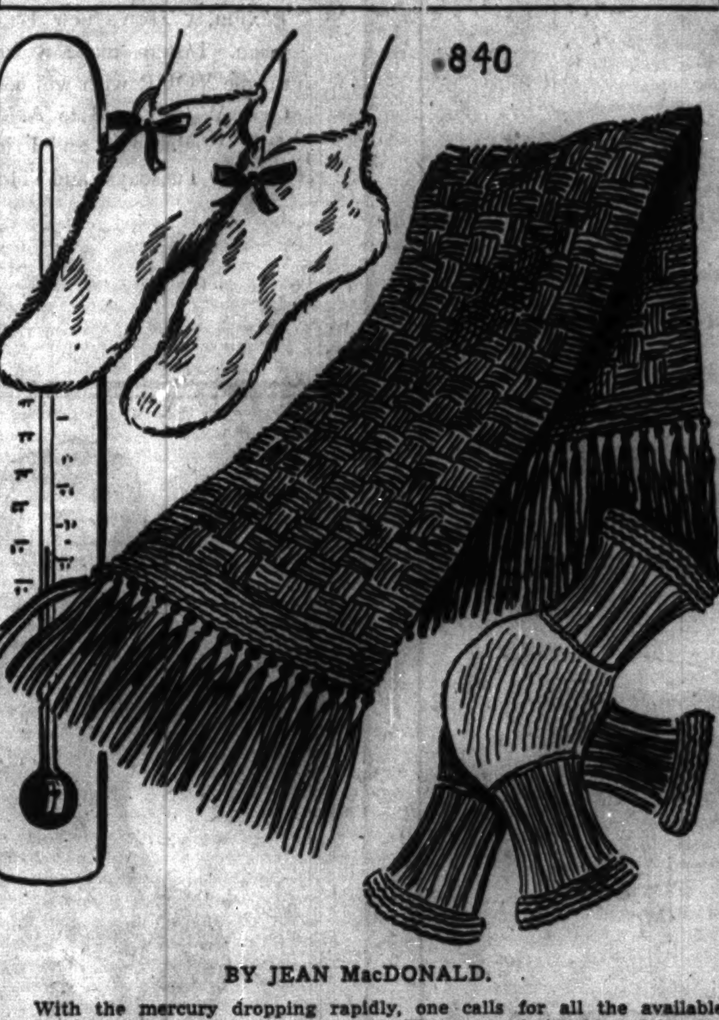
Lasker Estate Open to Public for Show of Chrysanthemums

The former Albert D. Lasker estate on Old Mill road, Lake Forest, will be opened to the public today and tomorrow for the first Illinois display of new winter-hardy chrysanthemums. The estate was given to the University of Chicago last winter by Mr. Lasker and this is the first occasion on which the university has opened the estate to the public. In addition to the flower gardens the grounds, parkways, recreation hall, swimming pool, tennis courts, and log cabin will be open for inspection. During both days refreshments will be served in the recreation hall.

Knitted Items for Comfort



BY JEAN MacDONALD.

With the mercury dropping rapidly, one calls for all the available items with which to fight cold weather. This warm knitted scarf is easy to make and any man, woman, or child will more than welcome it. The soft bed socks and knee warmers are simple knitting jobs and successfully combat sleepless nights caused by the discomfort of cold.

For instructions in knitting the scarf, bed socks, and knee warmers, No. 840, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 22[illegible] Fifth avenue, New York City.

Women of Legion to Offer Services for Defense Work

More than 800 members of the Cook county district American Legion auxiliary yesterday drew up plans for the organization's activities during the coming year in a meeting held at the Hotel Sherman. Mrs. Frances Mieczynski of North Chicago, state president, presided.

Mrs. Mildred Knoles, secretary of the district group, said the 40,000 members of the Illinois auxiliary will be asked to volunteer for whatever type of war or national defense work they can do. The volunteers' names will be filed, and they may be called into action in a national emergency. Many nurses and physicians will be available, Mrs. Knoles said.

Education of students in self-government will be one of the auxiliary's major activities thruout the state this year. The women plan to offer courses in Americanism and democracy in all schools which desire such courses.

Radio Actresses to Attend Community Fund Luncheon

Chicago radio actresses will attend the luncheon which opens the women's division of the community fund campaign at the Racquet club on Monday. The luncheon will be in charge of Mrs. King Mitchell, chairman of the women's division, and Mrs. Charles Fisk Cutter, who is herself a radio actress known on the air as Audrey McGrath. The women have have a quota of $165,000. The full quota of the fund is $3,604,000.

Dr. Gerald Gratton Moore Resigns His Pastorate

The wardens and vestry of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Evanston, announced yesterday the resignation of the Rev. Dr. Gerald Grattan Moore to take effect Nov. 30. Dr. Moore was priest in charge of the parish, his title as dean having been vacated on the death of Bishop Stewart. Dr. Moore came to St. Luke's in 1932 from the rectorship of the Church of the Advent, Logan Square.

Often a Good Policy to Skip Certain Food

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

When your baby girl or boy reaches the large age of 19 months and eats everything, like the one in this letter, "you're good":

"Dear Mrs. Bevans:

"My little girl is 19 months old. She is perfectly healthy and normal. I have been feeding her chopped foods and she has a good, hearty appetite. Until a few days ago she would eat all of the varieties of food, but in the last few days she doesn't seem to care for the plain vegetables. She will eat the lamb or beef with vegetables and the vegetable soup. When it comes to green beans or beets, or just plain vegetables, she won't eat. I don't want to force her, but I do want her to eat."

It is not unusual, as children grow a little older, for them to enjoy variety and also for them occasionally to grow tired of one food. In that case, I consider it advisable, and it can certainly do them no harm, to skip for a while the particular food they suddenly refuse. Don't press it or insist. Just skip it.

Also, when you go back to it, you might try changing the way in which you prepare it.

Numerology

By Evelyn Holmes

Oct. 12, 1940.

Universal day—Clear up any loose ends that have cluttered up your week. Don't obey that impulse to spend too much.

Fortunate days—Those born on the 3d [12th, 21st, or 30th] will find that they have a happier time on the three days as given in their personal charts, and that they seem to get along well on the six and nine days, too. These three numbers are like the three musketeers—they work in close harmony. If you are going to entertain friends in your home, choose a three or a six day. You ought to enjoy concerts, dancing, shopping, and art exhibits on either the three or nine days. All three days are good "personality" days.

Year ahead—If you feel that you have had your share of emotional upsets, take heart, for a whole new cycle of experience is coming.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 11.—University of Illinois' improved football team, victorious over Bradley in its only start, and Southern California, tied by Washington State and Oregon State, will find out tomorrow just how good they are.

The Pacific Coast conference and Rose bowl champions, sparked by Jack Banta, Bob Peoples, and Bob Robertson, so far haven't looked like the team that whipped Notre Dame and Tennessee in the closing weeks of the 1939 season. Coach Howard Jones has had no easy time finding replacements for Harry Smith, Bill Fisk, Bob Winslow, Ambrose Schindler, Grenville Lansdell, and Bob Hoffman, all of whom were members of this year's Chicago All-Star squad.

A Test for Illini Endurance.

Illinois, which showed surprising strength in its opening game, has no stars, but Illinois has length and strength and fury and fight and balance. It can hit a blow that travels like a thunder clap, but whether it can hold a stout pace under steadily applied pressure is something that nobody knows.

Southern California against Washington State spurted and sagged, smacked and stepped back. Even Coach Jones admits his players looked much better in their scoreless tie with Oregon State a week ago and he is looking for further improvement against Illinois. The Trojans lack the reserve strength they usually enjoy, but by midseason they will have at least one team that will measure up to U. S. C. standard, according to coast observers.

Robertson a Trojan Find.

Followers of the coast team are high on a junior named Bob Robertson, who many believe is the best right half back Southern California has had since Jim Musick's time. Jack Banta, however, still is the explosive force in the Trojan back field. He doesn't run as hard as Bob Peoples, but has more finesse. Among other holdovers who are known in this section are Capt. Ed Dempsey, center; Al Krueger, end, who gained national fame by his catches of touchdown passes in the last two Rose bowl games, and Ben Sohn, guard, who western fans say will be All-American this fall. There is only one sophomore, Don Willer, a guard, in the Trojans' starting lineup.

Coach Bob Zuppke plans to give little Jimmy Easterbrook, former Urbana High school star, his first starting assignment. Easterbrook, a left half back, was the big man in the second half drive of the Illini against Bradley.

Easterbrook Sparks Team.

"He's not especially fast and he doesn't look like he's doing much," Zuppke said, "but the team seems to go better when he's in there."

Easterbrook, a junior, didn't make the trip to Los Angeles for the game with the Trojans last year. He played only 13 minutes in 1939, all against the University of Chicago. His wife and year old son will be in the stands tomorrow. Myron Pfeifer, full back from Illiopolis, Ill., and Kenneth Cheeley of Foley, Minn., will be the only sophomores in Illinois' starting lineup.

The Southern California squad arrived at 9 o'clock this morning and worked out at the stadium for two hours before noon. Zuppke took his players to the Champaign Country club for their final workout.

Ticket Manager C. E. Bowen predicts the crowd will number 30,000.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 11.—One year ago tomorrow the University of Iowa lost its last football game. On that date in 1939 Michigan overwhelmed the Hawkeyes, who recovered from that licking to finish second in the Western conference, one-half game behind Ohio State, and to become the team of the year.

Now Wisconsin's Badgers, who have not won a conference game since November, 1938, will test the Hawkeyes before 35,000 celebrants of Dads' day to discover whether the renaissance of Iowa football under Dr. Eddie Anderson has produced a perennial or seasonal bloom.

Iowa's Climb Is Inspiring.

Iowa's climb from a conference rating cushioned then only by the helpless Chicago Maroons to a contender's position was one of the greatest achievements in sport. It was featured by a 7 to 6 defeat of Notre Dame, alma mater of Iowa's coach and his assistants. It also was a prelude to the campaign opening tomorrow, when Harry Stuhldreher, quarter back of the famous 1924 Notre Dame eleven, brings an improved Badger squad to Iowa City in what many consider the most important debut of any Wisconsin team of the Stuhldreher era.

Iowa looms as a more dangerous team in line play than it did a year ago, but the public waits to compare the passing with that of Nile Kinnick, who won national acclaim and several Hawkeye victories with his accurate throws.

The Hawkeyes may have a slight edge in material, altho Iowa lacks tried replacements in two or three key positions. Wisconsin's second team, judged solely by the 33 to 19 victory over Marquette, is wanting in offensive and defensive ability.

Hold Final Rehearsal.

Tonight Wisconsin's athletes are encamped in Davenport, where this afternoon they went thru final preparations in their plan to duplicate the victory scored two years ago in Iowa City. Wisconsin's players will arrive at the Iowa stadium at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow by special train.

The Hawkeyes concluded a week of intensive effort tonight with a review of defenses and a last comprehensive survey of attack. The squad displayed the calm temperament of last year's iron men and there is no reason to doubt that the battle between these state universities will be as tense as last year, when the Hawks won in the fourth period, 19 to 13.

Coach Anderson's search for a left half back has not ended, but he is expected to start Bill Stauss at the position. William Diehl also has been named in the overnight selections at center and Henry Luebcke probably will start at right guard. When Chuck Tollefson enters the scrap he will go to left guard and Ham Snider, starting left guard, will supplant Luebcke.

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 11.—Christopher Columbus is free to celebrate his birthday tomorrow in any manner he sees fit, but he shouldn't depend too much on the Columbus fans here at Notre Dame. Notre Dame will be celebrating the playing of its 400th game of football, a sport that has been rather popular here, and the feeling has been growing that Georgia Tech, coöperating in the celebration, may gum the gayety with a victory.

We have an idea that Notre Dame will win again, even as it has won nine out of 10 games played with the slick young men from Atlanta. Nevertheless, there are a lot of sly experts hereabouts, all smarter than we even claim to be, who say that this time the Yellow Jackets are equipped to razzle dazzle the Irish into a virtual coma. So much is being said about the deceptive plays thought up by Coach Bill Alexander and his charges and the way the maneuvers are going to perplex Elmer Layden's boys, that one almost is led to believe the Notre Dame lads have agreed to play with blinkers.

Bosch Over Kinnick.

All this is not by way of scoffing at the Georgia Tech stalwarts. They, as a team which missed a victory over Notre Dame last year by a couple of knuckles on the hands of the receiver of a potential last minute triumphant pass, are entitled to serious consideration, especially since Coach Alexander, on arriving here today, reported Bob Ison and George Webb, his brilliant ends, and Johnny Bosch, his pass wizard, are in excellent physical shape. This belies earlier bear stories from Atlanta, altho Ison and Webb will not start.

Notre Dame officials and veteran players have said repeatedly that Bosch, despite his skimp heft of 140 pounds, made a better offensive showing than any other back they met last season. [Who are we to bring up the name of Nile Kinnick?]

The Yellow Jackets, who have lost only six regulars since they won a share of the Southeastern conference championship last year and enhanced their prestige with a 21 to 7 victory over Missouri in the Orange bowl game, appear to have lost strength only at tackles. Some question this and it is pointed out they are stronger at all other line positions.

Irish Stars Return.

Listed in Notre Dame's opening battle front for tomorrow are several athletes who had spectacular parts in the 17 to 14 victory over Tech a year ago. Among them, Bob Hargrave, who directed a flashy second period offensive in which Notre Dame made two touchdowns and rounded out its afternoon's total, is slated to start at quarter. Johnny Gubanich, who contributed much to the Irish 14 to 6 victory in Atlanta two years ago when he blocked a punt, will be at right guard tomorrow and Capt. Milt Piepul, said to be more of a one man power house than ever this year, also will be in there at the opening kickoff. Bob Saggau and Steve Juzwik will round out the starting back field.

Purdue Meets a Hardy Foe, Michigan State

BY HOWARD BARRY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 11.—Purdue and Michigan State football teams will meet here tomorrow in a struggle that is likely to be anybody's game right up to the moment the officials fire the gun and go to dinner. Against powerful opponents last week both elevens showed the ability to lash out unexpectedly with scoring thrusts.

After trailing Ohio State, 14 to 0, the Boilermakers came back in the last half to punch over two touchdowns, only to lose on a Buckeye field goal in the last 20 seconds. Against Michigan the Spartans whipped across two touchdown passes from far down the field, advancing sixty-four yards on two throws for the first one and forty-five yards for the other. But Tom Harmon and his Michigan teammates went them one better and the Spartans lost, 21 to 14.

Both Are Worried.

It is apparent therefore that both Purdue and Michigan State followers will be on the anxious seat thruout tomorrow's game unless their boys are far out in front—which isn't expected on either side.

Both teams are so dangerous with passes that this method of attack may be the deciding factor. Walter Pawlowski showed an unusual knack for acrobatic catches in scoring both of Michigan State's touchdowns last week. He snared the first with a high leap, followed by a tumble into the end zone, and he picked the second one off his shoe tops and sprinted twenty-five yards to the goal. Left End Lew Smiley also is very capable at receiving. Wy Davis, mainstay of the Spartan back field, does most of the throwing, with Dick Kieppe taking a turn at it, too.

Purdue's passes, most of which are tossed by the veteran Mike Byelene, will keep Michigan State busy covering up because they are likely to go to most any eligible player. There were six different receivers for the seven which were completed against Ohio State.

Byelene vs. Davis.

In addition to their aerial attack, both teams have versatile ball carriers. Byelene is a particularly elusive open field runner who has gained many a yard at critical points in Purdue games of the past. The Spartans have Wy Davis, who made a longer run than any of Tom Harmon's in the Michigan game last Saturday.

The Purdue squad arrived this morning and worked out this afternoon on Macklin field.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Northwestern's Wildcats, an unknown quantity, and Ohio State, the eleven with a championship to defend, get together this afternoon in Dyche stadium—the former hoping to show that its possibilities have been underestimated and the latter hopeful of leaping over one more barrier in the road to another Western conference title.

The Buckeyes, each member well versed in the mystifying brain children of Coach Francis Schmidt, have three elevens to rush into action a bit at a time or in groups as the occasion warrants. Against this the Wildcats' strength, except for the back field, fades rapidly after the first eleven. At least, Northwestern's coaches claim they have little to support calls for help from the first line troops.

Buckeye Backs Are Mighty.

But the Wildcats' cry about a paucity of reserves might prove "sleeper" bait for the Buckeyes. The visitors are suspicious of it.

The Ohioans will sweep onto the stadium turf with a back field that doesn't give an opponent many leisure moments. Passes, punts or runs can break out from almost any spot. Captain Full Back Jimmy Langhurst can throw or kick, not to mention his plunging power. Quarter Back Don Scott is another thrower and kicker, in fact Ohio's best in the latter feature. Dick Fisher, subbing at left half for the slightly ailing Jimmy Strausbaugh, will bear watching for the same reasons. Right half Tom Kinkade currently is the Buckeyes' leading ground gainer with a better than seven yard average.

Passes Menace Ohio.

When the fidgety Schmidt piloted his assortment of huskies into town yesterday he admitted that Strausbaugh had just about shaken off an ankle injury and could be used in the event the Wildcats proved strong enough to put on pressure. Fisher, however, is almost a certainty as a starter.

The Ohioans fear a pass attack most of all. When Purdue came rushing up with 14 second half points against them last Saturday, the Buckeyes learned to their amazement that their defense against air raids wasn't what it should be. So they have labored all week on this particular problem, fully expecting they'll find ample reason to keep their eyes skyward this afternoon when either Bill De Correvont or Oliver Hahnenstein is in action.

How Good Is That Line?

Northwestern's concern mainly is about its line, literally riddled by the loss of 18 letter men from last year's squad. There even is some doubt that the first line can stand up under the supposedly superior Ohio forwards. In the Wildcats' second line there are four sophomores—Bob Motl and Clarence Hasse at ends, Nick Burke at guard, and Warren Karlstead at tackle. But, while this sounds bad, it is significant that all were ticketed as "promising" because of their prep school records.

Whereas the Purple line reserves still must make their marks, this lack of experience is more than balanced by the quantity of vets available for duty behind the wall. Richards, Hahnenstein, Kepford, and Clawson will start. Behind this quartet are Kruger, De Correvont, Chambers, and Soper, all letter men. If Soper's leg injury prevents an appearance, Benson, also an emblem wearer, will be moved up from the third team.

Today's meeting will be the 18th between the two schools, Ohio having an edge of 12 victories against 5 defeats and a tie. But the Buckeyes have yet to beat a Waldorf coached team in Dyche stadium. They lost there to the 1936 champions, 14 to 13, and in 1938 were held to a scoreless tie.

Advance ticket sales indicate a crowd of 40,000.

2 JOCKEYS HURT IN RACE MISHAPS AT SPORTSMAN'S

Bohn, Schlenker Repeat Ill Luck of 1938.

Yesterday might just as well have been Friday the 13th so far as Jockeys Ralph Bohn of St. Louis and Alex Schlenker of Chicago were concerned at Sportsman's Park. Bohn's ill luck started in the first race when his mount, Makealite, carried him into the outer rail at the far turn and fractured his right foot. Bohn was scheduled to ride Helmor in the second race, but Schlenker was substituted. Then Schlenker was thrown at the clubhouse turn and sustained a broken collar bone. Six horses passed over Schlenker without kicking him.

Both boys are in Garfield Park hospital, and oddly enough both suffered the same type of injury two years ago.

Chocolate Maid Wins.

Chocolate Maid, a bay filly, won the feature event of the afternoon, a five furlong sprint for 2 year olds, under the colors of the Hilltop Stock farm with Andy LoTurco in the saddle. LoTurco took the lead coming into the stretch turn when he passed Art of War and won going away. C. C. Curtis was third.

In the fourth race LoTurco brought Winkle from behind in the stretch to share first money with Syl's Betty. It was the first dead heat of the meeting.

Ben Cruickshank, a 16 year old Chicago boy, scored his first victory when he rode Mr. Serajevo in the six and a half furlong opening race. The winner went into a contending position shortly after the start and moved into the lead as the horses hit the stretch. La Primera was second and Am on Rye third.

New Jockey Wins.

Jim Wray, a newcomer to Sportsman's Park, won his first race of the meeting when he piloted Kenton Bar, the public choice, in the third race. Honey Boat and Michigan Anna put on a stout battle for the place position, but neither threatened the leader.

Another dead heat occurred in the eighth race when Mere Blaze and Count Tetrarch finished the mile and 70 yards all even. Broad Stripes, a longshot, closed with tremendous speed to be third, only a nose off the first two.

Beginning today post time for the opening race will be 1:45 o'clock.

The feature race today will be the Columbus Day handicap, a $1,200 race for 3 year olds and up with a balanced field of seven horses. Comendador II., Bucking, The Thrush, winner of her last two starts; Designer, All Lizzie, Ballinderry, and Miss Harriett are all well thought of by the handicappers.

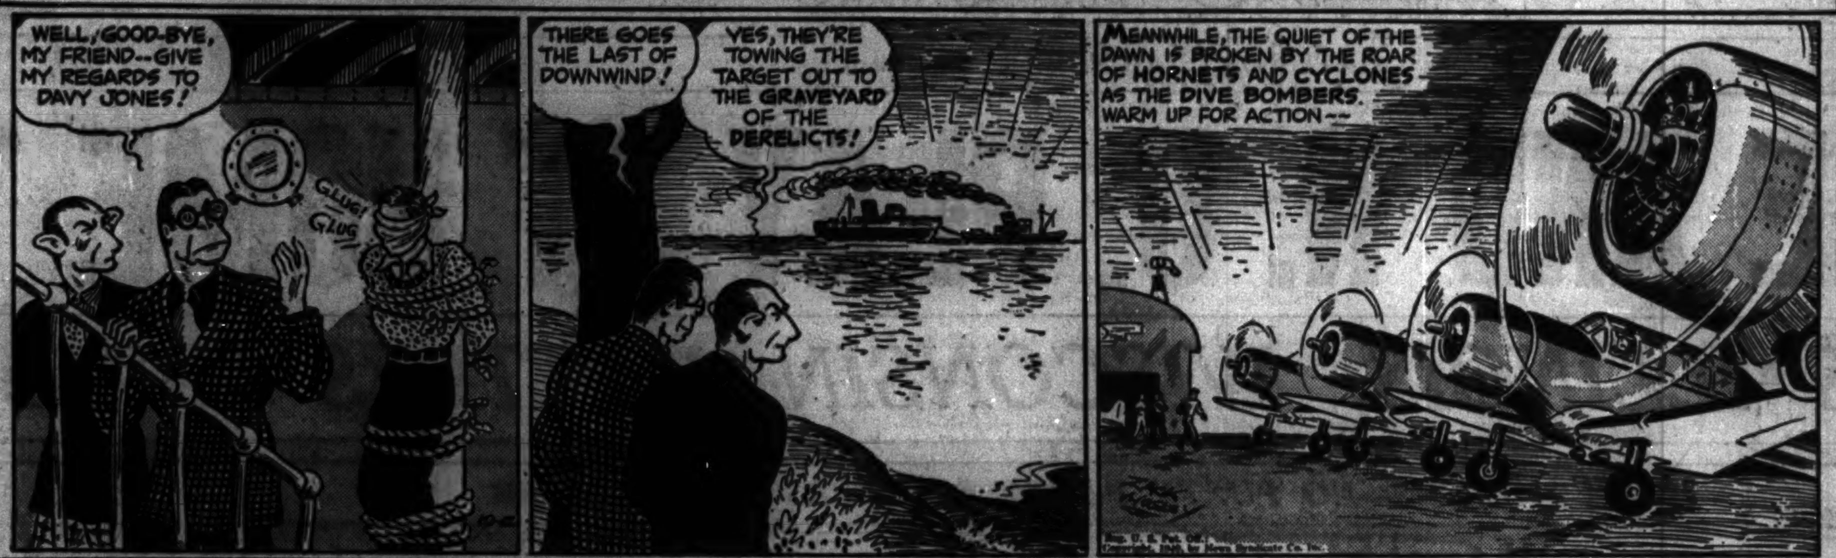
SMILIN' JACK—THE DAWN COMES UP LIKE THUNDER



WELL, GOOD-BYE, MY FRIEND--GIVE MY REGARDS TO DAVY JONES!
GLUG! GLUG
THERE GOES THE LAST OF DOWNWIND!
YES, THEY'RE TOWING THE TARGET OUT TO THE GRAVEYARD OF THE DERELICTS!
MEANWHILE, THE QUIET OF THE DAWN IS BROKEN BY THE ROAR OF HORNETS AND CYCLONES AS THE DIVE BOMBERS WARM UP FOR ACTION--

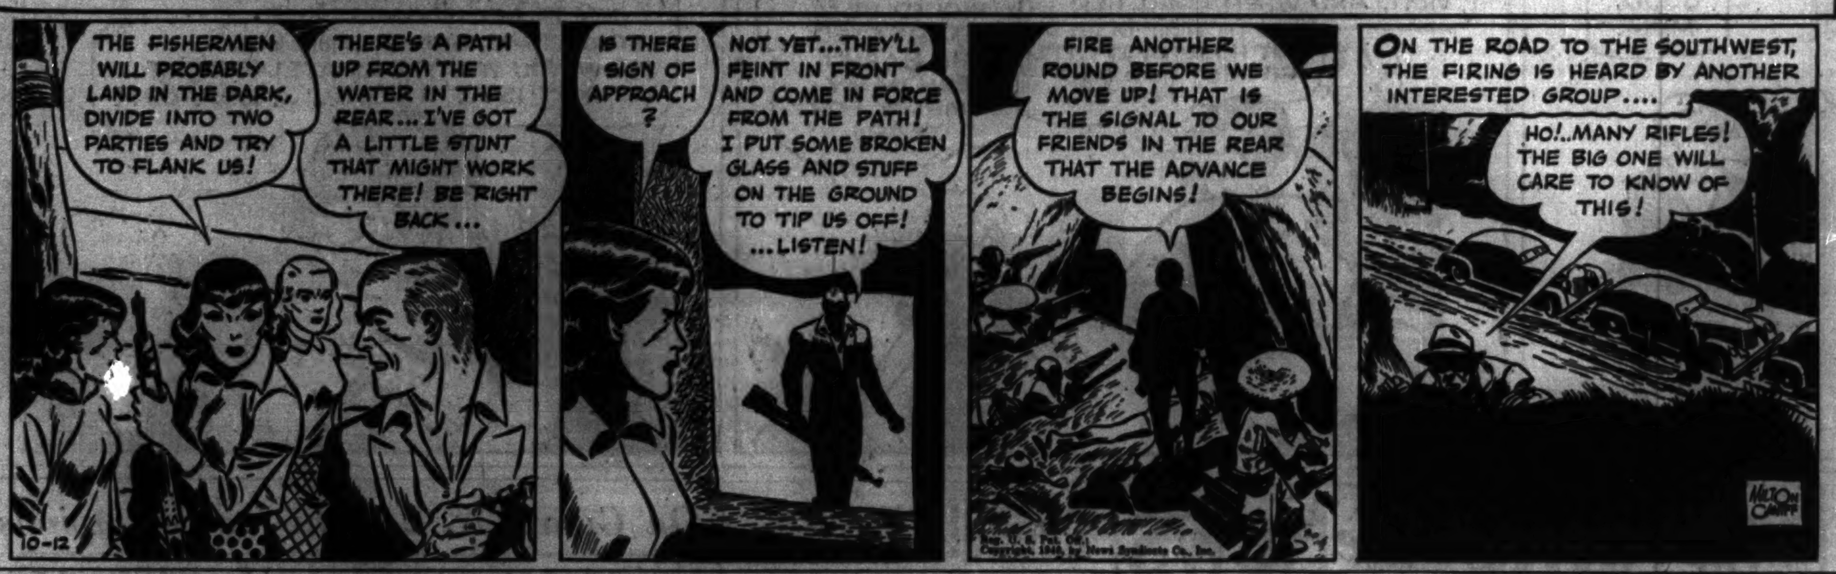
TERRY AND THE PIRATES—IS THIS A PRIVATE FIGHT?



THE FISHERMEN WILL PROBABLY LAND IN THE DARK, DIVIDE INTO TWO PARTIES AND TRY TO FLANK US!
THERE'S A PATH UP FROM THE WATER IN THE REAR... I'VE GOT A LITTLE STUNT THAT MIGHT WORK THERE! BE RIGHT BACK...
IS THERE SIGN OF APPROACH?
NOT YET...THEY'LL FEINT IN FRONT AND COME IN FORCE FROM THE PATH! I PUT SOME BROKEN GLASS AND STUFF ON THE GROUND TO TIP US OFF! ...LISTEN!
FIRE ANOTHER ROUND BEFORE WE MOVE UP! THAT IS THE SIGNAL TO OUR FRIENDS IN THE REAR THAT THE ADVANCE BEGINS!

ON THE ROAD TO THE SOUTHWEST, THE FIRING IS HEARD BY ANOTHER INTERESTED GROUP....
HO!..MANY RIFLES! THE BIG ONE WILL CARE TO KNOW OF THIS!

Concordia Eleven Host to Eureka College Today

Concordia college's efforts to build a smooth, driving offense will be tested today when the eleven plays Eureka college at River Forest. Coach W. A. Hedtke of Concordia has worked the squad hard during the past week, developing his back field around Co-captain John Socha, quarter back, and Wally Stahlke, half back. Mainstay in the line is E. Burger due to the absence of Co-captain Ted Leitz at center.

Laurel Offers $5,000 and $7,500 Features Today

Laurel, Md., Oct. 11 (AP).—Two features, the $5,000 added Maryland futurity and the $7,500 added Laurel mile, will be offered here tomorrow. The futurity, a six furlong dash for 2 year olds foaled in Maryland, drew 16 entries, with Alfred G. Vanderbilt's New World, topping the list and ruling a strong favorite. The Laurel mile drew 10 sprinters and routers, with Pictor, Roman and Masked General ruling the overnight favorites in that order.

48 GAMES LISTED ON BLACKHAWKS' '40-'41 SCHEDULE

Open in Stadium Nov. 7 Against Americans.

Before the Chicago Blackhawks left last night for their training camp in Hibbing, Minn., they learned they will skate out on the ice 48 times during the coming season.

The 1940-41 National Hockey league schedule, announced yesterday in Montreal by Thomas Calder, president, lists 24 games for the Hawks in the Chicago Stadium and the same number in New York, Montreal, Toronto, Boston and Detroit, the other league cities.

The Blackhawks will be the last of the seven clubs to start the campaign. Their first game is listed for Nov. 7 against the New York Americans in Chicago Stadium.

The four and a half month season will be launched on Nov. 2 when the New York Rangers meet the Maple Leafs in Toronto. On the following night the Boston Bruins will battle the Canadiens in Montreal and the New York Americans will skate against the Red Wings in Detroit.

Each of the Blackhawks' six rivals will make four appearances in the Stadium. The Chicagoans, likewise, will invade the home ice of each rival four times. Chicago's schedule:

HOME GAMES.

PRINCETON, NAVY MEET TODAY FOR THE 28TH TIME

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 11 (AP).—Princeton's ambitions for eastern football supremacy will be exposed on another flank tomorrow when the Tigers meet Navy before 35,000 in Palmer stadium.

It will be the 28th meeting of the two. Princeton will be seeking its 16th triumph of the series, while Navy, which has not won since 1931, will be after its seventh.

The availability of Half Backs Bobby Jackson and Bud Rose has bolstered Princeton's running attack so that Navy can expect to see a more diversified offense than the Tigers uncovered in beating Vanderbilt, 7 to 6, a week ago.

Navy holds victories over William and Mary and Cincinnati and will fire at Princeton with two strong sophomore runners in Bill Busik and Sammy Boothe.

Say Harris, Peckinpaugh Slated for Indian Jobs

Cleveland, O., Oct. 11 [Special].—Stanley [Bucky] Harris will be the next manager of the Cleveland Indians and Roger Peckinpaugh will become vice president of the club, according to a story printed today by a Cleveland newspaper. Under this arrangement, Harris would succeed Manager Ossie Vitt and C. C. Slapnicka would lose his general managership job to Peckinpaugh.

BOMBERS FACE FLORALS.

The Brown Bombers football team will meet the Brandt Florals in Normal park tomorrow afternoon.

A massive build, great height and a well-proportioned skull are a good combination—counting for 32 points. Meadow Brook, too, gives you an unbeatable combination of richly-satisfying flavor and easy-going price.

Judges say he's a Champion Mastiff

Any man's TASTE says Meadow Brook tops 'em all!

A mastiff must score on dozens of points to rate a blue ribbon. Yet only one point, taste, decides the champion bonded bourbon . . . and it's Meadow Brook every time! And remember, you save with each delicious sip of this famous bourbon!

says FREEMAN LLOYD, who has judged dogs throughout the American circuit.

ONE SIP OF MEADOW BROOK TOLD ME IT'S BEST EVER FOR TASTE!

The term "Mastiff" describes a group of giant dogs rather than a single breed. But the name Meadow Brook means only one thing to men who know bonded bourbons—a light-bodied, rare-flavored taste that is supreme!

BEARS HAVE A BIG JOB TOMORROW--STOPPING WHITE

Whizzer Comes to Town with Detroit Lion Mates.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

The doctor spoke gravely to a student manager.

"No. No need of notifying his parents. He'll be all right. But he'll never play football again. This was his first college game, you say? Too bad."

But the doctor forgot to tell the patient, and so tomorrow on Wrigley field Chicago fans will have an opportunity to see the incomparable Whizzer White, who lived to return to his job as a fraternity house waiter, collect a silo full of all-American ratings, and become the National Football league's highest paid star.

The Whizzer's Consistent.

White calls signals and plays tail back for the Detroit Lions at a reported salary of $15,000 a season. Coach Potsy Clark says he is worth all he gets, and he must be, for all other coaches in the National league are of the same opinion. He has been the star of every game but one in which he has played since entering Colorado university in 1934. The exception was the 1938 All-Star game, when Pittsburgh, which held his $15,000 contract, delayed his arrival at Evanston so long that he was unable to hit his stride before it was time for the Collegians to tackle the Washington Redskins.

White's hosts tomorrow, the Chicago Bears, like every other team he opposes, have done him the honor of fixing up some special defenses. Such precautions, for the most part, do not inconvenience White. He does everything well and what he doesn't do does not have to be done in present day football. White will be making his Chicago debut as a pro.

He's Quite an Athlete.

In his senior year at Colorado Whizzer made fourteen runs of more than fifty yards and completed twenty-two of forty-seven passes. He turned down a major league baseball offer to accept a Rhodes scholarship to Oxford and was rated as one of the finest college basketball players of the season.

In professional football he led the National league in yards gained his first year. He was with Pittsburgh then, which means that as far as football was concerned White was practically alone. He set up Detroit's first touchdown against the Cardinals last week with a thirty-two yard run that wound up on the 7 yard line and brought Detroit its other National league victory by going twenty-five yards for the touchdown that beat Cleveland, 6 to 0, the week before.

The Bears, with all their power, cannot figure on winning without stopping White and it is not likely that the Bears or even the Indiana university band, which will give an exhibition between halves, will outshine the quiet, accomplished Colorado law student, no matter who wins. White is that kind of a ball player.

The kick-off tomorrow has been set for 2:15 o'clock and a crowd of at least 30,000 is expected to see White and his Lion associates joust with the Bears for the right to remain in first place in the western division.

DE KALB TO MEET MOUNT PLEASANT AT HOMECOMING

De Kalb, Ill., Oct. 11 [Special].—Coach George G. Evans will send a revamped De Kalb lineup into the homecoming game with Mount Pleasant, Mich., Teachers tomorrow. Injuries and the improvement of several freshmen brought the changes.

Alms, a De Kalb freshman, and Behan, all-Little Nineteen end last season, will be at the ends; Stegman, moved from center, and Patterson will open at tackle; Mascal, another freshman, and Taxman will be guards, and Spear, former reserve at center. Ken Prentice of De Kalb, another fresh, will team up in the back field with Capt. Sam Smith, Joe Kieley, and Orville Krahenbuhl.

Mount Pleasant has two 1939 stars in the back field in Leo Wasneski and Ken Loop, with a veteran line.

LAKE FOREST BIDS FOR 3D STRAIGHT OVER CARROLL

Football teams representing Lake Forest and Carroll college will meet this afternoon in Waukesha, Wis., the oldest meetings in small college football in the middle west.

The Foresters are on edge for this game. Three years ago after Carrol had been undefeated for 22 consecutive games, it lost to Lake Forest. Last year the Foresters repeated.

Pete Scurto, left tackle, and Bill Ludemann, right guard, both injured this week, will be ready for this contest.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 11.—Col. Alvin Nugent McMillin, a smallish party known as Bo, tomorrow afternoon sends his Indiana university Hoosiers against Nebraska's Cornhuskers in another effort to break down the hex against McMillin coached teams that has endured thru 10 contests. The Huskers have caused Bo to use his favorite expletive, "My side and body," more than any other opponent his pore little boys have faced. A crowd of 32,000 is expected.

Four times have the Hoosiers faced the Nebraskans and nary an Indiana victory has been produced, the net yield being two defeats and two ties. For 55 minutes in the contest at Bloomington last year, Hoosier clients felt certain they were going to break the spell. Their lads had led, 7 to 0, for that time, but in the final five minutes the visitors came up with the tying points.

It Goes Away Back.

The personal feud between McMillin and the Huskers antedates his arrival at Indiana. When Bo coached Kansas State, his teams clashed with the Huskers in six games. Out of that series of engagements, McMillin salvaged one victory, and that way back in 1930, when big Henry Cronkhite led the Wildcats to a 10 to 9 victory.

Statistics on the Indiana-Nebraska series go to show once more that they still pay-off on touchdowns and not on first downs or total yardage, for the figures favor the Hoosiers by a wide margin. In the four games between the two to date, for instance, Indiana has made 45 first downs to Nebraska's 28. In total yards gained, the Hoosiers have an advantage of 808 to 537. The Indiana eleven has completed 30 out of 71 passes for a total of 437 yards, while the Huskers have connected on eleven out of thirty attempts for 164 yards.

Looks Like a Day in the Air.

Mention of those passing figures, incidentally, augurs an afternoon of aerial football, for both teams lost their openers last Saturday in games involving passes. No amount of pitching by Hurling Hal Hursh of the Hoosiers could detain Jack Crain and his Texas colleagues from beating Indiana by a 13 to 6 score. The Huskers, meanwhile, were scoring their only touchdown of a 13 to 7 battle with Minnesota on a short pass from Herman Rohrig to Henry Rohn, and ultimately losing to the Gophers' touchdown pass, Bruce Smith to Bill Johnson.

Neither team was in evidence around these parts this evening. Maj. Biff Jones, whose Huskers last year lost only one game out of nine, and that to Missouri, the Big Six champion, took his squad of thirty-five to the National Guard encampment at Ashland for the night. The major was right taciturn on any predictions, but admitted he feels his lads are ready, even tho they will be outweighed, as they were by Minnesota.

Tuffy Brooks Is Out

Col. McMillin landed in Omaha this morning, and held a final workout on Creighton university's field. The Hoosiers bivouacked in Omaha and will reach Lincoln tomorrow morning. Bo reported three of his backs — Earl Dolaway, Bob Rhode, and Dale Swihart — in none too fancy shape, and left Tuffy Brooks, his regular quarter back, at home because of injuries. Mickey McGuire will replace Dolaway, who will move to left half, and Husker fans who saw the game at Bloomington last year, suspect that they may also have to look at Red Zimmer, the 155 pound back who ran the Huskers dizzy.

Villanova Takes to Air; Defeats Florida, 28 to 0

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP).—Stopped on the ground, Villanova took to the air tonight to hammer out a 28 to 0 victory over Florida before 25,000 at Shibe park. Passes by Triple Threat Nick Basca and his replacement, Sophomore Stan Eusko, set up three of Villanova's touchdowns. The fourth came on a Florida fumble that Steve Pritko recovered in the end zone.

JOE MANJARREZ BEATS MORRIS IN AMATEUR FIGHT

Joe Manjarrez, Madison Athletic club amateur lightweight, pounded out a decision in five rounds over Morris Lewis of the Savoy A. C. in Madison A. C. last night. The match was substituted for a scheduled encounter between Lou Angelucci and Frank McBride. Angelucci failed to appear. A near capacity crowd of 1,200 booed when the announcement was made. Stanley Stockins knocked out Hosiah McLain in a secondary feature. Referee Leo Ranieri completed his count shortly after the second round opened. Other results:

Joe Baldassano beat Virgil McKinnis [3]; Harold Rodie beat Frank Jamieson [3]; Frank Kidd knocked out Bishop Edward [2]; Jerry Pietro beat Julian Ford [3]; John Manning beat James Burke [3]; James Barotta knocked out Ray Kern [1].

Fifty-two Auto Drivers Enter Midget Semi-final

Enteries closed yesterday for the semi-final championship midget auto races tomorrow afternoon at Raceway park, 129th street and Ashland avenue, with 52 cars listed to face the starter in the time trials. Included in the field are Wally Zale, Ted Duncan, Tony Bettenhausen, Myron Fohr, Emil Andres, Cowboy O'Rourke, Bob Muhlke, Everett Rice, Rod Backey, Frank Buraney, Pete Roncevich, Warren Erwin, Bert Knight, and Paul Russo.

Bowen Routed by Hyde Park; Marshall Wins

Hyde Park High school's football team, which this year is competing in the south division of the Public School league, yesterday scored its second victory, routing Bowen, 27 to 6, at 83d street and Yates avenue. It was Bowen's third consecutive league defeat. The victory moved Hyde Park into third place, with two triumphs and one setback.

John Losko Injured.

Hyde Park's victory was costly, the squad losing co-Captain John Losko, star right tackle, who suffered an arm injury and will be unable to play for at least three weeks. Co-Captain Bill Marks, full back, and Left End Kallish, starred for the winners, each scoring two touchdowns. Hyde Park led at the half, 7 to 0.

Marshall and Phillips were victors in two other league contests. Marshall crushed McKinley, 39 to 0, in Mills stadium for its first triumph in three games in the west section. Phillips scored in the opening quarter to hand Harrison Tech its second defeat in the central zone, 6 to 0, in Normal park.

Becker Scores Twice.

Jerome Becker, right half back, starred in Marshall's victory, scoring two touchdowns, one on a 70 yard run in the second period. Phillips' lone score against Harrison was made by Jack Finley, quarter back, who raced around end for 25 yards.

TUSKEGEE LOSES TO WILBERFORCE ELEVEN, 14 TO 12

Twelve thousand frenzied fans saw Wilberforce university of Ohio come from behind in the second quarter to score 14 points and beat Tuskegee institute of Alabama at Soldiers' field last night, 14 to 12. It was the 11th contest between the two schools.

Tuskegee scored in the opening minutes of play when Upshaw Sams of Beaumont, Tex., plunged over from the 3 yard line. Moore's kick for the extra point was wide.

Wilberforce opened up its air attack in the second period. Heaves from Proctor to Weaver and Weaver to Proctor placed the ball in scoring position from where Clif Brown carried it over. Schnebly kicked the extra point. James Price of Lorain, O., took Bob Moore's seventy-three yard punt and ran eighty-five yards for Wilberforce's second and last touchdown. Schnebly again place kicked the extra point.

Capt. Leonard Hollins broke thru and blocked Schnebly's punt and downed it on Wilberforce's 3 in the waning minutes of the fourth period. On the third try, Marion Smiley of Montgomery hit center for a touchdown. Moore's attempt to place kick for the extra point was wide.

Wilberforce completed four of its four pass attempts. Tuskegee completed five of its 23. Tuskegee made nine first downs, Wilberforce five. Tuskegee was penalized 20 yards, Wilberforce, 5. Lineups:

SOUTH CAROLINA GIVES DUQUESNE SCARE AND LOSES

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP).—A gallant band from South Carolina university came within a few minutes tonight of wrecking the two season winning streak of Duquesne university, but finally surrendered, 27 to 21.

The visiting southerners jumped to a 7 to 6 lead in the first half thru the sensational play of their big full back, Al Gyrgo, and end, Urban, and were not headed until late in the final quarter. The winning touchdown was a 19 yard aerial from Phil Ahwesh to Hank Maliszewski.

Maroons Try 11 Man Game and Lose, 12-7

A group of University of Chicago students, who haven't lost their urge to play football, even tho the school has officially given up the sport in its intercollegiate phase, had a lot of fun yesterday on Stagg field. They served as sparring partners for the American College of Physical Education, which has a regular game scheduled today.

The Midway athletes enjoyed themselves, even tho their opponents made 12 points to their 7. It should be mentioned, however, that the Chicago players not only were playing their first contest, or semi-contest, of the year, but had not even practiced the 11 man game. They had previously been preoccupied learning about the six man variety.

A crowd of 250 students, not at all out of line with turnouts in Stagg field in recent years, watched the contest, quarters of which were limited to 12 minutes, instead of the customary 15.

Similar scrimmage games will be conducted this fall. This change in policy is necessary because a third of the Chicago boys who answered the call for six man football are too skilled and rugged for the others.

American college scored twice in the second quarter, mainly by employing passes. Chicago scored in the final quarter on a pass from Chuck Boyd to Bill Oostenburg. Dominic Parisi drop kicked the extra point.

W-G-N to Present Illini-Trojan Contest Today

W-G-N will open its schedule of Saturday afternoon football broadcasts with a description of the game between Southern California and Illinois in Champaign today. With Bob Elson and Guy Savage at the microphone the game will be heard starting at 1:50 p. m.

Elson will present the play-by-play description and Guy Savage will describe sideline aspects of the games. Elson recently was rated the outstanding baseball announcer of the year.

MARQUETTE RUNS OVER IOWA STATE FOR 41-25 VICTORY

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 11 [Special].—Marquette university's football team, bouncing back after last week's defeat by Wisconsin, rolled to a 41 to 25 victory over Iowa State college in a free-scoring game played before 17,000 fans tonight.

The Hilltoppers, sparked by Jimmy Richardson and Johnny Goodyear in the first string back field and Harvey Baerwald, a reserve back, piled up a 41 to 6 lead on the Cyclones in the first three quarters. Iowa State, playing mostly against Marquette reserves, put across three touchdowns in the last quarter.

MICHIGAN, WITH HARMON READY, MEETS HARVARD

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 11 [Special].—Michigan's football squad, including its No. 1 showman of college ranks, Tom Harmon, arrived here late today—quite ready to prove to Harvard fans in tomorrow's game with the Crimson that Harmon can gallop as well along the Atlantic seaboard as he did on the Pacific coast two weeks ago and in his home stadium at Ann Arbor last week.

Harmon, who scored four touchdowns, including one on the opening kickoff, and kicked four extra points in the Wolverines' 41 to 0 rout of California at Berkeley two weeks ago, then scored all of Michigan's points in the team's 21 to 14 triumph over Michigan State last week, will spearhead the Wolverines against Harvard before 40,000 fans.

Will Watch Harmon.

It is recalled that Yale slowed up Harmon considerably in his otherwise brilliant season two years ago and that he was stopped by Illinois and Minnesota last year, but Michigan adherents believe that he will be ready to give the same sort of performance tomorrow as he did on the previous two Saturdays. He will be pitting his broken field running skill against a big Harvard team that is up to his tricks and has been coached specially to stop him.

Michigan will bid for its third victory of the season and its third in seven against Harvard.

Michigan Band on Hand.

Wolverine alumni of the east are expected to flock to the Harvard stadium as the game will be Michigan's only contest of 1940 in the east. The Michigan band of 100 pieces is accompanying the squad.

Coach Fritz Crisler will have all of his regulars except Norman Call, right half back, in the game at the start. Call, injured two weeks ago, is with the squad, however, and may play. Dave Nelson will be at Call's post.

BRITAIN REACHES ARGENTINE MEAT DEAL AGREEMENT

Expects to Pay by Return of Sterling Bonds.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 11 (AP).—Argentina and Great Britain have reached an agreement for the largest meat contract in the history of the Argentine packing industry—amounting to nearly $100,000,000 for one year—it was reported authoritatively today.

While details still are not settled, informed sources close to both governments said that the negotiators had agreed on means and terms of payment and other important factors, clearing the way for final approval of the contracts in a short time.

Seek Other Food Items.

A spokesman of the Argentine embassy in London said that Britain was seeking to purchase between £25,000,000 and £40,000,000 [$100,000,000 and $160,000,000] worth of corn, wheat, butter, hides, and other staples with payment in Argentine bonds held in England.

He said that "full discussion" of the matter was scheduled for "late next week." Apparently the reported deal for $100,000,000 worth of meat is included in the £40,000,000 figure mentioned in London.

The minister of agriculture, Daniel Amadeo Videla, told meat men that Argentina "is sparing no effort" to perfect the agreement.

Fresh and Canned Meat.

If the meat contract follows the form of preliminary discussions, it was said, Britain will buy in 12 months about 450,000 tons of fresh meat for about $70,000,000, plus 70,000 tons of canned beef costing more than $20,000,000.

These figures would represent large increases over the last year's shipments to England, particularly in canned meat. Hitherto, Argentina's total exports of canned beef have ranged from 70,000 to 80,000 tons annually.

Because of this country's pressing financial situation, it was said, Argentina prefers to receive payment in Argentine bonds held in England rather than to block her trade balances with England until the end of the war.

HAY MARKET.

Timothy, light or medium, clover mixed, alfalfa, mixed, carlot price. No. 1, $15.00@16.00; No. 2, $13.00@15.00; No. 3, $8.00@10.00. Rye. No. 1, $21.00; alfalfa, fancy No. 1, $19.00@20.00.

PORK SUPPLIES DROP DESPITE LARGER OUTPUT

Oct. 1 Storage Holdings Smallest of Year.

Despite the fact that slaughtering of hogs thruout the United States last month was the heaviest for September in eight years, there was a large out of storage movement of pork, the department of agriculture reported yesterday. Stocks of pork in cold storage plants dropped 21 per cent during the month. Holdings Oct. 1 were smallest of the year and 40 per cent under the Aug. 1 stocks.

There were 328,739,000 pounds of pork, exclusive of lard, in storage Oct. 1, the government report showed. Lard stocks fell 13 per cent during the month, and were 22 per cent lighter than two months ago. The Oct. 1 holdings, at 234,594,000 pounds, were lightest since Feb. 1.

Stocks of beef in store increased slightly, with Oct. 1 holdings of 36,359,000 pounds. Lamb and mutton supplies also rose, totaling 3,412,000 pounds.

Comparisons with other periods follow in thousands of pounds [last three ciphers omitted]:

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

A two way market developed for hogs at the stockyards yesterday. Young spring pigs under 200 pounds in weight sold 5 to 10 cents higher, with medium and weighty butchers steady to strong. Packing sows, however, were weak to 10 cents lower. Both the top and average for the day showed 5 cents gain, at $6.60 and $6.30 a hundredweight, respectively.

The scant supply of cattle met brisk demand at stronger prices, quality considered. Stronger prices prevailed for the few sheep and lambs offered.

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

Help for Bluebirds

October 11, 1940.

THE DuPage county farm will experiment with bluebirds next spring when these birds return from the south. The Illinois Audubon society has asked help in this experiment which will be directed toward an increase in the bluebird population. Doris A. Plapp, secretary of the society, says it has been possible to increase the number of bluebirds by the thousands in downstate counties by furnishing artificial nesting boxes for them.

"These attractive birds have decreased in numbers because of the use of metal fence posts and modernized practices in orchard management," she writes. "The birds readily take to artificial nesting boxes which we have had made."

Find Boxes Ideal.

Miss Plapp explained that the boxes have been constructed according to the specifications of T. E. Musselman of Quincy, one of the directors of the Audubon society. They have been tested and found ideal for bluebirds. The passing of the old wooden fence posts has deprived many bluebirds of a nesting site.

Bluebirds also like holes in old apple trees. The starlings appropriate cavities and holes high in the trees. Those five or six feet from the ground are liked by bluebirds. For two consecutive seasons a bluebird family has nested in one of the orchards on the farm. These birds raised their young in a cavity in an apple tree just about the width of one's hand.

The bluebird is welcome in an orchard. They do not damage fruit but wage a continuous war against insects that injure orchards.

One scientific bird study disclosed that the bluebird's diet consists of 68 per cent insects and 32 per cent vegetable matter. Primary insect foods are grasshoppers, beetles, and caterpillars. Vegetable foods are primarily wild fruits such as the elderberry.

Autumn Signs Here.

A sure sign of autumn on the DuPage county farm is the "migration" of the wild turkeys from the farm woods to the barnyard. Each spring some of the turkeys leave the barnyard, make nests in the woods, and rear their young. They live like the pheasants, quail, and other wild birds all summer, feeding on insects and weed seeds. During the first days of autumn, however, they return to the barnyard. First they come in to roost and leave early each morning for the woods. When winter arrives they settle down in the barnyard.

It's always amusing to see how the barnyard turkeys stage a sort of welcoming ceremony when the turkeys come out of the woods each autumn. Usually the celebration includes a few turkey fights and a strutting contest. When the birds first came home this fall the gobbler fights were staged on schedule. Now that the birds have been coming in to roost for about 10 days the fights have been discontinued and the evening ritual consists of a turkey get-together at the rail fence and a 30 minute program of strutting and turkey talk. When this formally is completed the birds fly into an elm tree to roost for the night.

BRIDGES RAKES, PEPPER LAUDS ROOSEVELT ACTS

Democratic Policy Is Blamed for U. S. Ills.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Terming President Roosevelt a "candy stick president," Senator H. Styles Bridges [R-N. H.] last night ripped into the policies and actions of the Democratic administration in a quasidebate with Senator Claude Pepper [D. Fla.] at the annual dinner of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce at the Palmer House.

Bridges won a toss up which gave him the opportunity to speak first.

The senator charged that the President is directly responsible for the plight of America, both from an economic and defense point of view. During the last 7½ years, he said, there has been a steady sapping of the nation's strength. There are 10 million unemployed and more millions on relief.

Proof of Responsibility.

Charging that the President has been responsible for 7 crises and has failed to keep 58 major promises, Bridges declared that the fact the President has had both a New Deal senate and house to do his bidding presents proof that he is directly responsible for the evil that has befallen the nation.

Senators H. Styles Bridges (left) and Claude Pepper.

"In 1932 a charming voice said over the radio that we were headed for bankruptcy," Bridges said. "Then we had an annual budget of 3½ billions and a 20 billion dollar national debt.

"Today we have a 10 billion dollar budget, a national debt of 45 billions, contingent liability of 6½ billions, and we have just appropriated 15 billions for defense. I am just a country boy and can't make these two sets of figures jibe.

Road to New Dangers.

"Every time the President's watch ticks we are spending $23,000 and going in the hole $11,000. Even a moron should understand that we can't keep that up. Each year I have heard Mr. Roosevelt say we were approaching a balanced budget, but we never get there.

"If this continues we will go down the road either to back breaking taxes or inflation."

Bridges ripped into Roosevelt's foreign policies.

"If the President is the indispensable man who knows so much about foreign affairs," he asked, "why didn't he do something about preparing the defenses while Hitler was girding himself for his blows in Europe? Surely that expert in foreign affairs should have known what was going on abroad. If Mr. Roosevelt knew this and then did nothing, I charge that he has been grossly negligent toward the interest of the nation.

Defense Outstanding Issue.

Declaring that the question of defense is now the outstanding issue, Bridges charged that the President has "conducted a candy stick government" in which he sought to bait the people with promises. He asserted that the President has prostituted the defense program to serve his own ends.

Senator Pepper declared that no matter who is elected President, the people will learn that the nation's expenditures will be increased and taxes will be boosted to meet the defense demands.

"Every one in this room," he said, "is probably paying the lowest taxes he will ever pay in his life."

Senator Pepper said that the time will come after the storm thruout the world has passed when the huge gold stock America has may be used to set up a real currency for the world. It is only thru the free exchange among nations that we can have a real and lasting peace, he said.

Defends Labor Laws.

The senator defended the administration's labor laws, saying that experience with them has been too brief to justify harsh criticism. There are some things that must be amended, he said, but if the goal sought, that of bringing employers and employés together, is reached, then the laws will be justified.

Commenting on criticism of Roosevelt for seeking a third term, Pepper said there was nothing in the constitution that prevented this.

"We are demonstrating that this is a democratic nation," he said, "when we permit the President to run again. That is the free will of a free people exerting their right to choose whom they want for President."

Pepper reiterated charges that the Republicans were responsible for the low state of preparedness. He argued they spent 27 million dollars to sink 230 million dollars' worth of naval vessels. He said that when Roosevelt came into power there were not enough sailors to man the remaining ships.

Chicago Store Sales in Week Mount 6 Pct.

Chicago department stores sold approximately 6 per cent more merchandise last week than in the preceding week, recording the best gain for any city in the seventh [Chicago] federal reserve district, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Sales rose 7.1 per cent over the corresponding week last year.

Seventh district department store trade, altho 6.5 per cent above a year ago, sagged approximately 3½ per cent below the last week in September. Milwaukee and Indianapolis stores were the only large cities in the district, in addition to Chicago, to report increased business over the preceding seven day period.

Recovery Not Large.

The bank reported that department store sales in Chicago, however, had not recovered sufficiently to equal the brisk trade of the last weeks of the summer months. Business was still below that of the first two weeks of September. The bank said that turnover the last two weeks of September was light compared with preceding periods.

The federal reserve statisticians attributed the light business of the last three weeks to a "draft scare" and a general slow down in buying. The big mail order houses, which last week reported sales so far this year at the highest levels in their histories, said sales during the last two weeks of September had slipped sharply. They, too, said the army draft probably was to blame.

Small Gain Over Year Ago.

Business in stores thruout the country showed little improvement over a year ago despite the sharp upturn in industrial activity in connection with the defense program. The Federal Reserve board reported that sales over the nation had only a one per cent gain over the corresponding period in 1939.

The St. Louis and Minneapolis districts were the two extremes. Stores in the Minneapolis federal reserve dropped 31 per cent from a year earlier, and business rose 12 per cent in the St. Louis district.

REPORT BUILDING GAIN IS ABOVE EXPECTED RATE

New York, Oct. 11 (AP).—A larger than expected gain in building activity thruout the nation during September was reported today by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc.

The mercantile agency found certificates issued in 215 cities during the month were for buildings totaling $118,951,971, a gain of 2.3 per cent over $116,269,070 in August and contrasted with the usual drop of 10 per cent between those months. The figure was 15.3 per cent higher than the $103,203,666 of September, 1939.

Percentage gains over September, 1939, recorded in the various sections of the country, were as follows: New England, 78.2; south Atlantic, 44.2; east central, 11.7; west central, 9.6; mountain, 48.9; Pacific, 53.2. There were declines in only two sections, middle Atlantic by 11.4 per cent, and south central by 13.2 per cent.

ROCK ISLAND RY. CUTS AUGUST NET LOSS TO $739,405

The Chicago Rock Island & Pacific railway yesterday reported a net loss of $739,405 for August, compared with a net loss of $1,035,980 for the same month last year. For the eight months ended Aug. 31, the railroad had a net loss of $5,570,596 against a net loss of $6,939,495 for the corresponding period in 1939.

McKesson Reorganization Plan Is Delayed to Oct. 29

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—The plan of reorganization to be proposed by William J. Wardall, trustee for McKesson & Robbins, Inc., need not be submitted until Oct. 29, Federal Judge Alfred C. Coxe ruled today. The plan was to have been ready by Oct. 15, but Wardall asked for additional time to study suggestions by various committees which have intervened in the reorganization.

BRITAIN HAS BOUGHT 1,001 AMERICAN SHIPS SINCE START OF WAR

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 [Special].—Acceptance today by the United States maritime commission of a British offer of $4,640,000 for 19 of its 20 year old laid up vessels bring to 1,001 the number of American ships bought by Great Britain since the beginning of the war.

In addition, a number of vessels transferred to Panamanian, Latin American, and Canadian registry, it is believed, also will end up in British service.

The vessels sold today had an average deadweight tonnage of 9,000. The bids, made on behalf of British ship owners by J. H. Winchester & Co. of New York were almost 50 per cent higher than those of the highest American bidder.

Sale of the ships reduced to 71 the number of laid up vessels still owned by the maritime commission. It is expected the British ultimately will take most of the remainder, altho the United States navy is offering stiff competition in the purchase of smaller craft which it needs as auxiliaries for its proposed two ocean fleet. It has already bought 53 of them, and has contracted for 22 more.

Aluminum Co. to Finance Its Own Growth

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 11 [Special].—With a goal of 700 million pounds of aluminum in 1942, the Aluminum Company of America, thru its Pittsburgh headquarters and its plant office at Alcoa, Tenn., today announced a $150,000,000 expansion program as its contribution to national defense.

President Roy A. Hunt said in Pittsburgh that the entire cost of the expansion will financed by the company.

While the bulk of the Aluminum company's new construction will be in Tennessee and North Carolina, substantial sums also will be spent on their plants in the Pacific northwest and in the east. Several of the expansions are already in progress.

Not Building New Plant.

In North Carolina the company will erect the highest hydro electric dam east of the Rocky mountains—Fontana dam—once projected by the Tennessee Valley authority but rejected by congress. Cost of this dam is unknown. It will be 470 feet high, nearly twice the height of the TVA's Norris dam, and will have capacity for 100,000 kilowatts of electricty.

Aluminum company officials emphatically denied the statement, circulated here, that the firm was to erect a smelting and fabricating plant in North Carolina equal in size to that at Alcoa. It was explained that the North Carolina location would not be economical and that expansion of the Alcoa plant is much more practical. Two more production units, capable of doubling the capacity of the plant are now under construction.

Plans to Increase Imports.

According to figures compiled by the defense commission and checked against Aluminum company and United States bureau of mines figures, aluminum production in the United States in 1939 was 325 million pounds. Estimated production for 1940 is 450 million pounds.

Domestic bauxite clay, from which aluminum is derived by an electro process is mined largely in Arkansas. However the Aluminum company imports 55 per cent of its supply from Dutch Guiana. Under expanded production importations will be stepped up, the Arkansas supply being conserved for extreme emergencies according to company officials.

The domestic visible supply is estimated at enough for 10 years under peak production. However, Arkansas state geologists are said to estimate a total supply in that area covering many more years under emergency demand. Bauxite also is found in several southeastern states.

MAJORITY RULE OF PREFERRED STOCK UPHELD

The Illinois Supreme Court yesterday reaffirmed its ruling in the L. W. Kreicker versus Naylor Pipe company case, which held that minority preferred stockholders are bound by the right of the two-thirds majority to change the company's charter in a recapitalization.

A similar suit has been brought by certain preferred stockholders against the Illinois Power & Light company.

The effect of the decision it was said, was to diminish the likelihood of these preferred stockholders of Illinois Power & Light to succeed in enjoining the company from carrying out its 1937 recapitalization plan without retiring their preferred shares at call prices.

Youngstown Sheet Plans 55 Million of Refunding

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—Youngstown Sheet & Tube company today revealed it would file a registration statement Oct. 21 covering $45,000,000 of 3¼ per cent bonds, due in 1960. Offerings expected to be about 10 days later. Proceeds from sale of the bonds and from private placement of $10,500,000 of debentures, due in one to seven years, will be used to refund the first 4 per cent bonds outstanding in the amount of $55,500,000.

Masonite Annual Report Is Sent to Stockholders

In the annual report sent yesterday to stockholders of the Masonite corporation, Chicago, it was proposed that John Alexander Jr., be elected as a director to fill the vacancy created by the death of William H. Mason. The report showed that in the fiscal year ended Aug. 31 the corporation paid $35,385 to Ben Alexander, president; $34,231 to R. G. Wallace, vice president; and $29,231 to John H. Thickens, vice president.

WOMAN WHO TRIPLED SALES OF BIG STORE IN SIX YEARS RESIGNS

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—Mrs. Hortense M. Odlum, who turned from a life of leisure to take over the management of Bonwit Teller, Inc., Fifth avenue specialty store, six years ago, announced today her resignation as president of the store because she had "never wanted to be a business woman."

Mrs. Hortense M. Odlum.

Her announcement came just a month after a report of her six years' management of the store showed that sales volume had nearly tripled—from $3,500,000 to more than $10,000,000—since she became president in the midst of a depression in 1934.

With no previous business experience, Mrs. Odlum was appointed president of the store after studying its operation for two years from "the viewpoint of a consumer." Her husband, Floyd B. Odlum, president of the Atlas corporation, from whom she has since been divorced, had purchased a controling interest in the store and had asked her to make a study of it to learn "what women want."

Mrs. Odlum started a custom of frequent discussions with her employés on the operation of the store, invited customers to tea to discuss their complaints and set up a consumers' committee to advise her on the operation of the store.

U. S. TRADE WITH LATIN AMERICA UP NEARLY HALF

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—Trade between the United States and Latin America, the department of commerce reported today, has increased considerably in both exports and imports since Europe went to war.

Comparing the 12 months ending Aug. 31 with the preceding 12 months, the department said that exports to the 20 Latin American nations had risen 50 per cent to $733,135,000 and that imports from them increased 31 per cent to $615,915,000.

The 12 months' export total, the department said, was larger than for any calendar year since 1931. The 1940 calendar year total of exports to Latin America, it added, probably would reach $750,000,000, or $181,174,000 more than in 1939.

NATIONAL BANKS EARN MORE IN 1ST SIX MONTHS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—The controler of the currency reported today that 5,170 national banks had net operating earnings of $129,752,000 during the first six months of this year, an increase of $3,536,000 over the earnings of 5,209 banks which reported in the first half of 1939.

Gross earnings amounted to $426,008,000, a gain of $9,969,000 over the corresponding period a year ago, while operating expenses were $296,256,000, a decline of $6,433,000.

New Willys Car Priced at $665, F. O. B., Toledo

Toledo, O., Oct. 11 (AP).—Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., announced today the price of its 1941 four door de luxe "Americar" sedan will be $665 f. o. b. Toledo, not including taxes. The company said manufacture of other models in the series would not start until December.

Banks, Markets Close Today

Securities and commodity exchanges and banks in the United States will be closed today for Columbus day, but the live stock markets will remain open. The Buenos Aires grain markets will observe the holiday. Monday is Thanksgiving day in Canada and the dominion's markets will close. The Toronto Stock exchange will close both today and Monday, but other Canadian exchanges will be open today.

Quarter Profit of Container Firm Larger

The Container Corporation of America, with offices in Chicago, yesterday reported its net income for the quarter ended Sept. 30 was $800,917, equal to $1.03 a share of common stock, against $253,060, or 32 cents a share in the corresponding period last year. During the nine months ended Sept. 30, net income amounted to $1,929,652, or $2.47 a share, against $285,308, or 36 cents a share in 1939.

The corporation's net profit for 12 months ended Sept. 30, totaled $3,093,243, equal to $3.96 a share, compared with $418,884, or 53 cents a share, for the preceding 12 months. Officials said the 1940 earnings were based on the tax provision at 20.9 per cent, and estimated the additional taxes for the nine months would approximate $400,000 as the result of the recently enacted federal tax law. The concern is a large manufacturer of paper board products.

Typewriter Make Gains.

Underwood Elliott Fisher company, manufacturer of typewriters and other office equipment, reported a net income for the quarter ended Sept. 30 of $303,839, or 42 cents a share of common stock, compared with $298,540, or 41 cents a share for the corresponding quarter in 1939. The report for nine months showed a net profit of $1,377,223, equal to $1.88 a share, against $1,159,459, or $1.58 a share in 1939.

For nine months ended Sept. 30, Walter E. Heller & Co., instalment financers, reported a net income of $420,313, or $1.34 a share, compared with $364,327, or $1.14 a share, in the same period in 1939. The company has offices in Chicago and New York City.

NEW SECURITIES SALES THIS WEEK LARGEST OF YEAR

New York, Oct. 11 (AP).—Public offerings of new securities during the week ended yesterday, totaling $211,825,046, were the largest for any week in more than a year, Poor's Publishing company said today.

Included were 108 million dollars of Southern California Edison company bonds and 60 milllion dollars of New York City obligations, the largest corporate and muncipal issues, respectively, this year.

New capital raised was relatively small, however, accounting for only 7 per cent of the week's offerings.

30 Tons of Bronze Used in One Propeller of Ship

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP).—Thirty tons of molten bronze flowed into a huge mold at the Philadelphia navy yard today to become one of the four propellers for the 35,000 ton battleship Washington, nearing completion there. The pouring took 10 minutes. The propeller will be 17 feet 3 inches in diameter and weigh 35,000 pounds when finished.

EUROPE DUMPS DOLLARS, FEARS U. S.-JAP FIGHT

Exchange Cash Thru Swiss Franc.

Fearful of a war between the United States and Japan, European hoarders yesterday unloaded holdings of American paper currency with the result that the American dollar showed a sharp decline in terms of the Swiss franc. The Swiss franc is one of the few European currencies which can be used as a medium for transferring American dollars into other currencies.

Banks in Berne, Switzerland, yesterday were reported by the Associated Press to be giving 4.03 Swiss francs for a $1 bill compared with 5.80 Swiss francs last May when Germany invaded the Low Countries.

In New York, however, the Swiss franc showed a slight decline at 23.18 cents compared with 23.19 cents on Thursday. At these prices the franc is at the highest level since early in 1938. A week ago the Swiss franc sold at 23.03 in New York and a year ago at 22.46.

Fear Entry Into War.

In Berne, bankers said the unloading of American dollars was caused by fears of American entry into war. In such an event it was believed that the American government might impose restrictions which would make it even more difficult to exchange dollars for the currencies of the various nations. Hoarders of American money did not wish to be "stuck with money they couldn't use."

Switzerland continues an "island" in wartorn Europe which acts as an international banking center for the rest of the continent, with much of Europe's financial business cleared thru Berne.

Chicago experts on foreign exchange who are familiar with the situation in Europe say it is likely that much of the American currency being thrown on the market at Berne comes from Italy. It is known that Italians, uncertain about the future of their own currency, accumulated large amounts of American bank notes in various ways, much of it by smuggling.

War Would Remove Outlet.

Now the Italians believe America may become involved with Japan, in which event the axis powers may enter the conflict. Should such an event happen, Italians having American currency in their possession would have no place to dispose of it. They believe, Chicago bankers said, that America would certainly act to make it worthless to belligerent holders.

Chicago bankers also suggest that some of the American dollars being dumped on the market may have been confiscated by the Nazis in occupied lands and sent to Berne for disposal.

Foreign purchasing of American money boomed in 1937 and continued until Germany moved in on a large part of Europe. The Washington administration tied up holdings in America of nations invaded by Germany for the purpose of preventing such holdings from falling into the hands of the Nazis. Rumania is the last country to which this measure has been applied.

Gold Imports Small.

The department of commerce reported that gold imports in September totaled $334,113,000, a decline of $17,450,000 from August, but an increase of $8,000,000 over September, 1939. Imports for the first nine months of this year totaled $3,951,226,000, an increase of $1,065,953,000 over the 1939 period.

Gold exports amounted to only $30,000. Gold held under earmark [storage for foreign owners] declined $36,627,737 in September to $1,657,647,775.

Canada, thru which Great Britain sends gold to the United States, was the heaviest shipper of the metal, with a total of $217,635,000.

Other large shippers during September included: Argentina, $17,815,000; Portugal, $15,325,000; Australia, $14,605,000; Japan, $13,228,000; Dutch East Indies, $13,092,000; Russia, $11,175,000, and the Union of South Africa, $7,656,000.

Approximately $8,000,000 of gold from Portugal arrived in New York yesterday, according to unofficial reports.

Imports of silver in September totaled $4,656,000, a decline of $549,000 from August.

BENDIX AVIATION TO USE FORMER GRAHAM PLANT

The Bendix Aviation corporation of South Bend, Ind., expending to handle national defense orders, has acquired title to a plant in Wayne, Mich., a suburb of Detroit, formerly used by Graham-Paige in making automobile bodies.

The plant, which covers approximately 40 acres and has 265,000 square feet of floor space, will take care of the "overload burden" from other Bendix plants, the corporation said.

Operations in Wayne probably will not begin for several months, until equipment is obtained and installed. Approximately 1,500 men eventually will be employed.

Kansas-Milwaukee Natural Gas Pipe Line Is Approved

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 [Special].—The Federal Power commission today granted permission to the Western Natural Gas company to construct an 800 mile natural gas pipe line from Kansas to Milwaukee. The cost is estimated at 25 million dollars.

Urges Keeping State Control of Insurance

Louis H. Pink, superintendent of insurance of the state of New York, appealed yesterday to all state governments "to preserve proper, honest, and efficient regulation of insurance" in order to avoid supervision of the insurance business by the federal government. He spoke before 700 members of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce at their 22d annual meeting in the Palmer House.

Louis H. Pink.

Praising the work of Ernest J. Palmer, Illinois director of insurance, Pink urged other states to do "as well in perpetuating the control of insurance by states." He said that the federal government has enough on its hands without taking over the insurance field.

Influenced N. Y. Code.

"The only threat of federal regulation is when states fall down on the job," he said. "It was the fine work of Palmer that induced New York to make a new code far superior to the old one. The Illinois and New York codes should serve as models for every other state."

Commenting on the future of the insurance business, Pink asserted that safeguarding of the large insurance investments demands the preservation of the democratic form of government. He said that a planned economy "can be purchased only at the expense of human dignity and the inalienable rights and privileges which all true Americans hold dear.

"Insurance, as we know it and rely upon for our protection, depends upon a self-governing and democratic United States," he said. "In dictator nations insurance is being rapidly nationalized. Its resources are being taken over by the state. The people are dependent upon a planned economy and upon government fiat for their protection."

Chamber Elects Officers.

He stressed supervision by state authorities as an important factor in realizing the future safety of insurance. Other factors, he said, are wise management, sound investment policies, and careful and conservative underwriting.

At an election of officers, R. C. Ingersoll of Chicago, president of Ingersoll Steel and Disc division of Borg-Warner corporation, was chosen as the new president. Other officers elected were H. J. Neumiller, Peoria, president of the Humitube Manufacturing company, vice president; Lawrence Stern, Chicago, president of the American National Bank and Trust company, treasurer, and W. F. Gerdes, Quincy, president of the Michelmann Steel Construction company, chairman of the board.

C. G. Ferris was renamed executive vice president, a position he has held 16 years. Gerdes is the retiring president.

BILL ENDING HOUR LIMITS ON SHIP WORK IS SIGNED

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—President Roosevelt today signed legislation designed to speed up national defense contracts of the maritime commission by permitting longer working hours.

The legislation, approved by labor organizations, would eliminate the present limitations of an eight hour day and 40 hour week on these defense contracts and would provide overtime wage rates of time and one-half. Similar exemptions have been granted on contracts for the army, navy, and coast guard.

The President has signed a bill to stimulate thru a tax deferment plan replacement of obsolete merchant ships with new and faster vessels.

He has also signed legislation liberalizing benefits under the railroad unemployment insurance act for workers in the higher pay brackets.

COURT REFUSES ELECTRIC RATE HEARING ORDER

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11 (AP).—The state Supreme court refused today to allow Benjamin Gold and others to file a petition for mandamus to compel the Illinois commerce commission to act on their complaint about electricity rates of the Commonwealth Edison company, Chicago.

The commerce commission on Sept. 19 dismissed a complaint by Gold and seven other Chicagoans who claimed the utility had failed to fully comply with a 1936 rate reduction order and should refund approximately $4,000,000 to Chicago consumers. The complainants appealed the dismissal to the Supreme court.

Auto Output Rises Again; Further Gain Predicted

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11 (AP).—Reporting a further gain in automobile production, Ward's Inc. today estimated assemblies of the motorcar plants for the current week at 108,457 cars and trucks, compared with 105,153 last week and 75,860 this week a year ago. The service said still higher production totals would be reached before the seasonal rise meets its peak.

Gallatin County Wildcat Oil Well Is Successful

Harrisburg, Ill., Oct. 12 (AP).—The Carter Oil company's No. 1 R. M. York, well a wildcat test for oil in northwest Gallatin county, blew into production today and the gas pressure was strong enough to spurt oil over the top of the derick. The well is 12 miles northwest of the Junction pool.

ARMY GIVES BIG ENGINE AWARD TO WRIGHT AERO

Total Is 81 Million; Place Other Orders.

A new contract for $81,569,140 worth of airplane engines has been awarded to the Wright Aeronautical corporation, Paterson, N. J., the war department reported yesterday. A part of the engines will be allocated to the navy under an agreement whereby all orders for Wright engines for both the army and navy will be placed by the war department. Engines taken by the navy eventually will be paid for by the transfer of navy funds to the army.

The war department announced that it had awarded contracts totaling $1,219,198 for construction at six army posts. Among the locations are Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., Fort Clark, Tex., Jeffersonville, Ind., Ellington Field, Tex., and San Angelo, Tex. Other war department contracts announced yesterday totaled $2,151,523, covering a variety of products.

Chicago Seeks More Orders.

Meantime, the Chicago Association of Commerce renewed its effort to obtain for the Chicago area a larger amount of defense orders. The association in a statement sent thousands of business leaders thruout the country said Chicago is better able to meet the steadily expanding industrial manpower demands of the national defense program than any other production center in the country.

The association said that Chicago has almost 10,000 available and experieneced machine workers, compared with 8,000 in the Pittsburgh district and slightly more than 4,000 in Detroit. Chicago machinists make everything from watch pinions to massive engines.

Chicago's force of experienced forge shop workers not only is the largest in the middle west, but it is capable of meeting the most exacting requirements, the association declared. The number in Chicago is 3,500.

Figures of Other Cities.

Cleveland has fewer than 2,000, and Pittsburgh about 1,000. Forge operators are engaged in the production of steel forgings, gun parts, and other important national defense items.

In the matter of foundry workers, Chicago has a rival in Cleveland, each city having about 6,000. Milwaukee is third with about 1,500.

"The fact that Chicago foundry workers have been providing peacetime castings for the entire United States and that they can easily adapt their experience to the production of patterns and molds and the annealing of metals for defense weapons, emphasizes Chicago's key position in the arming of Uncle Sam's enlarged army," the association said.

Leads in Nonferrous Workers.

Chicago also leads the middle west in number of nonferrous metal workers, with Detroit second, Cleveland third, and St. Louis fourth, the association said. This city has more than 10,000 workers in this group and 24 large companies specializing in fabricating nonferrous metals and their alloys.

The American Steel and Wire company announced that it is rehabilitating its mill at Worcester, Mass. The cost was reported to be $5,000,000. The Evans Products company, Detroit, disclosed that it is building a large plywood plant at Lebanon, Ore.

Butter Rises ¼ Cent; Ends at Seasonal High Mark

Butter futures advanced 0.25 cent a pound to reëstablish seasonal highs yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. A firm cash market and better-than-average reductions in storage reserves were the stimulating factors. November deliveries closed at 29.05 cents. After easing earlier in the trading session, egg futures rallied to finish unchanged to 0.10 cent a dozen higher.

THIS BEATS LOST BASS DRUM: A LOCOMOTIVE LOSES TRAILER TRUCK

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—A strange addition was made to America's lost-and-found records before the state public service commission yesterday. Testimony disclosed that the heavy trailer truck [wheel assembly under locomotive tender] of the locomotive of the Lake Shore Limited of the New York Central railroad had been lost after the wreck at Little Falls, N. Y., last April 19.

Hugh Wright, assistant general manager of the railroad, assured Milo R. Maltbie, chairman of the commission, at the resumption of the investigation into the wreck that diligent search had been made for the missing trailer truck, but no trace had been found.

Wright said that the right of way and also the bank of the Mohawk river near the scene of the accident had been searched. He admitted, however, that no attempt had been made to search the bed of the river.

"Are you going to send divers down into the river to try to locate the truck?" asked the commission's counsel.

The witness said he believed that if the truck were in the river, it probably would be embedded in silt and difficult to find. C. C. Handy, the railroad's counsel, said the railroad would attempt to recover the truck if the commission so directed.

STOCKS END DULL WEEK WITH MILD RALLYING TRENDS

Steel Shares Lead Upturn in Flurry of Buying.

New York, Oct. 11 (AP).—After seven successive do-nothing sessions, the stock market today moved up in a quiet and selective rally led by steels and other industrials.

Trends were indefinite in the forenoon. There was a brief buying flurry after midday, when gains of fractions to more than a point were well distributed. The pace then slowed and closing prices were well under the best in most cases.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks finished with a net upturn of .2 of a point at 44, its first advance since Oct. 2.

Crucible Steel preferred, the new issue appearing on the ticker tape for the first time yesterday, was up 5 points, and the common stock 2¼. Lesser advances were retained by United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, American Air Lines, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, Great Northern, American Woolen preferred, Distillers, du Pont, Westinghouse, Sperry, Wright-Aeronautical, and Texas corporation.

Chicago Stocks.

Trading was irregular on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, with 34 issues advancing, 28 declining, and 21 closing unchanged. Volume declined to 14,000 shares from 16,000 Thursday. Turnover from 2 to 3 o'clock, the extra hour added to the session recently, amounted to 2,770 shares, best for any hour of the day.

A comparison of closing prices of several stocks listed both in Chicago and New York, showing changes recorded here in the hour after the New York close, follows:

	N. Y.	Chgo.	Chge.
Container Corp.	15⅛	15¼+	⅛

Volume of trading on the exchange for the week ended yesterday was 88,000 shares, compared with 133,000 shares the preceding week, and 121,000 in the corresponding 1939 week. Declines predominated. During the first 10 days of the extended session, the extra hour accounted for 20.5 per cent of the total round lot volume.

New York Bonds.

New York, Oct. 11 (AP).—Japanese dollar loans regained part of recent losses in the bond market today, and German issues also rose. Japanese 6½s closed at 66, up 5, and the 5½s [illegible] were ahead 1¾.

German 7s of '49 finished at 19¼, up 1¼, and the 5½s of '65 at 15, up ¾.

Railway loans led a moderate rise among domestic corporate loans. United States government issues ended 10/32ds of a point lower to 1/32d higher.

Bank Stocks.

American National and First National shares each advanced 3 points yesterday in Chicago bank stock trading. Harris Trust and Northern Trust both gained 2 points, and Continental Illinois was a point higher.

WHEAT CLIMBS AS INTEREST IN MARKET WIDENS

Outside interest in the grain markets on the Chicago Board of Trade broadened materially yesterday, and prices were on the upgrade from the start. Wheat advanced 1⅛ cents at one time with December selling at 84¼ cents, a new high since last June.

Strength in cash wheat, firmness in securities and buying attributed to eastern interests and mills were principal factors. No. 3 red wheat sold in the local market at 89½ cents a bushel or 8½ cents above the government loan level. Closing trades on the futures were ⅞ to 1⅛ cents higher.

Corn traders ignored the department of agriculture's estimate showing a September increase of 55,000,000 bushels in the prospective crops. Futures closed ⅝ to ¾ cent higher. Oats finished ¼ to ½ cent higher and rye was up ⅛ to ½ cent. Profit taking developed in soy beans with the close 1⅜ cent lower to ⅛ cent higher, the former on October.

WOOL TOPS, LEAD AND COPPER SET NEW 1940 PEAKS

Most Other Commodities Follow Advance.

Copper, lead, and wool tops climbed to new 1940 highs yesterday as national defense program requirements and the threat of war in the far east stimulated buying of key commodities in futures and cash markets. Hides, silk, and rubber made broad advances, and domestic sugar, Rio coffee and cocoa were higher. Santos coffee, world sugar, and cottonseed oil futures failed to fall in line with the upswing.

Copper futures pushed ahead strongly and closed 0.17 to 0.27 cent a pound higher, with December deliveries at 11.37 to 11.43 cents. Lead advanced 0.03 to 0.08 cent a pound to 5.15 cents in December contracts.

Wool Tops Up 1 to 5½ Cents.

Wool tops futures soared under active demand prompted by government invitation for bids on large quantities of woolen goods and overnight advances in raw wool prices. Final prices were 1.4 to 5.5 cents higher. The cash market jumped 3 cents to reëstablish the year's high of $1.23.

Silk futures extended recent gains with advances of 6 to 7½ cents a pound. October contracts were $2.82½, within ½ cent of the year's high. The cash market, which has climbed 15 cents this week, closed with a gain of 1 cent at $2.76.

Rubber futures finished 0.08 to 0.32 cent a pound higher, with December at 20.32 cents. The cash market advanced 0.32 cent to 20.37 cents. Hides rose 0.40 to 0.47 cent a pound.

CALLS EXCESSIVE SECURITIES RULE WAY TO NAZIISM

Connely Attacks Trend as 'Regimentation.'

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 11 [Special].—Emmett F. Connely, president of the Investment Bankers association of America, today attacked excessive regulation of the securities markets as a short cut to state capitalism. He spoke at the annual convention of the National Association of Securities Commissioners.

"Bring it about that free enterprise — private enterprise — cannot function," he said, "and the field is ripe for pushing the government into full control as the source and dispenser of all credit. The next and final step—regimentation—totalitarianism—is inevitable."

"The regulation of the issuance and sale of securities has developed far along the road," Connely declared. "Excessive regulation clearly is having its effect on the economy of the country.

Raps "Unwanted Details."

"Long-time credit—investment—is the key to industrial activity in a free enterprise system. Without industrial activity, laboring men go unemployed. We need not carry the resultant effects further. But I must ask you to ponder the most serious effect of all, which is the encouragement to those who cherish the hope of a revolutionized America."

The federal regulations were designed to afford greater information to investors, he explained, but "there is but little doubt that investors today actually receive in understandable form less pertinent information than before the enactment of the Securities act of 1933.

"Under the terms of the act, it is mandatory to use a prospectus which is too voluminous and often too complicated and replete with unwanted details ever to be read by the would-be investor.

Cost Bars Many Issues.

"In innumerable instances," he declared, "small business enterprises have asserted, after preliminary surveys, that the requirements of the regulatory laws, federal and state, taken together, and the incident costs, delays, the inconveniences and other such items, preclude them from seeking desirable financing for praiseworthy enterprise, or expansion in the normal way."

He directed attention to an amendment now before congress that would enable the Securities and Exchange commission to exempt issues up to $1,000,000 in amount and asked, "Does not the necessity for the amendment arise because of excessive regulation?"

PRATT & WHITNEY.

Will you please tell me what connection exists between the Pratt & Whitney engine company and Niles-Bement-Pond? Are they both divisions of United Aircraft corporation?
—A. D. P.

Answer: Niles-Bement-Pond, West Hartford, Conn., maker of precision machinery and tools, is not now connected with the Pratt & Whitney aircraft division of the United Aircraft corporation.

Niles-Bement-Pond does, however, operate a Pratt & Whitney division which makes machine tools. The similarity of the names of this division and of the United Aircraft engine division occurred as the result of the following circumstances:

In 1901, Niles-Bement-Pond acquired the Pratt & Whitney company of Hartford, Conn. With this subsidiary it organized in 1925 the Pratt & Whitney aircraft company, which it sold in 1929 to the United Aircraft & Transport corporation. It retained the machine tool division.

The Pratt & Whitney aircraft engine division was allocated later to United Aircraft corporation, one of the four companies into which the old United Aircraft and Transport corporation was reorganized in 1934.

ARCTURUS RADIO.

I would like to know what has happened to the Arcturus Radio Tube company?—J. K.

Answer: Under a reorganization plan confirmed by the federal court in Newark, N. J., Arcturus Radio Tube company will be liquidated gradually thru a successor company, the Arcturus Radio Tube corporation, which will engage in no other business. Any proceeds from the sale of the company's assets remaining after prior claims have been paid will be distributed to stockholders in not less than two years.

VULCAN DETINNING.

What is the business of the Vulcan Detinning company? Is it controled by some other firm?—J. V.

Answer: Vulcan Detinning company, Sewaren, N. J., is one of the two leading factors in the detinning industry. It treats tin plate scrap obtained from can manufacturing companies and produces tin tetrachloride, pig tin, tin oxides and steel scrap. It receives all the tin plate scrap produced by the factories of the Continental Can company east of the Rocky Mountains under a contract which expires in 1948.

Continental Can has a substantial interest in the common and preferred stock of Vulcan Detinning.

COTTON

Heavy selling of cotton futures by houses with southern connections, regarded as hedging operations, gave the market an easy undertone yesterday. While the lowest prices were not maintained, the close was .02 to .07 cent a pound lower.

Consumption of cotton by American mills in September aggregated 655,000 bales, it is estimated, or the same as in August. This compares with 624,000 bales in September last year. Consumption during the first two months of the current season is the largest on record.

Manchester, England, mills are reported operating at 80 per cent of normal capacity due to lack of large export orders.

Cash cotton closed .02 to .05 cent lower, with New York, 9.75 cents; New Orleans, 9.39 cents, and Galveston and Houston at 9.25 cents for 15.16 inch staple. Prices follow:

Horse Sense Answers

1. 87 per cent.
2. The tip of the tongue, which is one reason why a tiny tooth cavity often feels so large. The impressions of the tongue are not double checked by the eye, so it gives us an exaggerated sense of space. The fingertip, however, has been checked by vision so that we don't distort finger judgments as badly as those of the tongue.
3. Vertical stripes.
4. English.
5. 41 years old, for a toupee is a wig to hide a bald pate.
6. Asthma, hay fever, and epilepsy are the allergy ailments. Tetanus and cancer are not. Not all cases of epilepsy are a result of asthma, either, but many of them are thought to be traceable to this cause.
